INCONCLUSIVE PEACE AVERTED

Dr. Barnard Says Indiana
Has a Critical Dairy Situation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—Extending its congratulations to President Wilson because of his reply to the pope's peace proposals and its gratitude because the president has ended all danger of inconclusive peace, the Indiana state council of defense today wired the following telegram to the chief executive:

"The President, Washington: The Indiana state council of defense extends its congratulations on your answer to the pope and expresses its gratitude that you have ended all danger of an inconclusive peace. (Signed) 'Indiana State Council of Defense.' The resolution to send the telegram was presented by Evans Woolen and was unanimously and enthusiastically ratified by the council.

On account of modifications of the situation as it applies to the subject of food production and conservation, and because of the enactment of the federal bill giving Herbert C. Hoover practically absolute authority on this subject the following new committee was appointed to have charge of this phase of the Indiana council's work:

TO PICK THE FIVE PER CENT

Boards Receive Instructions as to Selection of F
Contingent

BUT ONE PER CENT TO LEAVE SEPTEMBER 5

List of Articles Which Men
Will Be Allowed to Take
Are Announced.

Instructions as to the selection of the first five per cent of the first national arm from Fort Wayne have been received by the local boards. The first five per cent will be composed of men with previous military experience, cooks and bakers. Only one per cent of this number will leave on September 5, and one per cent each succeeding day.

The instructions verbally are as follows: The object of calling five per cent is to place in the camps enough men to form a skeleton organization to assist in receiving and assembling the larger contingents. For this reason it is required that local boards send only white men and as far as practicable, men with previous military experience or cooks. In making this selection order numbers are not controlling but great care must be taken not to send men whose order call is so late that they will not be within the quota of the boards.

"In order not to congest traffic, one per cent will leave on September 5,"

Grow Sharper.

PROF. DELBRUECK PRODS MICHAELIS

Questions His Good Faith in
gram of Reichstag.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—Attacks upon Imperial Chancellor Michaelis continue and Prof. Hans Delbrueck now asks the chancellor an embarrassing question concerning peace. In the Prussian year book, Prof. Delbrueck inquires of Dr. Michaelis why, if he really accepts the reichstag resolutions as the basis of his policy, he neglects to answer the inquiry made on July 26 in the English house of commons by former Premier Asquith regarding Germany's readiness to evacuate and restore Belgium.

Good Faith Questioned.
Prof. Delbrueck, who openly questions the good faith of the chancellor in professing to agree with the terms of the resolution, asks whether his silence in the face of Mr. Asquith's summons does not show that those are right who insist that Dr. Michaelis takes another standpoint from that contained in the resolution.

"If the German government is ready to conclude a peace upon the basis of no annexation and no indemnities,"

Summary of the Day's War News

While Russian leaders are debating at Moscow with divided opinions as to the best steps to take for saving the country from threatened disaster within and without, the Russian armies continue to show perilous weakness at critical points.

The latest break in the line through disaffection among the troops occurred on the southern Rumanian front where the Austro-German armies are menacing Moldavia with the fate of Wallachia, overrun in the great Teutonic-Bulgarian drive of last year.

In the Fokshani region, a Russian division abandoned its positions and fled in disorder. This facilitated a Teutonic advance that continued all day

A general discussion of life insurance problems covering a number of phases was held by C. F. Der Veen, which proved of great interest because it allowed everyone present the opportunity of expressing his views.

About fifty representatives of the company are attending the meeting. The Emancipator and Rail Splitters' clubs were the only ones who have been highly successful in the selling end of the insurance field during the past year.

COST OF EXTRA HAUL IS GARBAGE QUESTION

Rendering Company Has Agreed to Pay $1,000 Towards Cartage.

How much is it worth to cart garbage the extra distance from the present crematory to the plant of the Fort Wayne Rendering company?

That is the question which city officials and officers of the rendering company cannot agree upon. City officers say that the company should buy two motor trucks or should pay all extra cost of the carting. Managers of the rendering corporation state that they will give the city $1,000 in cash to make up for the difference in distance.

No settlement was reached between members of the board of works, Mayor W. J. Hosey and the officers of the rendering company after a two hour conference Wednesday morning. Another session will be held at the city hall Wednesday afternoon.

City officials point out that the added distance between making a haul from near the center of the city to the rendering company plant, instead of the crematory, is about a mile. The expense of the extra hauling will amount to quite a sum in a year, the officials point out. They believe that the rendering company should assume all expense for the difference.

A letter from Grand Rapids, Mich., which states that the Michigan city is being paid twenty-five cents a ton for its garbage, was read to the rendering company officials. The corporation managers admitted that such a price would be out of the question under the plan they have here. The garbage from Grand Rapids is used by a stock company for the feeding of hogs, it is learned.

Matters of the collecting of all dead animals and of the gathering of all dead animals were readily agreed upon by officials and managers of the rendering company, on Wednesday morning. If the city obtains only $1,000 from the rendering company the money will be used directly for the purchasing of better garbage cans at points about the city.

GERMANY ESCAPES DIPLOMATIC BREAK

Her Pledges on Submarine War Satisfactory to Argentina.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 29.—The favorable reply by the German government to Argentina concerning the submarine campaign relieved a tense and critical situation. The German reply, which La Epoca says is a diplomatic triumph, acquiesces in the demands of Argentina for the safety of Argentine ships and indemnifications for the torpedoing of the steamer Toro "in order to maintain friendly relations." The note also accedes "freedom of the seas to vessels under the Argentine flag carrying food."

The Argentina foreign office has made public the entire correspondence with Germany concerning the sinking of the Toro. It shows that Germany's note probably averted the possibility of Argentina severing diplomatic relations.

Columbia City Short Notes.
Attorney Joseph R. Harrison has received a letter from his son, First Lieutenant Ray P. Harrison, with Pershing's forces in France, in which the young man states he is at present taking instructions in machine gun work. He says the French officers take up all the time between 11 and 1 o'clock every day, consuming their eight-course lunches, and that they are very genial and warm-hearted toward the Sammlies.

A family reunion will be held Sunday at the John Swigart home on the banks of Troy Cedar lake, and Benton J. Bloom, of Columbia City, will deliver an address and sing several tenor numbers.

William Vance was awarded the contracts for the digging of water main extensions on the following streets: Three hundred and seventy-five feet on Line street for 28 cents per foot; 225 feet on Main street for 26 cents per foot; 225 feet on Madison street for 21 cents. The total price is $249.50. The council has been advised that the new Sea-grave fire truck has been shipped, and will arrive here within the next few days.

Ralph E. CITY TAXES NOT RAISED

Levy Will Remain at $1.16 for Another Year, Council Says.

POLICE AND FIREMEN GET INCREASE OF $5

Sinclair Oil Company is Allowed to Bring Tanks Into City.

The city tax levy will remain at $1.16 for another year.

There will be $7,817 cut from the present garbage disposal bill.

Police and firemen, who are now getting less than $100 a month, will be paid $5 more per month after January 1.

The Sinclair Oil company is given the right to bring their storage tanks in the city, providing the big containers are buried underground.

These were the principal acts of the common council, which met twice on Tuesday evening, once as a committee of the whole, and later as the council body. The session dragged over three hours with here and there a touch of animation.

Councilman G. F. Rogge caused the first bit of turbulence when he objected to the action of the large committee in giving common firemen a raise of $5 and holding engineers down to an increase of $2.50. The engineers will now get $100 while other ladders receive $90.

"Why make goats of the engineers?" queried Councilman Rogge in a heated address. "They should have a $5 raise along with the other men. Why you are discriminating between the firemen is a mystery to me. I cannot understand it. I will never forget it."

Four councilmen answered the speech.

Taxed to the Limit.
William Beyer, president of the council, explained that the budget had been taxed to the limit if the tax levy was to remain at its present figure.

"We have worked hard on the budget. We wrestled with the numbers this afternoon and up until 6:30 o'clock tonight without any supper," explained President Beyer, in referring to the budget committee.

Councilman A. L. Keller stated that the salary was a matter of giving all the men a living wage. He thinks fire engineers are getting enough to live on now.

"I know that $300 more would make little difference and there ought to be that distinction," said Councilman Rogge.

At the end of the committee session Councilman Rogge left the assembly room and did not return until the council session proper was well under way.

Quite an Audience.
The council chamber was dotted with blue uniforms. Policemen's stars were in evidence. More than a score of firemen were at the meeting to learn the outcome of their prayer for more money.

There were several attorneys present to speak in behalf of the allowing of the Sinclair company to come within the city with its storage tanks and a crowd of Eighth ward citizens were there to talk against the measure.

Councilmen Beyer and Offenloch had allowed the council meeting to break in upon their vacations. The president, who has missed but two council sessions in four years, and those because of city missions out of town, had returned from Clear Lake to preside over the gathering. Councilman Offenloch, who is spending his vacation at Lake George, had motored back for the session.

Keep Levy Down.

Councilmen agreed that the tax levy should not be raised. They voted with one accord to accept the report of the special council committee, made up of Councilmen Beyer, Hartman, Keller and Schlebecker, and which reported the following figures for the tax levy next year:

Cut All Along Line.

There was a pruning all along the line of the city departments. The biggest cut came in the garbage disposal realm, where $7,817 was lopped off with councilmen registering joy.

The committee report in detail follows: "As to the $3,500 recommendation for the completion of engine house No. 9 the committee recommends that there be but $3,000 appropriated for that purpose."

"As to the disposal of garbage the committee has been informed by the board of public works of the city that a proposition has been made by the Fort Wayne Rendering company which will probably be accepted by the board, and the contract therefore referred to the council, whereby the said company will take care of the disposal of garbage after the collection of the same by the city and we, therefore, advise the following items under disposal of garbage under the heading of board of public works be eliminated:

"In the matter of public lights under the heading of board of public works, after conferring with the board we ascertained that $57,000 would be sufficient for all of the now existing lights for next year, and that $1,000 in addition thereto would permit of the installation of from twenty-five to thirty-five new lights during the next year, we recommend that the mayor's recommendation of $58,000 be concurred in.

"As to the mayor's recommendation that the sum of $700 in lieu of $1,000 for new boxes and materials under fire force accounts of the board of safety, we ascertained the necessity for new boxes and believe that the comptroller's recommendation of $1,000 be concurred in.

"As to the police and fire pay roll accounts we recommend that there be included in these accounts a $5 increase per month for each member of the departments now receiving less than $100 per month, excepting engineers, for whom were recommended an increase of $2.50 per month, and the engineer called 'the master mechanic' an increase of $5 per month.

"Your committee further reports that with the reduction of $4,000.00 in the department of public works it leaves but $26,285.00 as the amount appropriated for general expenses. A levy of .064 will provide this money and leave approximately $550.00 to provide for delinquencies in tax collections. Adding to the general levy of .064 the one-half cent levy for band music would make the total park levy .069, a reduction of .021 in that levy from former years."

Tanks Come In.
The council divided itself on the matter of allowing the Sinclair Oil company to bring its tanks within the city limits. Councilmen Korte and Keller spoke in bitter terms against the proposal to place the battery of containers along the Wabash railroad.

A Fourth of July celebration, in which the exploding gasoline tanks are to furnish the violence and the Eighth ward is to be wrecked, was predicted. Two citizens from the ward opposed the measure.

The ordinance to allow the tanks to enter was passed by a vote of nine to four.

An ordinance appropriating $4,500 for the enlargement of the Spy Run retaining wall from State street to the Centerville brewery was passed. The contract for the wall has already been let by the board of works.

There will be a special session of the council on Wednesday evening to ratify the contract between the Fort Wayne Refining company and the city in the matter of garbage disposal.

Advertising in The Sentinel Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

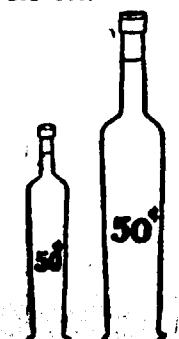

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1917.

FLIRTING WITH WRATH.

More than casual interest is invited by the statement coming from Indianapolis that Indiana coal operators are flouting the orders of the president fixing coal prices for this state. One large dealer at the capital is reported as being unable to get any Indiana coal concern to fill his orders at the rates fixed in the executive schedule, higher prices being demanded.

If this is an indication of the contempt in which the baronial powers of the coal fields mean to hold the federal regulation of coal prices the sooner the general government undertakes to find out the standing of its authority the better it will be. Having obtained from congress, after much travail, an enactment under which it may exercise authority over coal production and prices, the federal government may hardly in reason be expected to waste much time arguing the question of who's who in the land. The country is at war. Control of fuel has been established by law as a war measure. It will be worth while to learn early in the game if war measures take some degree of precedence over private or corporate interests or whether they are pompous futilities to be jeered and flouted and contemptuously set aside by those who do not fancy the notion of federal intervention.

The country has wholly mistaken the character of Woodrow Wilson if he consent to have himself booted out of the way by the coal barons, the food gamblers, the price-fixers or any elements of the whole train of extortioners against whose rapacities the control laws have been passed. The president who took upon himself the task of leading his country and has become the leader of the world to guide mankind from the bondage of Prussian autocracy quite probably will be equal to the job of scragging a few coal operators in Indiana or places else, wherever the opportunity may earliest come about for the first drastic example.

We frankly doubt that Indiana coal operators have conspired to resist the fuel control enactments. Some of them may merely be flirting with wrath to see what it's going to be like if it should for any reason fall upon them, but that the coal mining interests of the state have cast in their lots together to tell the congress, the president and the people of the United States to run on with their little war and not meddle with the private affairs of the coal business brings a rather absurd picture to the mind's eye.

However, if the Indiana coal barons want to take a whirl at the federal acts, Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Garfield and the people who lawfully inhabit the land, here's wishing them quick returns on the money with which they fee their lawyers. But we shall refuse to believe in such an animal until we behold the fire of its nostrils and hear its bellow. There may be some temporizing with Uncle Sam, but there will be no plucking of his whiskers. Mark that. Because where these control laws came from there are other and worse ones.

A TASK THAT MUST BE COMPLETED.

There must be no moping at the task, no quarreling with the burden, no thought of rest until the job is completed. The world must be made safe for democracy and the guarantees of that safety must be established, not merely stated. Germany has indicated no desire for any sort of peace that is not based upon an assumption of the triumph of her arms. The imperial German government and not the German people plunged the world into the war. The imperial German government and not the German people has made the war frightful with unexampled horrors. The imperial German government and not the German people is bound for a peace that shall secure the fruits for which the war was begun and that can give no security for democratic freedom on the earth. Until Germany shall have instituted a responsible government in the place of the military autocracy that now rules her, there can be no treating with Germany for peace.

Thus President Wilson sets down in his reply to the peace proposals lately put out by Pope Benedict why the United States of America cannot permit itself to trust the present ruling powers in Germany and will be misled into no advancements for a peace until there shall be the possibility and prospect of such a peace as we entered this war to obtain for ourselves and all free peoples. The proposals of Pope Benedict were received with sincerity and respect, were examined in good conscience and are rejected of course with a profound sorrow that they do not offer a way to the enduring peace and security of the world. We doubt not that what the president says in reply in large measure fulfills what Pope Benedict must have apprehended his proposals would evoke, though no shadow of question or aspersion can be cast upon the perfect good faith of the holy father in going as far as it seemed to him reason could go in formulating a tentative program that would enlist common sympathies and kindle mutual hopes in all the belligerent countries. President Wilson sets down that it is as important to consider with whom peace is to be concluded as it is to determine of what settlements the composition is to be made up. In short and in fine, there is no peace with the Hohenzollerns. Prussian militarism cannot be trusted. It cannot be treated with. It cannot be left to menace and soon again to afflict the world with the multiplied horrors of its madness.

In a blistering arraignment of the Hohenzollerns and the military autocracy of Prussia President Wilson again voices the world's fear and the world's resolute purpose to make an end of the bloody business of war wantonly waged by the Hohenzollerns that they may bring the balance of the earth under their yoke. Now that we are in it we cannot do other than to fight on to complete establishment of the things for which the allied democracies of the world are fighting.

History contains the record of no clearer, higher note than is sounded by President Wilson in his reply to Pope Benedict. It not only will further arouse and inspire the people of America for the great work they are in, but it will hearten the embattled democracies for further straining and added sacrifices that the earth may be cleared of monsters in king-guise and the bloody doctrine of might extinguished forever. It will be a fresh and perhaps needed service upon the Prussian dynasty and its military autocracy that the United States has come in fully and resolutely against them, with determination to do what it may fall to the lot of this nation to do that the world may be vouchsafed a peace and order and freedom that henceforth no government shall have the hardihood to break or the power to violate.

General Korniloff makes it clear to the extraordinary council of the new Russian democracy in Moscow that if there is to be anything of Russia worth saving discipline must be restored to the army without fail and without delay. The demoralization of the Slav armies is indicated by General Korniloff to be worse than the news reports had made clear. Almost daily there comes the detail of some body of troops deserting its post without defense; even without waiting to be attacked by the invading foe. Kerensky's "blood and iron" for the army and for all the land besides is quite endorsed by General Korniloff, speaking for the military forces of which he is commander-in-chief. Russia can become nothing but a chaos unless the invader be expelled, order established, authority set up and respected and the Russian people made to understand their perils from within and without except that they stand together.

The Wilson punch improves in readiness, grace and strength each time it is landed on the kaiser's person. That punch will one of these days land in the precise place created for appreciative reception of such honors and the "Hohenzollerns must go" slogan will go out of business, because the Hohenzollerns will have gone.

Every time some figger sharp in congress gets to trailing his lead pencil around through the war estimates the amount for the first year is boosted about ten billions. Isn't there some way to put an end to pure speculations on the cost? Congress may try to mean what it guesses.

The sailor's yarn that an American ship tossed a floating mine in her wake and let a pursuing German submarine run into it and blow herself may not be entirely evracious as history, but it can be classed as good readin'.

Everything points to a session of congress that will exceed in its invasion of the autumn season the one that made history a year ago. There is not this year a campaign to hasten adjournment and there is no saying how great the excess will be. Whatever it is, it will be enough.

Fixing Prices an Actuality

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Discussion has led up to it so gradually that the radical step just taken by the president of the United States, under the food control act, in fixing prices for bituminous coal is hardly appreciated at its full significance by the public. The very suggestion of such a thing, a short time ago, would have aroused indignation and alarm among the vast majority of American people, who, concerning economic questions, at least, are prone to ultra-conservatism. Less than a dozen years ago, when William Jennings Bryan proposed public ownership of the railroads, he was roundly denounced, inside as well as outside his party lines, as a socialist. Government ownership of railroads may now be favored, and in fact has been favored, by scores of public men of all shades and tints of political opinion, without affecting their reputation for good judgment in the least. Only yesterday, as it were, it was held by millions of people as an article of sound economic doctrine that, while the government might, and should, stiffen prices by protective and other legislation, it would be departing completely from its function if it should "meddle with the private business of the citizen." The demand of business in the United States, for years, was that it should be "let alone." The war is not wholly responsible for the change that has come over popular sentiment. The United States has been moving toward regulation of business long before the war was declared. If the departure taken by the president was radical, the manner of his taking it was not. He has fixed certain prices of coal at the mine with due regard for the cost of production. These prices, he says, in a published statement, "are deemed to be not only fair and just, but liberal." Under them," he adds, "the industry should nowhere lack stimulation." Moreover, the scale of prices is provisional. "It is subject," he says, "to reconsideration when the whole method of administering the fuel supplies of the country shall have been satisfactorily organized and put into operation." There is nothing that is arbitrary or rigid in the prices named. Reason and circumstance will continue to play their parts in the traffic. The one point settled definitely is the method of procedure with the view of bringing about a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the supply, and of prices, not only at the mines, but also in the hands of the middlemen and retailers.

The coal supply system is hereafter to be an open book to the consumer. He will have information as to the cost of the fuel at the mine, the cost of transportation, the cost of handling in bulk, and the cost of retailing, and he will know, as well as the "insiders" know now, where excessive profits, if any, are piled on, by whom and for whose benefit. In short, the mystery which has long enveloped the passage of a ton of coal from the mouth of the mine to the consumer's bin is to be cleared up.

Under the fixed scale, the price of bituminous coal, in the large producing districts, will be close to $2 a ton; it runs even below that figure in some districts, and above it in the farther west, reaching $3.25 in the state of Washington. But the average is much lower than the price which Secretary of War Baker recently repudiated in his conference with the mine operators. The latter then asked a flat rate at the mine of $3.

Thus far, price regulation of fuel affects only bituminous coal, and the supply of southern and western states. Anthracite, and the eastern side of the country, will have attention next. On the basis of the production allowance fixed for soft, there should be a very considerable reduction in the retailers' asking price for hard coal everywhere. The same method of determining what it equitably, just, and liberal will, without doubt, be followed. The president, it may be confidently expected, will do nothing to injure the coal mining industry. Although they have suffered imposition for years, the great majority of consumers are now desirous of nothing more than an assurance of square dealing.

Price, however, is not a consideration. England, France, and Italy will need every bushel of wheat America can spare, even if ways are found to move the entire Australian surplus. In addition to wheat, Australian meats are also being shipped by way of America.

No way has yet been found, however, for moving the wheat surplus of India or tapping the great grain stores in central Russia.

Understanding of these great grain reserves available after the war should make the American farmer appreciate the safeguard of the $2 per bushel guaranteed for next year's crop by the food control law. Should the war end this fall or next spring, and these reserves be made available to the world's markets, the price of wheat might otherwise tumble to about its pre-war figure.

INCREASED CROP NEEDS.

(Milwaukee News.)
The universal food shortage calls for increased crops. The conference called last Monday in Indianapolis was primarily convened to discuss the means of increasing the production of food crops.

Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Illinois.

It is proposed to plant 10,923,000 acres of winter wheat and 1,456,000 acres of rye this fall. The entire national program call for 47,337,000 acres of winter wheat and 5,131,000 acres of rye. This was especially arranged to avoid interference with the output of 1918.

Inquiries instituted at the instance of the national council of defense show that, contrary to popular estimation, the present inflated corn prices are not due to a retention of the product of farmers, but rather to a shortage of the 1916 crop, and the carry-over from 1915. The crop of 1916 was 400,000,000 bushels below that of 1915. Other determining factors are an increased live stock on farms, which has increased about 3,000,000 in the past three years. This naturally means a great increase in foddering.

There are indications of a large crop this year. Provided harvesting and storage can be satisfactorily settled, and the climatic conditions prove favorable, a general slackening of prices later will considerably help matters.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. George Blackburn, of Gay street, observed their twentieth wedding anniversary yesterday.

For the third time within a week the home of Mrs. Frost, 213 South Calhoun street, was burglarized last night.

Henry J. Auth went to Hesse Cassel this afternoon to congratulate his father, Joseph Auth, on his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

George W. Hand and George H. Wilson, the jury commissioners, drew the following grand jurors for the next term of the circuit court this afternoon: Timothy Baldwin, Jackson, Charles W. Farnell, Warren; William Scott, Lafayette; John M. Hawser, John A. Martin, Marion; August R. Schnitker, Adams.

The city council met last night as a committee of the whole when it was developed that the council is decidedly in favor of voting the Electric Street Car company the right to lay a double track on East Lewis street, providing its paves between the tracks and eighteen inches on the outside with vitrified brick.

Pete Lichter, an employee of St. Joseph hospital, received a severe wound in the head this morning. The man was passing under the new roof, when accidentally a paint pot fell, striking him upon the head and causing a deep cut in the scalp. His wound was quickly dressed. It is likely he will recover, if blood poisoning does not set in, owing to the rust. The skull is slightly fractured.

A very jolly crowd of people, young and old, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ford, last evening, it being the occasion of the gentleman's forty-first birthday. Those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Schuthe, Misses Maud and Jennie Snyder, Nellie Fox, Carrie Ragent, Gertrude Sommers, Kattie Angit, Lizzie Gans, Emma Rodenbaugh, Joe Fox, Rose Neldhart, Marie Rising, and Messrs. Mart Schiro, Frank G. Gout and Louis Schuthe, Louis Odou, Jim and John Ford, George Sier, Alph and Clem Noll and John Noll and the babies, Charlie and Mary Ford, Rose Nolan and Philip Schuthe.

CHIEF PERROTT GETS SIXTY-DAY RESPITE

Indianapolis, Aug. 28.—Samuel V. Perrott, former superintendent of police of Indianapolis, convicted of conspiracy to commit election frauds and sentenced to four years imprisonment at Atlanta, Ga., has been granted a respite of sixty days while the department of justice investigates representations that Perrott is physically unable to serve his sentence.

A committee of Indianapolis business men last week visited Washington and filed a petition for Perrott's pardon and at the same time a certificate signed by five Indianapolis physicians who declared Perrott was physically unfit to serve four years in prison.

George J. Marrott, one of the committee who filed the pardon petition, today said the petition was signed by "all of the leading bankers and trust company presidents in Indianapolis and by many well known business men and manufacturers."

ITALIANS UNCOVER NEW WAR MONSTER

Terrific Engine of Death and Destruction Used in New Smash.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A new Italian instrument of war has produced a sensation in the naval world, according to information in possession of experts here.

The new device, employed for the first time in the offensive against Austria, has not been definitely described. No description of it is now available, only its results being revealed. The instrument is said, however, to be a combination consisting of an enormous float, carrying the heaviest guns in existence, and employing a new type of shell.

An official dispatch from Rome today containing the fullest account that has reached America of the use of the new instrument states that it is being employed in the Gulf of Trieste, dropping shells into the city and sweeping the way of the Italians to Trieste.

English Monitors Aid.
"The bombardment of the Austrian positions," this cablegram says, "was accompanied in the Gulf of Trieste by two English monitors and three great Italian monitors, which shelled and struck the most vital points of the Austrian defense with guns of such large caliber and long range as the Austrians never before experienced. The Italian navy has surpassed in caliber and range every previous record by mounting on special floats, whose construction and details are a profound secret, artillery of a power exceeding any armament on any Austrian dreadnaught."

"The Italian navy has devised and inaugurated a new system of naval warfare. (Deleted.) This element of surprise was a part of the new enterprise in the Gulf of Trieste. While the artillery fire was in progress over the Carso the Italian and English monitors, escorted by torpedo boats, motor boats, submarines and airplanes, proceeded to the Gulf of Trieste, crossing mine fields, and at 3 p. m. the English monitors opened fire against the Hermada's slopes on the side opposite the Italian front where the Austrian reserves and artillery had been concentrated."

Hurl Shells Into City.
"The Italian 405s were making hundreds of craters upon the sides and upon the high plateaus of the Hermada while the Italian monitors maintained a still more terrific fire against the Austrian military buildings and depots in the city of Trieste. A large number of Italian air planes were constantly in the air over the naval forces expecting Austrian aerial craft to come out to drop bombs upon the ships, but the Austrian fliers did not venture forth."

"The Austrian coastal batteries opened fire, but the English monitors were not hit, they refraining to answer the coastal batteries' bombardment, but directing all their fire against the Hermada, stopping only when the Italian infantry launched their attack against the Hermada."

Aerial Attack in Vain.
"At night the English monitors returned without having been damaged. The Italian monitors also stopped firing at night. During the bombardment smoke was observed from the Austrian battleships, which had steam up, but they did not dare risk coming out."
"The Austrian command, discovering that the top of the Hermada was being dominated by the Italian artillery due to the intervention of the new Italian monitors, ordered the Austrian aviators to destroy the Italian monitors during the night, but their efforts failed."

Bad Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.
"About two years ago I had an attack of bowel trouble and was in a serious condition when I began using Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. J. R. Rogers, Fairport, N. Y. "This medicine relieved me at once and after taking three or four doses of it I was cured." People are always pleased by the prompt cures which this remedy effects. The recommendations of those who have used it have done much to make it the most popular medicine in use for bowel complaints.—Advertisement.

WE'LL GET BACK OUR RUSSIAN LOANS, SAYS RUSSELL

IT'S ONE OF RICHEST COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD

Crown Jewels and Palaces
Security Enough—Gloomy Gusses Who Are Worried About the $275,000,000 We Have Lent Russia Will Be to Blame if We Lose It.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
Here is the Russian situation compressed into one incident. A few days ago the administration decided to lend Russia another $100,000,000.
At this all persons and newspapers in this country that secretly or openly hope the Russian democracy will fall professed great astonishment.
Then the other persons and newspapers that have no knowledge of Russia, but just can't believe actual democracy can succeed anywhere, cheerfully echoed the astonishment.
What! Lend more money to Russia at a time when according to the press dispatches the last bottom has fallen out of everything? When the dreadful radicals with whom the country is filled are raging up and down thirsting for hot blood and threatening destruction?
When, it is plain, chaos reigns! Above all, when Russia is bankrupt!
That makes $275,000,000 we have lent this nation that waits the low pressure chorus. Shall we ever get it back! Alas! No! Let us bid a fond farewell to our money! Why does the administration thus throw the good mazzama after the bad?
But it doesn't. The administration is perfectly right in its estimate of Russia. Having one chance, Russia is as safe a country to lend money to as there is in the alliance.
Now see how monstrous and dangerous are the misconceptions produced in the American mind by the Dismal Dopers and the Gloomy Gusses of the British press, from whom we get nine-tenths of our so-called news from Russia.
As a matter of fact Russia isn't bankrupt. It is one of the richest countries of the world.

It is not only rich in possibilities, but it is rich in the actual thing. It has The Goods.
I don't mean that the soil is rich, although that is true. I mean that the government is rich.
It owns a Vast Empire of arable and timber lands.
There is no question about its ownership. The title has always been vested in the government.
Comparatively speaking, there is not a great deal of private land-owning in Russia. I mean compared with other countries. An immense amount of land is owned in common, either by the villages or by the general government.
While I was in Russia an appraisal of the government's holdings in land was just being completed.
It indicated the amazing total of sixty billion rubles—$30,000,000.
Besides all this, if the government desires to confiscate the huge estates of the czar and the grand dukes, all grafted from the public, it will have enough to pay the entire national debt and lay by a surplus.
It could take from these estates enough to pay the national debt and still leave the entire brood on imperial parasites, idlers and worthless, useless mutts enough to keep them in splendor all their days.
If it would confiscate only the crown jewels and the palaces in Petrograd it would go far to wipe out all the national debt at present.
More than that, I am told that there was a meeting not long ago in Petrograd of wealthy men, bankers, manufacturers, exploiters, merchants and high lights in Big Business, what there is of it; and when they met to compare notes they found that the interests they represent are not at all threatened by the greater part of the debt so far created by the war.
At present most of these resources are untouched by taxation. It is evident, therefore, that the assets back of this real Russia are almost unlimited.
No one need worry about that.
Also, as to chaos in Russia. There isn't any chaos.
There are elements in the newly created political life that differ as to the details of the policy the government should follow.
But such differing elements exist in every country that has democracy. You couldn't have healthy democracy without them.
But except for a few noisy anarchists and a handful of returned American trouble makers the people are unanimous in their support of democracy. They don't agree about their government but they don't want to assassinate it.
A certain amount of confusion was absolutely inevitable after the destruction of one great system of government and before another could be instituted. The world would work with perfect smoothness in every part of this enormous country.
Such confusion always comes at such times. In the case of the United States it lasted eleven years. In the case of Russia it has lasted less than six months and is steadily disappearing.
There never was a country in the world that underwent anything like the revolution that Russia has had and six months later presented anything like the same spectacle of good order and substantial progress.
This, of course, is totally contrary to the impression created by the reactionary press and the reactionary foreign colony at Petrograd, but is nevertheless the actual fact.
Barring the one chance I have spoken of, the United States will get back all the money it has lent Russia, and get it back with interest.
That chance is that while Russia is still finding herself the Kaiser's supporters in this country will help the German troops to break the Russian line and crush the new democracy in its infancy.

With their peace chatter and treasonable peace counsels, their maneuvers in congress to cripple and discredit the government, their transparent demands for the stalling of peace terms, and their widespread organizations of disloyalty, they have already done much to weaken Russian resistance and enable the Kaiser to advance.
If they keep on they will have him in Petrograd and Moscow.
In that event, of course, it will be goodbye to our money. Also to many other things, infinitely dearer, including democracy in Russia and armies of young American lives.
That is the result of which the work of Mr. La Follette and his company is tending.
I can do no more and no less than to tell you the facts as I found them in Russia.
The American pacifist is Russia's deadliest enemy and the Kaiser's most powerful and efficient ally.

Bilious Attacks.
You wonder what upset your stomach. Never felt better in your life yesterday—now you have a bad bilious attack. Cure that first, then look for the cause. Keep quiet, abstain from food for one day, take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. Drink plenty of water. This will clean the fermenting food and bile out of your stomach, tone up your liver and move your bowels. You will soon be all right again. If you have these bilious attacks at irregular intervals, abstain from coffee and red meats and you may avoid them.—Advertisement.

TOMATOES

(BY BIDDY BYE.)

The tomato is America's most popular vegetable for canning. Over 10,000,000 cases, each containing 24 cans, are packed annually. Nevertheless the housewife who adds one or a dozen cans to this remarkable output is doing a necessary bit of war work.

No sugar is required—their own acid acts as a preservative if the cans are properly sealed.

Tomatoes may be canned whole or in pieces, depending upon the size and the use. Instead of adding syrup, use tomato juice. Water decreases their food value as well as flavor.

WATER BATH CANNING.

Grade and sort the tomatoes according to ripeness, size and quality. Scald 1 1/2 minutes, then dip into cold water. Remove cores, stems and skins, and pack directly into cans or hot jars. Press down with a wooden or silver tablespoon (add no water). Add a level teaspoonful of salt per quart. Place rubbers and caps in position, turn down caps loosely, and set cans in a water bath or wash boiler canning outfit. Sterilize, that is, boil, 22 minutes. Remove jars, tighten covers and invert to cool. Any leakage proves that the container is imperfect or has been imperfectly sealed, and tomatoes must be sterilized a second time.

CORN AND TOMATOES.

Scald fresh corn on the cob 5 minutes and cold-dip. Cut the corn from the cob. Scald the tomatoes 1 1/2 minutes and cold-dip, then core and peel. Cut tomatoes in pieces and mix 2 parts of tomatoes with one part of corn. Add one level teaspoonful of salt per quart and pack mixture in hot jars. Put rubbers and caps in position, set cans in water bath canning outfit, commercial or home-made, and sterilize 120 minutes.

THICK TOMATOES.

Housewives who prefer a thick product often cook the tomatoes in a preserving kettle until they reach the desired consistency before pouring them into jars. Then the cans are set in a water bath and their contents sterilized 20 minutes.

TOMATO MINCEMEAT.

Slice green tomatoes and sprinkle with salt. Put into a cheesecloth bag and hang up to drip over night. In the morning add an equal weight of sugar and cook until the tomatoes are tender. To 7 pounds cooked tomatoes add 3 pounds of seedless raisins, with mace and cinnamon to taste. Cook 10 minutes and turn into any kind of sterilized containers. The mixture will keep without sealing. Other fruits may be added when the pies are baked if desired.

PRESERVED TOMATOES.

Yellow, pear or cherry tomatoes make the most attractive preserves. Scald the tomatoes and remove the skins carefully, weigh, add equal weight of sugar, and put into a preserving kettle. Add one level teaspoonful of shaved green ginger root for each 2 pounds of tomatoes. Preserved ginger may be used. Boil 10 minutes then remove tomatoes from syrup and spread them on a platter to cool. This will keep them from breaking to pieces. Boil syrup to the desired thickness, add tomatoes and simmer gently, put into jars while hot, adding a slice of lemon to each jar before sealing.

OPEN KETTLE CANNING.

The old fashioned open kettle process of canning tomatoes is followed successfully by many housewives. Prepare the tomatoes in the usual way, allow a level teaspoonful of salt to each quart and stew in an aluminum or porcelain lined preserving kettle. Add no water and bring to a boil slowly, then cook at least 30 minutes. Turn into sterilized jars seal and invert to test. When using a spoon, fork, or cup with the tomatoes, first dip it into boiling water.

"There Goes Daddy!"

This little girl couldn't take her eyes off the camera until her mother plucked her sleeve and called, "There goes daddy," as the father marched away with "The Fighting Sixty-ninth" through New York's streets. And the baby, cuddled half-asleep in the mother's arms, didn't see "daddy" pass at all.

HAND GARMENTS GIVE FASTIDIOUS APPEARANCE.

Much is said about homemade blouses and underwear; now and then dresses are included, and with many the handmade idea is nothing more than a fad, or a certain snobbishness in dress. However, there is a reason for the tedious process of making a dress entirely with the aid of the fingers instead of a machine. And that reason is softer and more pliable seams, assurance of that desirable clinginess, and, in general, additional comfort and better fit. There is where the home sewer has the advantage.

Making a little cotton voile dress entirely by hand means nothing to the clever needleworker. The pity of it is that so few needleworkers make their dresses by hand. Perhaps because of the mistaken idea that it is useless work and work that will never show for itself. Hand-sewn seams do show for themselves in the graceful "hang" of the garment. Hand-made undies and blouses need no vindicating; but it is the hand-made dress that must be defended. It is a sure way of being commendably fastidious if you have the time and the inclination.

MARK LINES TO TEST ITS WEARING QUALITIES

Every woman should go over her linen and take stock at least once a year. She should have some marks upon the sheets and tablecloths whereby she can tell the date of their purchase.

In this way she can tell whether a certain make is wearing well, whether it does or does not pay to get the best quality, and also tell exactly how much more is needed to replace that which must be discarded.

Nice linen is expensive, but it has been found to outwear the cheaper grades. Furthermore, nice linen speaks refinement in every way.

THIS HINT! HELP YOU KEEP CROCHETING CLEAN

When crocheting a shawl of delicate color keep all but the end you are working upon in a pillow case and your work will be nice and clean when finished.

When washing overalls, scrub them with a heavy scrubbing brush. You will find it much better than the usual way.

If your pulley line sags when the wash is hung up, a weight fastened to the top line will bring the clothes up even.

STAIN SOON DISAPPEARS.

To remove the stain or iron mold first drop a little powdered salt on the mark and then squeeze on a little lemon juice; hold the stained part of the article against the steam of a boiling kettle and the stain will disappear.

FALL STYLES $10.95 AND $15.00

The Frank Ready-to-Wear Department made an enviable reputation last year with its smart Serge and Silk Dresses, giving the clientele the best of good styles and values at very small cost. We are planning an even more extensive showing this year, and the first arrivals are ready.

Braided, Tailored and Embroidered styles in Serges and Silks, $10.95 and $15.00.

At the left is a very modish suit in which all the new features are represented—the new collar, ruffs and waist lines are the ear-marks of the Autumn season.

These two distinguished Suits will be shown tomorrow for the first time. Price, $25.00, a saving of at least five to seven-fifty on either suit you may select. We are going to specialize on $25.00 suits this season, and you can take our word for it. WHATEVER YOU WEAR, YOU'LL WEAR LESS.

Reports Idah McGlone Gibson, After Seeing the Big Ritz-Carlton Fashion Show With Betty Brown and Sketch Artist Valentine.

By IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON.

At the Fashion Front, Somewhere in the Ritz-Carlton, New York, N. Y., Aug. 29.—New fashions have taken the front-line trenches.

They also have taken many prisoners—about a yard and a half of cloth, in fact, from each costume.

There is no doubt of this. Both Fashion Expert Betty Brown and Sketch Artist DeAlton Valentine, who accompanied me on a tour of fashion's battle terrain, agree that this is so.

Whatever you wear for your fall gown, you will not wear so much of it. Skirts will be much narrower and much shorter, because of the Paris gown builders' decree that a yard and a half of cloth must be saved from each costume.

You can expect to see at least two inches of silk hose above the shoe tops. Leather must be saved as well as wool. Low shoes and spats will be worn this season—there, however, are only for the girl with slender ankles.

The one-piece gown with perfectly straight lines will be the most popular fashion for everyday wear.

In materials, serge will give way to duvety, velour and velvet, and there will be many broadcated silks made up into formal costumes for the street.

More silk will be worn than in years, as we must conserve the woolen factories' capacity for the manufacture of clothes for our Sammies.

Brown will have first call in colors, particularly a brown called Maryland brown, which Paris named not for the state, but because it is the name of a cheap tobacco much used for cigars.

Red especially the flame red, supposed to denote courage—will be a note in almost every costume.

Black gowns will be worn, but a brilliant touch of color, either in the costume itself or by the addition of a gorgeous red or blue hat will be used, as there must be not a hint of mourning.

be used extensively in collars and cuffs, and in some cases for bands on skirts.

Dresses, with top coats added for street wear, are the last word from Paris, although some of the old reliable coats and skirts will still be seen.

There is a whispered revival of the old-fashioned redingote and the bustle, but everything will emphasize the slim silhouette.

The fashionable woman will have to conserve food even more rigorously than Mr. Hoover recommends, if she would have a modish figure this winter.

Now about hats—

"Although most of our gowns are still in the drawing room," Jules Kurz says, "we have had a number of very stunning importations in hats."

As he said this he put on a model the confection of claret colored draped velvet shown on the full-length figure in Mr. Valentine's illustration. With this was worn an ermine cape trimmed with black monkey, a claret colored velvet one-piece suit with striped insets at the sides of the skirt, and Chinese embroidery in dull shades completed this costume, which showed a generous two inches of stockings above the shoe tops.

The hat on the young woman who is driving with the French officer arrived from Paris yesterday and is designed as a compliment to our boys "over there." It is of blue velvet made to simulate the crown of the service hat worn by our privates. The French, however, have put four blue bows in the crushed places. The high collar worn by this young woman is the very latest mode.

The black velvet afternoon hat at the left is one of the most stunning dress hats seen in the Kurzman imports. It is trimmed about the edge with a soft band of ostrich feathers with little ball fringe of the same feathers hanging from the brim over the eyes. Ostrich feathers are very good this season, two out of three hats being trimmed with them.

The walking hat design on the figure in the background is of tobacco brown velvet, and the startling part of it is brown tassels which hang directly in the middle of the forehead almost to the bridge of the nose. This is an Egyptian idea, and emphasizes the fact that oriental conceits will be worn on both hats and gowns this season.

The richest of furs, already shown, are almost prohibitive in price. However, one New York importer said to me today: "The dear American ladies will have clothes, no matter if the heavens fall."

It remains to be seen if the New York idea of the "dear American ladies" is right.

Substitute for Buttons. "What are you doing now?" asked the friend of an ingenious woman whose needlework always promised surprise for those who knew her. "Oh, I'm just finishing up a wash waist. I didn't want to use buttons because they get crushed in the washing, so I am working out an idea of my own. I hate to rip off buttons and sew them on again after each tubbing. They are never on, you know, when you need the blouse. You don't have to rip anything with these buttons. You see first of all I sew on snaps and then I cover their marks on the right side with buttons made from heavy French knots of colored embroidery cotton. They are pretty, too; see there are three of them made in one group."

"Sometimes I just sew them in a row; you could make them oval or diamond-shape or even square and outline them with black. Try to hump them just a bit in the middle so that they will look more like buttons."

"That's a fine idea," said her friend. "Just wait a minute, will you, until I go home and get my work bag and a blouse. I want to try it out."

FAST BOILING WATER AID IN COOKING VEGETABLES

Plenty of fast boiling water should be used in cooking vegetables; if only a little is used the vegetables cool and become tough.

To color soups red, put in the strained juice of tomato, or the whole tomato if run through a sieve. Carrots grated give a fine amber color.

A little salt improves the flavor of cake and half water instead of all milk makes a light cake. If the cake rises in a mountain in the middle the dough was too thick; if it falls in the middle it was too rich with sugar. Large loaves in the cake show there was too much baking powder. Sprinkle flour in the pan after greasing it; it prevents cake from sticking.

MUNITION GRAY, ONE OF THE LATEST COLORS

News comes from Paris that the most black and gray are being used in combination by some of the best modistes.

This munition gray is a lovely color, having just enough of the blue cast to make it interesting.

Then there is a decided leaning toward the shades of brown, beige and sand. The rust and mahogany shades are also combined with the black.

High Heels Put Corns on Toes

Who cares? Corns or calluses lift off without any pain.

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heeled footwear, they suffer from corns, they cut and trim at these painful pests which merrily makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of freezone applied directly upon a sore corn or tender callus gives quick relief and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off without pain. Ask the drug store man for a tiny bottle of freezone, which costs but a few cents, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

Freezone dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Women! Keep a bottle of freezone handy on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

NEW DEPARTMENT.

Steele-Myers Open Up Their New Basement Departments.

The beautiful basement of the Steele-Myers store, 60x150 feet in size, was opened up to the public today, and in spite of the inclement weather a very large attendance was on hand to take advantage of the many good things in the way of special bargains offered in the new section.

In the new basement section is carried a complete line of ladies' and children's ready-to-wear garments, including coats, suits, dresses, millinery, waists, muslin and knit underwear and stockings. There is a men's section which will carry shirts, collars, ties, hose, underwear and handkerchiefs.

Besides the ready-to-wear departments there is a large section devoted to dry goods. Here a fine line of silks, satins, crepes, woolen goods, cotton goods, flannels, bedding and table linens will be sold. Neckwear, ribbons, handkerchiefs, jewelry, dolls and toys are carried in large assortment.

The Steele-Myers company intends to have every department in its upstairs store represented in its beautiful basement store. No expense or effort is being spared to make this new venture a success in every way. Mr. Steele has been in New York for days purchasing new fall merchandise for this new section.

No doubt the new department will prove a most popular shopping center for Fort Wayne and vicinity.

Dr. John Cope, of the Imperial Antarctic expedition that was sent in search of Captain Scott's body, says it will never be discovered. "Every year," he said, "there falls fourteen feet of snow in the Antarctic. This blows away and melts down to seven feet, and then the next year comes another fourteen or fifteen feet, and all the while the barrier wears away underneath, so that Captain Scott's body has been buried so deep it will never be found."

Daily Doings in South Wood Park

DR. E. L. SIEBER BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

A residence lot selected by Dr. E. L. Sieber, the dentist, residing at 898 Packard avenue, possesses highly attractive features which have drawn the attention of many others to South Wood Park—large forest trees and the curved drives with wide parkways. Dr. Sieber's new home site fronts on Indiana avenue. The sale was handled for Hilgeman & Schaaf by F. W. Miles.

DR. DUPRE SELECTS TWO WOODED LOTS.

Because of its ideal location at the junction of Maxine Drive and Drury Lane, the new home site selected by Dr. B. G. Dupre, of 125 East DeWald street, is especially attractive. Like the others in this neighborhood in South Wood Park, the two lots are covered with large trees. The sale of the property was handled by F. W. Miles.

"ED" GRAHAM BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

Edwin J. Graham, foreman at the plant of the General Electric company, has chosen a valuable home site in South Wood Park, a wooded lot on Indiana avenue, two and one-half squares south of Rudisill boulevard and convenient to the extended South Wayne car line.

B. F. WYSONG BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

B. F. Wysong, salesman at the Newark Shoe company, and residing at 1017 Fairfield avenue, has purchased a beautiful wooded lot on Pembroke Lane, facing Maxine Drive. W. H. North handled the sale for Hilgeman & Schaaf.

this occurred sixty days after they were married.

Carl Nimmons, of Butler, was granted a divorce from his wife, Pearl Brink Nimmons, Tuesday, by Judge Link. The grounds for divorce were that although he had provided a good home for his wife she refused to attend to her household duties and he was compelled to prepare his own meals and attend to the home and his wife would spend her time in employment elsewhere, which was against his wishes and not necessary for her to do. The couple were married on August 14, 1914, and separated March 23, 1917.

Captain Walter D. Stump, who is the official head of Company K, is quite ill at his home on South Indiana avenue with an attack of typhoid fever. He has been ailing for several days, but it was not until Tuesday that it was found to be typhoid. It is doubtful if he will get to leave with his company should they go within a couple of weeks.

Mrs. L. B. Shilling passed away Monday afternoon at her late home on North Main street. She had been a great sufferer from asthma for the past twenty years and for the past three months had been very ill. Besides the husband she leaves three children, Mrs. Dan Link, of North Main street; Mrs. Earl Parker, of South Main street; City Treasurer E. E. Shilling and Karl Shilling, of Brookfield, Ill. She was 68 years old and had been a resident of this city 42 years.

The teachers of DeKalb county are surely well represented at the county institute, which is being held this week in the assembly room of the court house. Monday there were one hundred and fifteen enrolled and many more were expected today. County Superintendent F. M. Merica has secured some very excellent instructors who are making the sessions full of interest.

This is the last week of court and Judge Link will go to Angola Monday, where he will open the September term of the Steuben county court. Earl Sebring is asking the DeKalb county circuit court for a divorce from his wife, charging her with cruel and inhuman treatment and refusing to live with him. The couple were married and separated and the husband is now suing for a divorce.

B. O. B. social postponed until Friday evening on account of weather.

They have just secured a superintendent to take the place of George Carroll, who resigned to join the officers' reserve corps. Mr. Van Fleit has not tendered his resignation to the school board as yet, and may not do so until the first of the week as they do not have a meeting until that time. HOUSE BURNS ONE MAY DIE

Aged Father of Ruben Minerd, Near Dixon, is Seriously Burned.

FAMILY JUMPS FROM AN UPSTAIRS WINDOW

Defective Flue Causes Disastrous Blaze at an Early Hour.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Monroe, Ind., Aug. 29.—The aged father of Ruben Minerd, near Dixon, is in a serious condition and may die as a result of burns received when the Minerd home was burned to the ground with all contents. Members of the family barely escaped with their lives by jumping from the upstairs window.
Mr. Minerd's father was burned about the neck and together with the shock and his advanced age, he is reported in a very serious condition.
Mrs. Minerd and two children escaped injury by jumping. Mr. Minerd had arisen early and built a fire in the kitchen range before going to the barn to do the chores and it is presumed a defective flue was the immediate cause, for in a short time the house was in flames and beyond control, although they succeeded in saving the surrounding buildings.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS OPEN SEPTEMBER 4

Usual Attendance Expected in All the Local Schools.

The Catholic and Lutheran parochial schools will open the Tuesday following Labor day, September 4, according to announcements made Wednesday. No changes in the faculty have been made during the summer in either the Catholic or Lutheran schools and a proportional increase in attendance is expected in both.

According to Rev. Jacob Miller, of the Lutheran schools, no effect will be felt from the enforcement of the draft law, although several teachers may later cause vacancies by having taken places in the new army. An attendance of from 1,200 to 1,400 is expected in the Lutheran schools, divided about evenly with the exception of the Trinity and Emmanuel schools, in which something in the neighborhood of one hundred are expected to enroll.

Of course all pupils enrolling in local Catholic schools are under draft age and will in no way be affected by the draft and it is not reported that any of the faculty will be lost because of the draft. Rev. Father Quinlan, of the Catholic schools, said that no changes of importance in the faculty of the local schools had been made.

HONORABLE MENTION.

Received by Margorie Kayser in Greater Vitagraph Company Contest.
Marjorie Kayser, 1025 Rivermet avenue, has received honorable mention in the essay contest conducted by the Greater Vitagraph company. The contest was for essays on "How America Should Prepare," and was run in connection with the presentation of "Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation," the Greater Vitagraph preparedness picture. The contest closed on July 4, but owing to the fact that more than 2,000 essays were submitted from all parts of the world, the award committee was unable to make its decision until Aug. 28, when the certified check for $1,000 was presented to Henry H. Bliss, of Baltimore, Md., for the best essay.

Section No. 2 of the Woman's league of the Wayne Street M. E. church will meet Friday afternoon for Red Cross sewing in the church parlors instead of on Monday, Sept. 3.

NOT A WOMAN BRAVED THE RAIN TO REGISTER

Male Voters Are Piling Up Score by Sprint at the Finish.

The contest, which has been running nip and tuck, so to speak, and which was to determine whether men or the women will cast the most votes in the coming election, is to be won by the men.

Every hour the male voters are piling up the score. Their interest in the coming election is growing while the ardor of the female voters seems to have waned. The rain of the past two days may be the cause of the women's defeat. Not a woman registered after 4 o'clock Monday, at the city hall office, and no woman registered on Tuesday before noon.

Leaders of the suffragettes claim that their lack of spirit is due to the late court rulings, which seem to cast the shadow that women may not be allowed to vote at all this fall. It is said that many women have given up hope of being allowed to cast a ballot this year. Such a rumor plays havoc with the plans of the suffragette contingent.

Male voters will be out in force. Even with the present total standing under 14,000 registrations, it is thought that the largest male vote in the history of the city will be recorded. Men are appearing in numbers at the registration places.

The places where voters may be registered on Wednesday evening, from 7 o'clock until 9, are:
A. F. W. Manth drug store, Lewis and Hanna.
F. J. Miller drug store, Lafayette and Wallace.
Hoham's drug store, 1706 South Calhoun.

C. F. Schwartz drug store, Calhoun and Creighton.
Wildwood drug store, 3004 South Wayne avenue.
Vernon Grace store, 405 E. Wayne.
C. O. Lepper drug store, 230 West Jefferson.

J. D. Lewis drug store, 1001 Broadway.
Also any time, all day and evening, at the following places:
Phil Koehlinger drug store, 901 E. Washington.
Jacob Bill drug store, 1401 East Creighton.
Lakeside pharmacy, Columbia and St. Joe boulevard.
Joe Hutzler drug store, 1402 West Main.

WILL GIVE SOCIAL.

A social will be given by the newly organized Jefferson drum corps on Thursday evening in Weiser park, the funds derived to be used in purchasing new suits and equipment for the members. The boys will sell ice cream, lemonade, cigars, pop, etc. Twenty young ladies will wait upon the tables.

17,000 OVER WAR STRENGTH

Regular Army Recruiting Stations Enlist Men for Reserves.

MESS KITS WILL BE READY FOR CO. E

Company B Men Are Provided With a Pair of Rubber Boots Each.

Seventeen thousand men over war strength has been the result of recruiting work for the regular army since April 1. Major Thomas F. Ryan, of the Fort Wayne recruiting station, states that recruiting will not stop as they are now recruiting men in the reserve for the various branches of service.

Twenty men were sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning eighteen more were accepted to be sent away in the evening.

Officers of Company E, Fort Wayne's crack infantry company, received orders Wednesday morning to make known the company's needs in regards to mess kits and other equipment. The order stated that if these requisition papers were made out at once that the entire equipment would await the company upon their arrival at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Up until noon Wednesday no marching orders had been received. Captain Ray McAdams was told by the supply captain, Charles Sergeant, over long distance telephone Tuesday evening, that if the orders to move will not have been received by Thursday morning, that the clothing would be shipped to Fort Wayne so that all members will be donned in a uniform upon departing.

If the suits are received Company E will be the first company in the history of Fort Wayne to leave fully uniformed.

Members of Company B, signal corps, are still awaiting warmer and more pleasant weather at the Lincoln school. The company received eighty-five pairs of rubber boots recently and every man in the company has been provided with a pair so that damp weather is no hindrance to any. During the wet and unfavorable weather the officers are conducting classes in the school, instructing men by blackboard talks.

Sees Baron in South Bend.
The same Baron De Ogler, who was ordered away from Fort Wayne after he had offered himself to aid recruiting work here, is in South Bend, Monday, by Major Ryan, who was in that city on business. The Baron states that he is an Austrian, but has fled his country.

Two Men Are Ordered.
A dispatch from Colonel Read, commander at Fort Benjamin Harrison, is to the effect that two men from Fort Wayne are ordered to report at once to the officers' reserve training camp. The young men named are Louis L. Miller and Richard Henning, both of this city.

TO BE AN OFFICER.
O. R. Hill, foreman of the Chestnut street shops of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, has gone to Fort Benjamin Harrison to take up the study for the makings of an officer.

LOCK YOUR EXTRA AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Police Chief Asks Drivers to Quit Tempting Sneak Thieves.

Get a padlock and chain for your extra tire, Mr. Auto Driver.

The only other way to be saving when you come down town of an evening is to leave the fifth tire at home in the kitchen.

Police Chief Lenz is asking the public to aid in checking the wholesale plan of stealing automobile tires from machines, which are left standing on down town streets at night. Five tires were stolen from the back of automobiles last week. Two were taken last Saturday night from cars which stood in front of the Palace theater. On Tuesday night a large tire was taken, strapped to the rear of the auto belonging to C. T. Strawbridge, 1019 East Wayne street, was removed while the machine stood on Jefferson street. The thefts amount to several hundred dollars.

Tire stealing has become an epidemic, Chief Lenz admits. This is because of the high price of rubber and because of the easy access which a thief has to the extra tire, carried on nearly every machine. Sometimes the fifth tire is tied to the side of the car with a string. Other autos have the extra tire strapped at the rear of the body. Either way is an invitation to the fellow who moves through the shadows.

The police are working hard to break up the tire thieves. Arrests may come on Thursday. It is thought that there may be several engaged as tire appropriators. The trap should spring soon. But meantime, Mr. Auto Driver, guard your own tire and the police will thank you.

SOCIALISTS DO NOT WANT SMALL NATIONS RUINED

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—"The socialists of neutral countries do not wish any nation to be crushed in this war," said M. Stauning, socialist leader and minister without portfolio, in an address today. For that reason the constantly recurring rumors that we desire a separate peace between Russia and Germany are meaningless and untrue. A separate peace would be incomplete even to the interests of international working classes. We desire peace but for all the nations of the world. A separate peace would set free forces which could be employed for the destruction of single nations, which is in absolute opposition to the interests of humanity."

NEED CHANGE IN SYSTEM

Dean Barr Tells Institute of Time Wasted in Grades.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL REMEDY

Maturity Hindered by Too Much Time in Lower Branches.

The question of a junior-senior high school plan was raised indirectly by the talk of Dean Barr, teachers of Allen county in their third session Wednesday of the annual institute, in the minds of several educators prominent locally. Such a plan has been adopted in several cities of the state, principally Anderson and Evansville, and has met with good results. The point was well brought out by many who know of the need that such an arrangement would fill if it could become the plan of the local school system, because of the present crowded conditions for study.

The point brought by Dean Barr was that the present system which would result in less time being wasted in the grades and the more rapid maturity which would result when the Seventh and Eighth grade are combined with the First and Second years in the present arrangement of secondary schools. Why Dean Barr did not suggest the junior-senior high school as his own idea of the remedy in the public schools system, he asked the question whether or not Fort Wayne had a junior-senior high school.

Testing Pupils and Teachers.
Dean Barr's talk was on "Testing Pupils and Teachers." His ideas on the subject are in accordance with some of the latest now being adopted in the leading universities along the line of educational research work and scientific school surveys. Educators, it is pointed out, are now coming to the realization that the subject of the common school branch is a hindrance to the rapid development along scholastic lines of pupils when they are at the right age.

Dr. Gordy's subject Wednesday morning was "Geography, the Physical Basis of History." He pointed out that the subject of the common school branch is a hindrance to the rapid development along scholastic lines of pupils when they are at the right age.

"Dates," said Dr. Gordy, "are mere landmarks. Details are necessary to make more vivid particular points, to vitalize more important points." "No country ever needed greater devotion to a great cause than our country does today," declared the speaker. "In teaching history, bring in the souls of great men to widen our own narrow existences."

The speaker told of some of his own experiences in visiting historic spots and mentioned a trip to the plains of Abraham, near Quebec, where he said the historic landmarks made him feel a more intimate relationship with the history enacted there.

A meeting for women teachers attending the institute will be held at the court house Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time Prof. Louis Dorn will give a talk on "Municipal Housekeeping." At this time instruction in voting will be given to women who expect to cast the ballot in the next election.

As a variation on the nonreliable bottle, a New York man has invented a device for testing the reliability of a bottle. It is a small bottle with a stopper and a string attached to it. The string is passed through the bottle and the stopper is inserted. The bottle is then filled with water and the string is pulled out. If the bottle is reliable, the string will come out without any difficulty. If the bottle is unreliable, the string will be difficult to pull out.

WILL BE HELD DURING WAR

Franch Koch, Caught in Forbidden Zone, "Dangerous to Public Safety."

INTERNEED IN THE INDIANAPOLIS JAIL

German Army Reservist, Arrested Here, is to Be Detained.

Frank Koch, a German army reservist, arrested in this city some weeks ago, has been interned in the Marion county jail at Indianapolis as a person "dangerous to the public safety." He probably will be held for the period of the war, his detention having been ordered by Washington officials, acting on authority of the president's war proclamation.

Koch was caught entering a window of the power plant on Spy Run avenue that supplies electricity for both city and traction cars of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company. Local authorities held him for examination before T. J. Logan, United States commissioner, on the charge of being within the forbidden half-mile zone of munition-making factories without having a government permit. Later Koch was investigated by Jess Williamson, an agent of the department of justice, and the order for internment followed.

Frank Barnhart, a deputy United States marshal, took Koch to the jail at Indianapolis. The prisoner probably will later be taken over by military authorities and removed to a detention camp.

Koch came to the United States as a freeman on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, landing in Hoboken in 1910. He is a brewer worker, and lived in several American cities, being in San Francisco when Germany broke out war on the world in 1914. At that time he reported to the German consulate in San Francisco as an army reservist. He says he was discharged from the German army in 1902.

FIND OLD TREASURES IN HOPE HOSPITAL

Workmen Are Uncovering Articles Left There Years Ago by Patients.

A veritable store house of old treasures, left there in years gone by, by former patients, is what the old Hope hospital building is proving to be. The structure is now being razed to clear the ground for the erection of the new Y. M. C. A. building.

Workmen engaged in tearing down the building are coming across many old articles that have probably been concealed for years. In one room, hidden behind the casing which surrounded the fireplace, workmen found an old time worn black box. In the box were miscellaneous articles, such as might have been placed there by an old woman, knitting, crocheting, an old pair of specks and many other things dear to the heart of the elderly feminine. At the bottom of the box, carefully concealed, and folded several times, was a $20 bill, worn and yellow with age.

In another room workmen found an old picture, a prospectus of the Hope hospital building before even the oldest part of it had been constructed. In another room, hidden behind the wooden casing, was a $5 bill.

The treasures were found in the oldest part of the building. No names or identification marks of any kind were on the boxes, and there is no trace of their former owners. The supposition is that they were placed in their hiding places by patients at the hospital years ago, and that the original owners either died, or were taken from the hospital without having an opportunity to claim their own.

GIVES HUSBAND TO COUNTRY.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—"His country needs him more than I do in this crisis. He was born and reared here and all that he has owes to his country and it is no more than right that he should die for his land if necessary." Such were the words of Mrs. Gladys Pennington, 141 Division street, Elkhart, as she signed a paper in which she released her husband, Ray C. Pennington, from all duty to her and that he might enlist in E company, Third Indiana infantry.

CORPORAL JOHNSON RECOVERS.

Friends of Corporal L. W. Johnson will be glad to learn that he is improving from a severe illness and on September 22 will celebrate his eighty-first birthday anniversary. Corporal Johnson expects to attend the annual reunion of the survivors of his old command, the First Independent battery, Ohio, light artillery, which will be held at Mansfield, Ohio, the latter part of September. He is the author of "The Thornless Rose," a book of rambling rhymes.

TORPEDO FACTORY BURNS.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—The factory of the Schvanevold torpedo works in Copenhagen was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and spread rapidly, burning for several hours before it was brought under control.

MONTH OF LIBERTY DEPENDS UPON WIFE

Whim of Woman to Determine Sentence of Man Who Stole Brass.

Wife may keep a man out of war and other things.

Bert Doyle, 48, has a month of freedom or imprisonment hanging upon the words which his helpmeet pronounced in police court, Wednesday morning. If friend wife says he is a good fellow he will only be immured in the county jail for thirty days; if she tells the judge that he plays rum and goes to lodge every night the unfortunate man will be in the bastle for sixty days.

Doyle pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing brass from the Electric works, where he had been employed. He had been taking the valuable metal in small bits, when he went home from work at night. He pleaded that he is married and cares for his wife.

"If you are telling the truth about being a good husband I will leave you down light," said Judge H. W. Kerr. Doyle was fined $30 and costs and his jail sentence will vary with his wife's eulogy or disparagement.

Took the Razor.
Albert Ackley, looked as a barber in the shop of Joe Krumm, 206 West Superior street. One of Joe's razors gained the seat of favor in the eye of Ackley. When the employee left the shop a few days ago, he took the razor with him. Ackley admitted the fact. He was fined $10 and costs and thirty days in jail.

Five Were Idle.
Five young men were found to have no visible means of support when police visited all pool rooms and saloons of the city Tuesday afternoon. They will all be held in jail for a day or two at least. They were charged with loitering.

George Holsapple, 23, had lost his registration card, he admitted, when consulted by an officer in a Lafayette street pool room. He was bound over to federal officers.

Joe Galloway and Leo Brown are believed to be of conscriptable age, although they claim to be younger. They will be held until September 4, while investigation goes on.

Walter Jerard will have a hearing on Saturday. John Pierson will come back into court from the jail on next Wednesday.

Money Is Sure.
Attorney Frank Kleckamp took the seat of judgment just long enough to outline a working program for Heber Bare, who was returned from St. Louis, on a child neglect charge on Tuesday. Bare, who was unable to furnish $200 bond for support of his three children, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to sixty days at work on the county roads.

Bowled Him.
Tom Jenkins, 316 Buchanan street, is charged with having struck his wife while engaged in a family altercation, Tuesday evening. Jenkins claims that his wife first hit him with a bowl. He will be tried on Thursday on an assault and battery complaint.

Took a Chance.
The law has stepped between James Goggin, 36, and firewater. The picture of James is a decoration back of the bar of nearly every saloon in the city.

Mrs. Goggin has issued an injunction against James getting any more liquor. But James was intoxicated on Tuesday afternoon. George Buckmaster was sent to a saloon at the corner of Harrison and Superior streets by Mrs. Goggin, in an effort to bring the husband out into the sunlight. James rebelled. He drew a knife and ran Buckmaster from the place.

Goggin was arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He is held under $200 bond for trial on Friday.

Frank Humphrey, of Piercetown, was found in an intoxicated state on East Main street, by police on Tuesday night. He was locked up. On Wednesday morning he denied the intoxication charge and claimed that his actions were due to nervousness. He was fined $1 and costs.

WHAT'S YOUR CLAIM TO BE EXEMPTED?

John Barleycorn Will Sure Lose Support When the Army Mobilizes.

The Hoosier whose claim for exemption from service in the new national army under the draft law attracted nationwide attention because of its unusual feature and whose name is withheld by request, was in Fort Wayne, Wednesday, seeking to file an appeal to the decision of the district board and claims exemption from the draft for industrial reasons.

The soldier (in embryo) who is probably nearer to the service than he suspects, according to those who know the case and know how the appeal boards are handling such cases, caused much laughter and helped to relieve the tensely and seriousness connected with the draft enforcement. His reason why he should not have been taken by the draft was given as much prominence as the statement of the exempted married man who was "going to run his wife for president," and when asked on what grounds, replied, "She kept me out of war."

The man who is about to be a soldier, is from one of Fort Wayne's neighboring cities. When filling out the preliminary papers, in answer to the question whether he had dependents he put in his answer "That I have three children, the oldest is a boy, the second is a girl, and the youngest is a girl."

WILL ARRAY "SHARKS" AGAINST CHIEF LENZ

Ominous Letter Tells Police Head That His Doom is Nigh.

Fort Wayne's array of cuspidor cadets, cue artists and stine lifters are mobilizing for a drive against the position of Police Chief Charles Lenz, according to an unsigned letter received by the chief Wednesday morning. "The forces which are in training in the poolrooms and saloons are going to rout the chief from his stronghold because he has been 'altogether too active' along certain lines and because he has failed to be a 'good fellow.'"

The letter, which had been placed in an envelope bearing the head of a local hotel, states that scores of the sport element have combined to get the job of the present chief.

"Maurice Niezer must promise to put you out of office within twenty-four hours if he expects to be elected," stated the missive. "If Cutshall is elected he will have you out of your place before he opens his roller desk. We are going to show you that the poolroom sharks and others have a force in this city."

"You have made just one good ruling since you grabbed your job. That was to stop roller-skating on the sidewalks. Outside of that you have done little but give out orders and persecute those who spend their spare time in poolrooms or decent saloons. Everything has been orders. You have gone to seed on orders. You let them all slide but the ones against men of some leisure."

"You said speeding must stop. Your officers are nearly run over by speeders every day. They have to jump sideways to keep out of the way of speeders."

"Such stuff don't go. Your end is near."

The chief smiled grimly after he read the message of hate. He handed the document to a detective.

"Try and find who wrote this," he said. "Tell him I want to meet him and talk this thing over. I will give him a public invitation to discuss these points with me."

THE WAY TO DEAL WITH RED MENACE

The West Must Winnow the Union Wheat from the I. W. W. Chaff.

A WESTERN VIEW OF THE I. W. W. CRISIS.

By Chester H. Rowell.
(California Progressive Leader and Member of Regents of State University.)

If the capitalists of the United States will show ordinary, elementary intelligence they will, instead of lumping I. W. W.ism and unionism in a common hostility, prefer to join with unionism against the common foe.

There is no power in America so able to cope with the I. W. W.'s as is the power of organized labor, and no opposition to the I. W. W. movement can count on success except by the assistance of union labor.

The most powerful ally of the I. W. W. movement at present is the anarchist, capitalist who refuses to deal with unionism.

BY BENJAMIN E. LING.
(Staff Special.)

Phoenix (Ariz.), Aug. 24.—(By Mail.)—Industrial strife in this, the baby state of the union, has reached such an acute stage of bitterness that the great war in which the United States now is engaged has become of secondary importance to Arizonians.

Armed guards still are on duty at every road that leads into Bisbee, where are the great copper mines of the Phelps-Dodge syndicate and other big mining corporations. These guards allow no one to get into the Warren district, which includes Bisbee, Lowell and Warren, until he has made known his business.

They have been on guard since July 12, when the so-called Loyalty League of Bisbee, composed of some 2,000 citizens acting under Sheriff Wheeler, deported 1,200 men, whom they labeled I. W. W.'s and I. W. W. sympathizers.

More than a thousand of these exiles still are being cared for by the federal government in a camp at Columbus, N. M.

I saw them there, talked to a number of their leaders, as well as to Governor Campbell, State Attorney Wiley Jones, leaders in the Bisbee Loyalty league and other residents of Bisbee.

There are over 4,000 miners in the Warren district. Of this number less than half were identified with the union organization. The Bisbee union last June was captured by the I. W. W.'s and the strike called June 26 was conducted by I. W. W. leaders.

The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers withdrew its charter from the Bisbee union.

Up to the time of the deportation there had been no violence in connection with the strike, outside of the arrest of five men for picketing. Loyalty league members who were wanted to work were threatened and strikers blocked the streets.

There were, however, fewer arrests while the strike was on than at any other time in the city's history, strikers say. Bootlegging was stopped by the strikers themselves.

Among the men now assembled at Columbus are 80 registered for selective service, many who bought liberty bonds and many who belong to old-established trades unions and who are not I. W. W.'s.

For instance, there are Fred Brown, member of the clerks' union and organizer for the A. F. of L.; William Cleary, an attorney who's been leader in fights in Arizona on behalf of labor; and Ilya L. Gobovich, a young Serbian restaurant proprietor, who has a receipt showing he bought $1,500 worth of liberty bonds and another receipt showing he contributed $25 to the Red Cross.

Cleary says he's neither I. W. W. nor socialist, and that he openly opposed the present strike.

Gobovich, his friends say, was deported because members of the I. W. W. assembled in his restaurant to eat. Over 200 Bisbee exiles at Columbus still have families in Bisbee, who are being cared for by the Citizens' league.

It is reported the Phelps-Dodge interests pay $200 a day into the fund to care for the families.

Since the deportation, mine operators say they have the mines operating again at 60 per cent force.

Loyalty League now is being organized in various Arizona cities. A state organization also is being perfected with the avowed intention of exterminating the I. W. W.

Organized labor is getting the impression these Loyalty Leagues are waging the mine operators' long fight on trades unionism. This feeling has been heightened since it has been definitely established that old-time union men are in the I. W. W. camp at Columbus.

The impression also has grown stronger since armed guards around Bisbee refused to admit a committee from the Arizona State Federation of Labor sent to investigate the deportation.

Strikes now are on at Clifton and Morenci and at Globe and Miami.

ENROLLING WOMEN TO SERVE NATION

Canvass of Indiana Will Be Carried Into Every Voting Precinct.

(By State Council of Defense, George Ade Chairman of Publicity Committee.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—By the end of the week it is expected that every voting precinct in the state, which includes in many instances an entire township, and every side of every city square, will have been canvassed at least once, by representatives of the State Council of Defense, in an enrollment of the women of Indiana in the Hoover food organization and in the league for service.

The Indiana Franchise league having turned over its entire organization, formed for the purpose of taking a complete and accurate poll of the women, to the women members of the county council of every county, and working with the various other agencies, it is believed by those directing the enrollment that the original purpose to register every female more than 12 years of age, will be entirely successful.

Although the federal organization, working through the women's department of the Council of National Defense, has extended the final date for the completion of the nation-wide enrollment of women to September 5th, it is believed that the Indiana cards will have been signed and turned in not later than September 1. The Indiana organization is working to that end and hopes to have a satisfactory showing by that date.

Ignorance and disloyalty have been the principal obstacles the canvassers have encountered. Where the exact purpose of the cards has been explained, little difficulty was experienced in securing signatures. In some communities, however, the distrust of all documents calling for signature proved a serious obstruction, and held up the completion of the canvass for several days. Cases of apparent disloyalty have been recorded and those who indicated an entire lack of sympathy with the cause will be watched, and no unpatriotic activity tolerated from them.

The women members of the county councils have been urged by the state council to give the enrollment and its purpose the widest publicity possible, to "make plain to the women that the signing of these cards is merely a way of taking a census, and that it is not a conscription in any sense. Some of the women think they are signing up orders to leave at once for France. The only intention is that we shall have a record of all the work that women are now doing and the things they are fitted to do, should occasion arise to ask for the assistance of the women. In that event, nobody could compel a woman to do anything. The state would merely notify her and give her an opportunity if she wants to help."

SIX MEN AND WOMEN LANDED FOR HOLD-UP

Chicago Police Have Half Dozen Suspects for Murder and Robbery.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Six men and a woman are in custody today, suspected of complicity in the robbery and murder yesterday of Barton O. Allen and Louis C. Gensberg, messengers for Brinks City Express company, as they were about to deliver the weekly payroll of $9,100 at the plant of the Winslow Foundry company, on the west side. The robbers opened fire as the messengers approached the foundry gate, took the money and fled in an automobile. Acting upon information obtained from an anonymous telephone call, which identified the automobile used by the robbers, the police last night arrested Charles Carrao, president of the Chicago Street Cleaner's union. Later five other men were arrested after a fight in a saloon and are being held for investigation. A woman, the companion of Carrao, also being held.

A CREAMY LOTION MADE WITH LEMONS

Prepare a quarter pint at about the cost of a small jar of common cold cream.

When this home-made lemon lotion is gently massaged into the face, neck, hands and arms daily, the skin naturally should become soft, clear and white, and the complexion dainty and attractive.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it naturally should help to whiten, clear, smoothen and beautify.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer has the lemons. In this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion ladies can easily prepare and have an inexpensive toilet aid which perfectly satisfies their natural desire for a beautiful soft skin.—Advertisement.

SAVE UP YOUR MONEY AND BUY AN AIR JITNEY AFTER THE WAR, FOR THEY WILL BE AS COMMON AS AUTOS WHEN GREAT CONFLICT IS ENDED

Everybody Will Fly and Clerks Will Soar to Their Work Through the Air, Says Aero Head, Who Ought to Know What is Going to Come Off in the Sky.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.
Staff Special.

New York, Aug. 29.—The airplane is going to become as common as the automobile. Winged jitneys will be on every day sight. The tremendous development of flying brought about by the war is going to revolutionize travel when peace comes. The training of hundreds of thousands of airmen will populate the air lanes with "air limousines," "air boats," "winged lizzies" and "air jitneys."

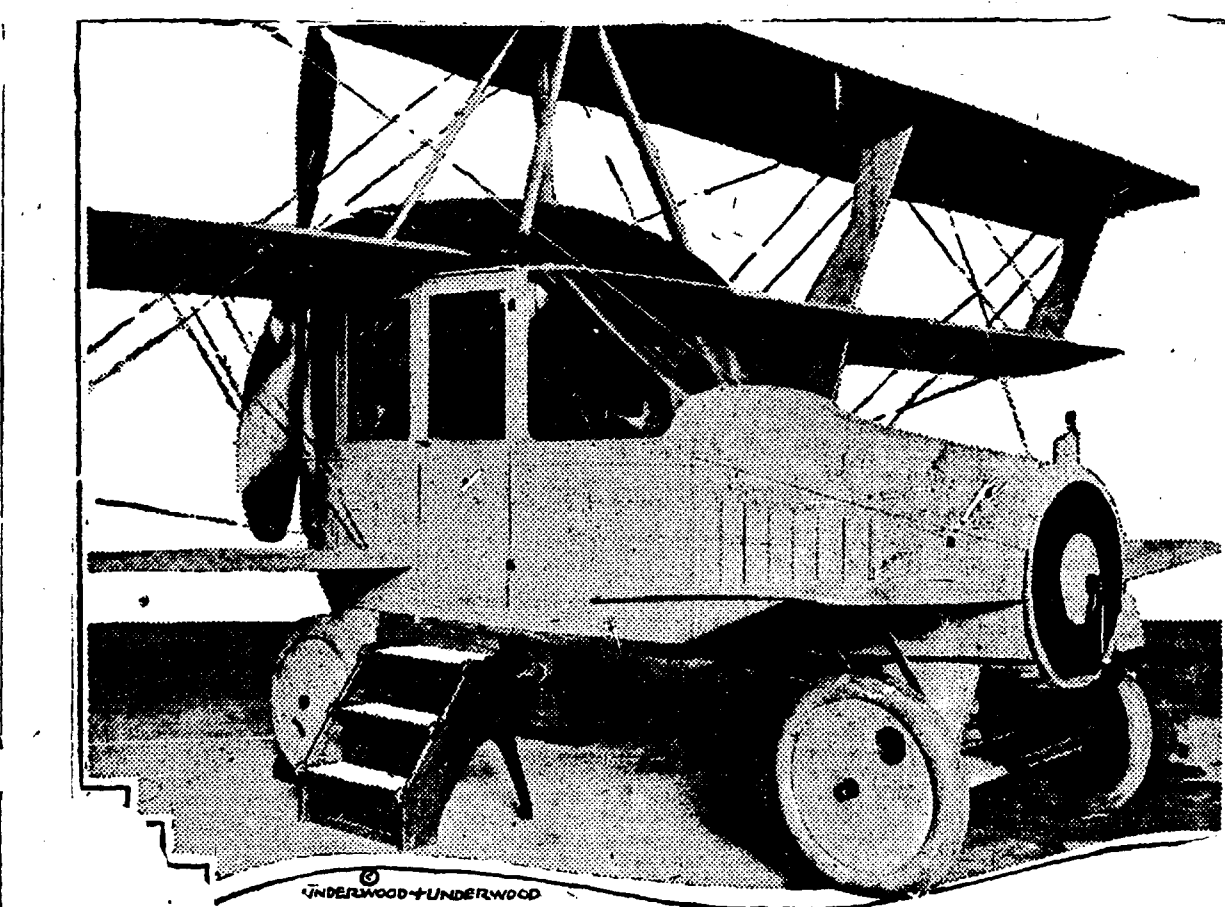

This is the conclusion I draw from a talk with Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero club of America, first to come to the aid of the government when war made necessary the sudden expansion of the airplane forces.

"Certainly we will have the 'air jitney' after the war," said Hawley. "Before the war, aeronautics was looked upon as at best only an expensive sport, with no real utilitarian purpose. Few believed in the future of the airplane as a commercial carrier, or a weapon of war."

Now Hawley is looking forward to the time when the bank clerk or small farmer can lead his little tin air-lizze out of the hangar in the attic and rattle away, kicking up a little cloud-dust in the faces of the aristocratic occupants of some more pretentious air-limousines.

"The war," he went on, "has taught everybody the utility of aircraft. We are going to use the air much more than we ever dreamed of before the intensive development caused by the war."

"The British government, for instance, spent $575,000,000 last year for aeronautics and is spending about one billion dollars this year. Our own government has appropriated $720,000,000 for aeronautics, nearly $350,000,000 to go into the actual manufacture of aircraft. That means approximately 10,000 planes this year. England is turning out about 40,000, and the other allies almost as many.

COMBINED AUTO AND AIR-JITNEY OF THE TYPE THAT WILL CONGEST TRAFFIC AFTER THE WAR, ACCORDING TO AERO HEADS.

"Great Britain has about 500,000 aviators, pilots, operators, mechanics and assistants. We will train 10,000 aviators this year, but the numbers in all the nations will be rapidly increased.

"When the war ends there will be not only a tremendous number of serviceable aircraft of all kinds but also a large number of thoroughly trained aviators—and, of course, a vast factory equipment."

"None of this will be junked you may be sure. A certain proportion of the equipment and men will be kept in military service, but there will be a tremendous number of men available as commercial aircraft pilots.

"Of course air mail routes will be established. Our own post office has plans already drawn for over 200 such routes."

"As to the private use of planes it goes without saying very many men will have their private machines."

"As a matter of fact, the 'jitney air-bus,' or rather 'air limousine,' if I may coin the term, is nothing new. At the First Pan-American Aeronautic exposition here in February, the Curtiss people exhibited an 'autoplane' with fuselage constructed exactly on the automobile type, the motor located in the forward part of the machine as in automobile practice, four wheels on the car, and with a wing span of forty feet. This machine, with its glass enclosed body, is an ideal pleasure car for running around in the air.

"If we are inclined to minimize its possibilities, we ought not to forget that the first 'horseless carriage' excited the same kind of surprise and the same predictions that it was merely a rich man's fad. Some Henry Ford of the aeronautical world will get the price down where almost anybody will be able to have his private air-car."

ROMP DAY POSTPONED UNTIL THURSDAY

On account of the long continued rain the grounds at Robison park are too wet and as a result Manager C. H. If the rain continues the big children's celebration, which is looked forward to with great expectancy from year to year, will be held on Saturday.

One per cent on September 6, 7, 8 and 9. No traffic arrangements necessary. "Practically all that will be ordinarily necessary is for local boards to select their men, and then for duty provide for their subsistence, lodging and transportation and dispatch them by shortest routes practicable to mobilization camp."

Will Meet Tonight.
It is presumed that the various boards in the city as well as the country will meet Wednesday evening to make the selection of the first contingent and will arrange for the dates of their departure. The boards will finish this part of their work as soon as possible in order that the men who will go have sufficient time to make arrangements for the departure.

The minimum amount of baggage will be allowed the men who leave for the camp at Louisville, and no suit cases are to be allowed. It is the plan to have the men leave with but a small roll and to wear civilian clothes which can be discarded without great loss. The men will have to dispose of their clothes at the camp either by giving them away, selling them or sending them back home.

The articles which the men should take with them are: Two towels, (cotton bath towels about three feet long), soap, comb, toothbrush and powder, small mirror, razor, shaving outfit, extra pair of hose, extra suit of underwear and several handkerchiefs.

The board in the first district will not be in a position to disburse the names of the men in their district who have been certified for service until the state district board has approved the list. This will require at least two or three days.

The country district board is still examining and passing upon exemption claims. Evidence is given that more men will have to be summoned for examination.

Appeal Board Findings.
Results of the examination of the appeals by the district board follows:

asks the professor, "why all this unprecedented apparatus of a joint committee of the reichstag and bundesrat to assist the chancellor in drawing up a simple answer to the pope's proposal of peace on that basis?"

Is Not Trusted.
The truth is, says Prof. Delbrueck, that Dr. Michaelis does not enjoy the confidence of the reichstag. He could not possibly do so, the writer adds, after last week's events in the reichstag main committee and his tacit submission to the assertion that he is in reality opposed to the resolution. Neither the German nation or the world knows what the chancellor's policy is.

The reichstag's resolution, Prof. Delbrueck concludes, would have had a different effect if it was not believed abroad the reichstag is powerless and that the chancellor is double tongued.

In his speech in the house of commons on July 26, former Premier Asquith asked if Germany was prepared to evacuate Belgium, to make reparation and to restore absolute independence to Belgium. He said he would like to know the German answer to these questions.

REACTIONARY DEMAND.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—The Staats Zeitung of Munich, the organ of the Bavarian government, publishes a Berlin communication against the introduction of a parliamentary regime in Germany as opposed to the federative character of the empire. The Staats Zeitung declares that all the federal states share the view expressed by the centrist speaker in the reichstag, who said that his party welcomed the chancellor's intention to bring about closer relations between the government and parliament but it must reject any tampering with the federative character of the empire and the rights of the federal states. The articles say that the reichstag in its present form, although without the right of parliamentary domination, has met all patriotic requirements completely and more satisfactorily than the British and French parliaments have met the needs of their countries.

less improved, would cease completely by November. The representatives gave warning that the consequences would be terrible both at home and on the front, and that the army might turn on the country and commit unexampled excesses.

The extreme demands of the railway workers, the speaker said, played an important part in this disorganization. They called on all those engaged in the transport services to sacrifice personal interests for those of the country. M. Gruenberg, speaking as the representative of the Jews, said that they loved their country notwithstanding their unprejudiced persecution under the old regime and had contributed greatly to the emancipation of the people and the defense against the enemy. Representatives of Ukraine and of western or White Russia, said the people were ready to make any sacrifices for the good of the country. The spokesman for the Letts declared Courland would never belong to Germany. Delegates representing the Musselman alliance said all Musselman citizens of Russia fully supported the provisional government.

Gen. Grouzloff, former military governor of Moscow, told the delegates the chief problem was to save Russia from the enemy and that to this end it was necessary to re-establish army discipline by eliminating politics, the authority of the officers, the leaders, limiting the power of soldiers' committee to economic unions and giving the commander-in-chief opportunity to exercise unreserved authority.

LEADEPS FOR WAR.

Moscow, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—Russia must continue the war, and everything possible must be done to strengthen the provisional government. Leaders of all the most influential parties in Russia united in these declarations at the national conference here today.

The declaration followed a remarkable and dramatic speech by Gen. Korniloff, commander in chief of the Russian armies, who said restoration of the death penalty, stern discipline, and unlimited supplies were necessary to restore morale and fighting spirit in the armies.

RUSSIA THANKS WILSON.

Paris, Aug. 29.—A Havas dispatch from Moscow says that after Premier Kerensky had read President Wilson's message of greeting to the national conference, he said he had instructed the minister of foreign affairs, M. Terestchenko, to inform the American ambassador, David R. Francis, of the feelings of gratitude which the president's telegram had inspired among the delegates to the conference. This statement of the premier was cheered enthusiastically.

GERMANY DENIES IT.

Berlin, Tuesday, Aug. 28.—Via London.—The newspapers denounce a wholly false reference made by Premier Kerensky, in addressing the Moscow conference, to a recent offer of a separate peace. Nothing is known of such a move in any official quarters.

RECORD PRICE FOR A RAM.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 29.—What is said to be the highest price in the United States for a ram was paid at public auction was paid for a thoroughbred at the second annual sale conducted under the auspices of the National Wool Growers' association, which is in session here today. The ram brought $1,500 and four hundred and twenty-two sheep were sold for a total of $45,000.

MONSIGNOR KENNEDY PASSES AWAY IN ROME

American Prelate Long the Head of American College There.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Monsignor Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American college in Rome, is dead after a long illness.

In 1914 Monsignor Kennedy became ill and although he recovered temporarily, his health failed gradually and a year ago he was reported to be in a serious condition. In May of last year Pope Benedict appointed Monsignor Charles A. O'Hern, vice-regent of the American college in Rome, as coadjutor to Monsignor Kennedy, with the right to succeed to the rectorship. Monsignor Kennedy was a native of Pennsylvania and had been in charge of the American college since 1901. He was appointed titular bishop of Adrianople in 1907 and titular archbishop of St. Lucia de Isernia in 1915. He was spoken of at various times as a possible addition to the list of American cardinals, but was said to have been retained in Rome at his own request.

ports that strong Japanese forces have been concentrated in Manchuria are given currency in Bavaria by the Neue Nachrichten of Munich, which also speculates on the possibility of transporting such troops to the Russian front as before. It says, such an operation would require a long time, but the situation has been changed greatly, America and Japan having laid new tracks and made great improvements in the rolling stock.

yesterday on the southern Rumanian front, the Austro-German troops pushing northeastward toward the Oenapintz railway. The lines were still yielding last night in the Varnitza region.

Stormy weather apparently is preventing any notable military activities on the Franco-British front. The British, after completing their successful operation of Monday near Langemarck in which they pushed forward a considerable distance along a front of more than a mile, contented themselves last night with clearing out a German advance position in front of the new British line.

In other sectors the British carried out successful raids capturing prisoners. Apparently there is also a halt in major activities along the French front in the Verdun region, and in the great campaign which General Cadorna is waging on the Isonzo front against the Austrians.

WILSON NOTE IS APPROVED

with the council's activities. At the request of the representatives of the Indiana civil and commercial interests the council named a special committee consisting of A. W. Brady, A. E. Reynolds and James L. Keach to pass upon the military necessity of a new highway from Indianapolis to Port Benjamin Harrison, made to the construction of which recently were held illegal, and which bonds probably will be underwritten by state capitalists and afterward validated by act of the legislature.

Milk Famine May Come.

Dr. H. E. Barnard, food commissioner of the state under National Administrator Herbert C. Hoover, informed the council that the situation in Indiana, in reference to dairy cows, was very serious. He confirmed the opinion expressed to the council that because of the high price of feed and of beef, there is real danger of a milk famine. He added that the authorities were giving the matter consideration and probably would ask the council to make the same kind of an appeal to the dairy men to keep their cows, and he hoped the farmer would increase his crop production, relying upon his patriotism to bear a financial loss, if necessary, until there can be a readjustment.

That the federal program of rushing coal to the northwest to supply an "assumed coal shortage," is an action that may react upon Indiana, was the assertion of Will J. Freeman, of the coal production committee of the council.

BOSS MILLER ABOUT READY

Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, West Virginia, western New York and western Pennsylvania. Members of the organization will comprise 200 employees, including expert accountants, traveling auditors and stenographers.

The district includes most of the red wheat belt and one-fourth of the flour production of the United States. It will allot the quota of flour for export. The work will be financed by assessment of one cent a barrel on the flour output.

Memel has served two terms as president of the National Millers' association.

OHIO COAL RATE RAISED.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Effective tomorrow Ohio railroads will put into effect a 15 cents per ton horizontal increase in coal rates in this state, according to an announcement made today by the state public utilities commission. The increased tariffs were filed some time ago and were suspended once or twice pending hearings before the commission. The utilities commission announced the new tariffs would become effective "without a moment's delay."

NATION HAILS WILSON NOTE

Telegrams of Approval Are Pouring Into White
House to Him.

REJECTION OF THE PROPOSALS LIKED
Note to Pope Benedict an Appeal to the People
of Germany.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Telegrams from all parts of the country began to pour into the white house today approving President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals. Upon motion of Senator Brady, who characterized it as a last farewell to the autocracy of the world, President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposals was ordered printed today in the Congressional record. While it rejects the pope's proposals, said he, "it points the way to peace in an honorable manner."

Chairman Stone, of the foreign relations committee made this comment: "The note was just what I expected it would be. It was a strong note as are all notes of the president."

"It was a very good note," said Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, ranking republican of the committee. Mr. Freeman said: "While there may be a gap in the coal supply there, they are simply making another gap here in order to fill it." Mr. Freeman said the supply of cars to Indiana coal mines has been consistently lower than the supply to the mines of other coal producing states.

James L. Keach said the only solution of the problem of high prices of food was the education of the people to consume "highly perishable foods."

He said this was the basis of the Hoover food control program. That shippers should be urged to anticipate their needs to avoid the congestion of transportation that will come with the military demands of the next two months, was recommended by A. E. Arnold, of the transportation committee.

The council adopted a resolution expressing its sympathy for Governor James P. Goodrich in his present illness and a hope for his speedy recovery.

APPEALS TO GERMAN PEOPLE.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's note rejecting the pope's peace proposals was regarded here today as finally settling the question of dealing with present German rulers unconquered of uncured at home.

The president makes it clear that a lasting and durable peace can be negotiated only on a complete understanding with the German people and not alone on unstable guarantees of the existing German government.

The note indicates that the American government does not intend post-bellum reprisals on the German people but desires in the interests of world peace that they be allowed to share in international economic opportunities "if they will accept equality and not seek domination."

The note with its unequivocal denunciation of German military autocracy is believed to reflect accurately the attitude of the allied governments. The general tenor of the communication had been anticipated, but diplomats were surprised to find in it a virtual appeal to the German people to strive for emancipation from military control and become fitted to deal with a world democracy.

Among other objections to a premature peace the note indicates that it would result in the abandonment of "a new born Russia to the intrigue, the manifold, subtle interference and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world."

FIVE BURN TO DEATH.

EARL GREY IS DEAD.

London, Aug. 29.—Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, died at 6 o'clock this morning at Howick house, Northumberland, after a long illness. The funeral will be held at Howick on Saturday when a memorial service will be held in London.

WAS IN U-BOAT SINKING.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 29.—Wray Barker, the Lafayette boy who was captain of the naval gun crew on the Campania, sunk by a German submarine 125 miles from the coast of France on August 6, arrived here today for a visit with relatives. He gave an interesting account of his experiences with the U-boat. He will remain here for a few days.

RECEIPTS CONTINUE LIGHT ON LOCAL MART

Eggs and Poultry Are Strong
Features of Price Quotations.

Threatening weather continues to keep farmers away from the local markets with their produce and receipts are the lightest that have been recorded in many years. PEACE MUST BRING SECURITY

President Wilson, Replying to Pope Benedict's Note Appealing for War's End, Says Battle of Democracy Against Tyranny Must Go On to a Victory for Rights of World's Free Peoples.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—President Wilson's message, replying to Pope Benedict's peace appeal and stating why the United States must continue the war until the world is freed of Prussianism, signed by Secretary Lansing, and delivered at the Vatican yesterday, follows:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27, 1917.—To His Holiness, Benedictus XV., Pope: In acknowledgment of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated Aug. 1, 1917, the president of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of his holiness, the pope; must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it, and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Must Insure Against Renewal of Great War."

"Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be zone through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

"His holiness, in substance, proposes that we return to the status quo ante bellum, and that they there be a general, condonation, disarmament, and a concert of nations based upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established, and that the territorial claims of France and the Balkan states, and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible in the new temper of such a peace, due regard being paid to the aspirations of the people whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved.

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restitution of the status quo ante bellum is a firm and satisfactory basis for it.

"The object of this war is to deliver the peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established principles of international action and honor, which chose its own time for war, delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless of the poor—and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world.

Militarism is Ruthless Master of German People.

"This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purpose, but it is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling. "To do this, with such a power by way of his holiness, the pope, would, so far as we can see, involve a recuperation of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people, who are its instruments, and would result in abandoning the new born Russia to the intrigue, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world.

America is Making War Without Desire for Gain.

"Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation? "Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restriction meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury.

"The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the Imperial German government, but they desire no reprisal upon the German people, who have themselves suffered all things in this war, which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of governments—the rights of peoples, great or small, weak or powerful—their equal right to freedom and security and self-government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world—the German people of course included, if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

Battle of Royal Intrigue Against Right of People.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this. Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved, or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing government, on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples, on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied.

"The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furious and brutal power of the Imperial German government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty, both of those that are weak and of those that are strong. Indemnity for Punishment Held Worse Than Futility.

"Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. "We must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting.

Must Wait Until Germany Shall State Exact Terms.

"Without such guarantees treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmament, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on.

"We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the central powers.

"God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations and the possibility of a covenanted peace."

ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State of the United States of America.

BRANCH OPENS HERE SEPT. 24

Prof. F. W. Shockley Takes

Up Office in the Court House.

WILL BE PART OF

STATE UNIVERSITY

Classes Will Meet During

Afternoons and Evenings

Until June.

Prof. F. W. Shockley has brought the spirit of the state university to Fort Wayne. He is establishing the second Indiana university extension center, to be tried out in the state, in the heart of the city.

The chimes will ring on Sept. 24 for the miniature university. Classes will meet during the afternoons and evenings from that date until the first of June. Regular college work will be given. Professors will come here from Indiana university and possibly other colleges to conduct classes.

The center has been established on the third floor of the county court house. Miss Esther Schild, a graduate of the Fort Wayne high school, is the office secretary. There will be a bulletin published in a few days which will outline the courses of the little university.

Prof. Shockley, who is to be in charge of the branch college, is one of the able men of Indiana university. He was at the head of the public schools in Shawnee, Okla., for a time. He has been picked by the university authorities as the best fitted of many candidates for the place of conducting the Fort Wayne extension center.

The following comment is made by Dr. Shockley on the Fort Wayne extension movement.

"There has been a growing demand for facilities of a university here in Fort Wayne. Ever since a center was established at Indianapolis in 1915, those interested in education have hoped that Fort Wayne might be the second city to have a branch of the state university. The Commercial club and the school board have taken a leading part in securing the center.

"The chief function of university extension work is to carry the university to the people, to serve students who find it impossible to leave home and attend college. This training should appeal first to men and women who have only a limited amount of time for study and who wish to pursue subjects of college grade solely for cultural values, second, to those who realize the value of the training as a business or vocational asset; and third, to properly qualified persons who wish to work toward a degree."

AT THE MAJESTIC

"Dew Drop Inn" Tonight.

(From C. H. Brown.)

Myron B. Rice has been especially fortunate in casting his new musical comedy, "Dew Drop Inn," which he will present at the Majestic theater tonight. In the big organization, which numbers half a hundred people, will be found Arthur Aylsworth, one of the younger generation of comedians who have made names for themselves. Aylsworth will play the part of "Jack" in "Dew Drop Inn," a happy-go-lucky individual, who seizes opportunity by the forelock, as it were, and makes the old turn-down hotel a roaring success under the new name of "Dew Drop Inn." Arthur Aylsworth has played many parts in his brief career, but to every theatergoer he will always be identified as the fresh hotel clerk in "Overnight," later on the musical comedy success, "Very Good, Eddie."

The composer of "Dew Drop Inn" has given Aylsworth one of the song hits of the show, "That Wonderful Girl," which should sweep the country as soon as it has been heard to any extent. This comedian has his good angel to thank for landing him in a good berth, and that at a time when the coin of the realm was greatly needed.

"The 13th Chair" Thursday and Friday. No play that will visit this city this season can be expected to arouse more enthusiastic interest than this latest triumph from the pen of the man who also gave the stage "Within the Law."

Among its virtues it numbers that indefinable quality of creating within every one who sees it the desire also to have their friends see it. As a result there is no community in the country in which there are not at least a few persons who, having had the good fortune to witness "The 13th Chair" during visits to New York, have talked about it to their neighbors in most commendatory fashion. This endorsement of the claims made for the piece by its producer, by the recommendation of friends, has created a most unusual amount of anticipatory interest which has been emphatically manifested since the first announcement was made of the coming of the piece at the Majestic tomorrow and Friday evening.

A specially selected company which is led by Annie Russell will perform the piece here. In choosing every other one of the sixteen members of the cast Mr. Harris exercised as much care as is shown in his selection of a leading woman.

ROMP DAY POSTPONED Until tomorrow. If the rain continues tomorrow the fete will be held Saturday.

Mrs. Florence Herman Will Probably Recover from

Bi-Chloride Poison.

Efforts of Mrs. Florence Herman, 444 Wallace street, to take her own life Tuesday night, were of no avail, as it is reported that she is resting easily today and has a good chance for recovery.

Mrs. Herman attempted to end her life by taking a bi-chloride of mercury tablets. The reason given is that she had been quarreling with her husband of late, according to the statement of neighbors. Other members of the family did not know of her intentions until attracted by her cries.

Although the drug is usually a deadly one, the fact that vomiting was induced immediately will probably save the woman's life. Dr. A. J. Kessler was called and the police patrol summoned. Antidotes were administered and the woman was soon out of immediate danger.

RECONSIDERING CLAIMS REFUSED TO WEDDED MEN

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—The third district appeal board, considering exemption claims, refused by division boards, or for industrial reasons, is not in session here today. It adjourned last night until Monday. Reason for the adjournment was so many requests from division boards for permission to reconsider previous decisions regarding exemption claims refused married men. The local division boards asked to be allowed to reconsider many of their cases because of the recent supplementary rulings from Washington concerning matters of dependency.

HIGHER GAS RATES ARE AUTHORIZED IN CITIES OF INDIANA

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 29.—The public service commission of Indiana has granted the petition of the Central Indiana Gas company for an increase in rates for mixed gas, effective October 1. The increase amounts to ten per cent. and will affect Marion, Anderson, Alexandria and Elwood.

Last winter the customers of the Central Indiana Gas company suffered severely on account of gas shortage and immediately plans were made for mixture of the West Virginia natural gas, which formerly supplied these cities, and artificial gas made by the Indiana corporation. In its petition to the public service commission the company stated that the reconstruction of the artificial gas plants would cost approximately $142,000. By the increase granted, gas rates in the cities affected will be raised from eighty cents per 1,000 cubic feet to ninety cents for the first 1,000 and the remainder of the new schedule ranges from 75 cents net to 25 cents a thousand cubic feet. The low figure is for gas users in excess of 2,000,000 cubic feet a month.

TO PICK THE FIVE PER CENT

Boards Receive Instruction as to Selection of First Contingent.

BUT ONE PER CENT TO LEAVE SEPTEMBER 5

List of Articles Which Men
Will Be Allowed to Take
Are Announced.

Instructions as to the selection of the first five per cent of the first national arm from Fort Wayne have been received by the local boards.

The first five per cent will be composed of men with previous military experience, cooks and bakers. Only one per cent of this number will leave on September 5, and one per cent each succeeding day.

The instructions verbally are as follows: The object of calling five per cent is to place in the camps enough men to form a skeleton organization to assist in receiving and assembling the larger contingents. For this reason it is required that local boards send only white men and as far as practicable, men with previous military experience or cooks. In making this selection order numbers are not controlling but great care must be taken not to send men who will not be within the quota of the boards.

"In order not to congest traffic, one per cent will leave on September 5."

SERIOUS RIOTS HAVE OCCURRED IN FINNISH CITY

London, Aug. 29.—Serious rioting at Bjornborg, Finland, is reported in a private telegram from Haparanda to Copenhagen, forwarded by the Central News to London. It is said fighting between Finns and soldiers of the Russian garrison lasted for several hours, and that a number of persons were killed or wounded.

This is the day set for reassembling of the Finnish landing in defiance of the dissolution order of the provisional Russian government. In his address at the opening of the Moscow conference Premier Kerensky gave warning that the government would prevent by force reopening of the diet and the carrying out of the plan for a separation of Finland from Russia.

RUSS MINISTER OF WAR ALWAYS LOAFED ON JOB

Petrograd, Aug. 29.—Gen. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, scarcely gave any thought to the conduct of the war, Gen. A. P. Vernander, former assistant minister of war, declared yesterday at the trial of Gen. Soukhomlinoff for high treason. The war minister, Gen. Vernander said, paid no heed to the equipment of the army and gave no contracts to workshops and factories which manufactured munitions. As a result he testified the munition production progressed haltingly and after 130 days of war the Russian army was without shells. Gen. Vernander succeeded Gen. Soukhomlinoff temporarily as minister of war.

ITALIAN AIRMAN FLIES 900 MILES WITHOUT A STOP

Paris, Aug. 29.—Captain Guilio Laureani, an aviator in the Italian army has established a new world's long distance flying record by flying more than 900 miles without stopping, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Milan. The Italian flew from Turin to Naples and return a distance of 920 miles as the crow flies. Captain Laureani used a new S. I. A. machine. He left Turin at 10:07 a. m. reached Naples, flew over that city and was back in Turin at 8:40 p. m.

The previous long distance non-stop flight record was held by Second Lieutenant Antoine Marchal, a French aviator. In June 1915 Marchal flew from Nancy, France, to near Chelm, Russian Poland, about 808 miles. During the flight Lieut. Marchal dropped proclamations on Berlin. He was made prisoner by the Austrians at Chelm and interned.

The American long distance non-stop record is held by Miss Ruth Law, who flew 590 miles from Chicago to Hornell, N. Y., on Nov. 19, 1916. Her elapsed time was 5 hours and 45 minutes.

Questions His Good Faith in
gram of Reichstag.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—Attacks upon Imperial Chancellor Michaelis continue and Prof. Hans Delbrueck now asks the chancellor an embarrassing question concerning peace. In the Prussian year book, Prof. Delbrueck inquires of Dr. Michaelis why, if he really accepts the reichstag resolutions as the basis of his policy, he neglects to answer the inquiry made on July 28 in the English house of commons by former Premier Asquith regarding Germany's readiness to evacuate and restore Belgium.

Good Faith Questioned.
Prof. Delbrueck, who openly questions the good faith of the chancellor in professing to agree with the terms of the resolution, asks whether his silence in the face of Mr. Asquith's summons does not show that those are right who insist that Dr. Michaelis takes another standpoint from that contained in the resolution.

"If the German government is ready to conclude a peace upon the basis of no annexation and no indemnities,"

REDS MUST GET BAIL OR RETURN TO FEDERAL PEN

New York, Aug. 29.—Alexander Berkman, editor of The Blast; Louis Kramer and Morris Becker, who recently were convicted of conspiracy to obstruct the working of the selective draft law, will be returned to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta within a week unless they furnish the amount of bail necessary for their liberty, pending the appeal of their cases. Berkman's bail has been fixed at $25,000, the same amount under which Emma Goldman, convicted at the same time for the same offense, is now out on bail. Berkman, it was said, is afraid of being arrested, if released on bail, and returned to San Francisco, where he is under indictment in connection with the preparedness day explosion which killed ten people last year. Kramer and Becker, it is said, prefer the Tombs to freedom, as they expect to be seized by the immigration authorities as undesirable aliens, if released.

THE HOOKS FOR CHICAGO'S OWN MAYOR BIG BILL

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Mayor William Hale Thompson was not re-elected as a member of the general committee of the Chicago branch of the National Security league when officers of the organization were chosen yesterday.

The nominating committee did not include Mr. Thompson's name because it was considered that the war policies he has expressed are not in accord with the policies of the National Security league," said H. E. Merrick, active president of the Chicago branch.

GERMANY MUCH FUSSED UP BY KERENSKY HIT

Amsterdam, Aug. 29.—The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung attacks Premier Kerensky for his remarks in reference to offers of a separate peace made before the Moscow conference on Sunday. The newspaper says: "Premier Kerensky falsely attributed to us without proof efforts toward an offer of a separate peace. What Germany can do to pave the way to peace already has been done, but from Russia, where the peace movement originated, the echo came, back dictated by Lloyd-George, Poincare and President Wilson, destroying all the efforts of the Russian democracy."

"It is reported, moreover, that the revolutionary Russian government again is fixing its mind on the possession of Constantinople."

Summary of the Day's War News

While Russian leaders are debating at Moscow with divided opinions as to the best steps to take for saving the country from threatened disaster within and without, the Russian armies continue to show pitiful weakness at critical points.

The latest break in the line through disaffection among the troops occurred on the southern Rumanian front where the Austro-German armies are menacing Moldavia with the fate of Wallachia, overrun in the great Teutonic-Bulgarian drive of last year.

In the Fokshani region, a Russian division abandoned its positions and fled in disorder. This facilitated a Teutonic advance that continued all day

CITY TAXES NOT RAISED

Levy Will Remain at $1.16 for Another Year, Council Says.

POLICE AND FIREMEN GET INCREASE OF $5

Sinclair Oil Company is Allowed to Bring Tanks Into City.

The city tax levy will remain at $1.16 for another year. There will be $7,817 cut from the present garbage disposal bill.

Police and firemen, who are now getting less than $100 a month, will be paid $5 more per month after January 1.

The Sinclair Oil company is given the right to bring their storage tanks in the city, providing the big containers are buried underground.

These were the principal acts of the common council, which met twice on Tuesday evening, once as a committee of the whole, and later as the council body. The session dragged over three hours with here and there a touch of animation.

Councilman G. F. Rogge caused the first bit of turbulence when he objected to the action of the large committee in giving common firemen a raise of $5 and holding engineers down to an increase of $2.50. The engineers will now get $100 while other laddies receive $90.

"Why make goats of the engineers?" queried Councilman Rogge in a heated address. "They should have a $5 raise along with the other men. Why you are discriminating between the firemen is a mystery to me. I cannot understand it. I will never forget it."

Four councilmen answered the speech.

Taxed to the Limit. William Bayer, president of the council, explained that the budget had been taxed to the limit if the tax levy was to remain at its present figure.

"We have worked hard on the budget. We wrestled with the numbers this afternoon, and up until 6:30 o'clock tonight without any supper," explained President Bayer, in referring to the budget committee.

Councilman A. L. Keller stated that the salary was a matter of giving the men a living wage. He thinks fire engineers are getting enough to live on now.

"I know that $300 more would make little difference and there ought to be that distinction," said Councilman Rogge.

At the end of the committee session Councilman Rogge left the assembly room and did not return until the council session proper was well under way.

Quite an Audience. The council chamber was dotted with blue uniforms. Policemen's stars were in evidence. More than a score of firemen were at the meeting to learn the outcome of their prayer for more money.

There were several attorneys present to speak in behalf of the allowing of the Sinclair company to come within the city with its storage tanks and a crowd of Eighth ward citizens were there to talk against the measure.

Councilman Bayer and Olenlock had allowed the council meeting to break in upon their vacations. The president, who has missed but two council sessions in four years, and thus because of city missions out of town, had returned from Clear Lake to preside over the gathering. Councilman Olenlock, who is spending his vacation at Lake George, had motored back for the session.

Keep Levy Down. Councilmen agreed that the tax levy should not be raised. They voted with one accord to accept the report of the special council committee, made up of Councilmen Bayer, Hartman, Keller and Schlebecker, and which reported the following figures for the tax levy next year:

Cut All Along Line. There was a pruning all along the line of the city departments. The biggest cut came in the garbage disposal realm, where $7,817 was lopped off with councilmen registering joy.

The committee report in detail follows: "As to the $3,500 recommendation for the completion of engine house No. 9 the committee recommends that there be but $3,000 appropriated for that purpose.

"As to the disposal of garbage the committee has been informed by the board of public works of the city that a proposition has been made by the Fort Wayne Rendering company which will probably be accepted by the board, and the contract therefor referred to the council, whereby the said company will take care of the disposal of garbage after the collection of the same by the city and we, therefore, advise the following items under disposal of garbage under the heading of board of public works be eliminated:

Oil, gasoline and repairs to garbage patrol.....	125.00

Total.....$7,817.00

"In the matter of public lights under the heading of board of public works, after conferring with the board we ascertained that $57,000 would be sufficient for all of the now existing lights for next year, and that $1,000 in addition thereto would permit of the installation of from twenty-five to thirty-five new lights during the next year, we recommend that the mayor's recommendation of $53,000 be concurred in.

"As to the mayor's recommendation that the sum of $700 in lieu of $1,000 for new boxes and materials under fire force accounts of the board of safety, we ascertained the necessity for new boxes and believe that the comptroller's recommendation of $1,000 be concurred in.

"As to the police and fire pay roll accounts we recommend that there be included in these accounts a $5 increase per month for each member of the departments now receiving less than $100 per month, excepting engineers, for whom were recommended an increase of $2.50 per month, and the engineer called "the master mechanic" an increase of $5 per month.

Public Lights. "That the amount hereof be changed from $60,000 to $58,000.

Department of Public Safety. "Fire Force Account—That the item 'new boxes and materials' in the sum of $1,000.00 as recommended by the comptroller be concurred in.

"That the item 'bedding, linen, etc.' in the sum of $600.00 be reduced from $600.00 to $500.00.

"That the item 'grain and hay' be increased from $3,000.00 as revised by the comptroller to $4,000.00, as recommended by the mayor because of the "Fire Force Pay Roll—That the item 'salary linemen' be increased from $1,020.00 to $1,080.00.

"That the item 'master mechanic' be changed from $1,200.00 to $1,260.00.

"That the item 'mine engineers' be increased from the sum of $10,580.00 to the sum of $10,800.00.

"That the item 'lieutenant (1)' in the sum of $1,060.00 be increased to $1,110.00.

"That the item 'houseman (3)' be increased from $2,730.00 to $2,970.00.

"Fuel Station Account—That the item 'rebuilding or rewiring system' be eliminated.

"That the item 'repairs to two patrol wagons' be reduced from $1,000.00 to $800.00.

"That the item 'telephone and telegraph' be reduced from $300.00 to $250.00.

"That the item 'one new motor' in the sum of $350.00 be eliminated.

"Police Pay Roll—That the item 'salary, lieutenants' be increased from $1,200.00 to $1,260.00.

"That the item 'salary, sergeants (3)' be increased from $3,420 to $3,600.00.

"That the item 'salary, detectives (6)' be increased from $6,840.00 to $7,200.00.

"That the item 'salary, patrolmen (59)' be increased from $60,180.00 to $63,720.00.

"That the item 'police matron' be increased from $780.00 to the sum of $840.00.

"That the item 'new patrolmen (6)' in the sum of $5,580.00 be eliminated.

Park Department. "Improvement and Betterments—That the item 'new green houses' in the sum of $4,000.00 be eliminated.

"Your committee further reports that with the reduction of $4,000.00 in the department of public works it leaves but $26,285.00 as the amount appropriated for general expenses. A levy of .064 will provide this money and leave approximately $60,000 to provide for delinquencies in tax collections. Adding to the general levy of .064 the one-half cent levy for band music would make the total park levy .069, a reduction of .021 in that levy from former years."

Tanks Come In. The council divided itself on the matter of allowing the Sinclair Oil company to bring its tanks within the city limits. Councilmen Korte and Keller spoke in bitter terms against the proposal to place the battery of containers along the Wabash railroad.

A Fourth of July celebration, in which the exploding gasoline tanks are to furnish the violence and the Eighth ward is to be wrecked, was predicted. Two citizens from the ward opposed the measure.

The ordinance to allow the tanks to enter was passed by a vote of nine to four.

An ordinance appropriating $4,500 for the enlargement of the Spy Run retaining wall from State street to the Centerville brewery was passed. The contract for the wall has already been let by the board of works.

There will be a special session of the council on Wednesday evening to ratify the contract between the Fort Wayne Refining company and the city in the matter of garbage disposal.

WEYBRIGHT FAMILY

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Annual Reunion is Held at the Home of W. H. Weybright, East of Tunker.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Columbia City, Aug. 29.—At the reunion of the Weybright families held at the home of W. H. Weybright, east of Tunker, with over 200 relatives present, the following officers were elected for the year: Daniel Stevens, president; George Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Belle Miller, secretary; John Faudree and family and Ed Purnin and family, of Fort Wayne, were present from a distance, as well as several from Elkhart and Gary.

Columbia City Short Notes. Attorney Joseph R. Harrison has received a letter from his son, First Lieutenant Ray P. Harrison, with Pershing's forces in France, in which the young man states he is at present taking instructions in machine gun work. He says the French officers take up all the time between 11 and 1 o'clock every day, consuming their eight-course luncheons, and that they are very genial and warm-hearted toward the Sammlies.

A family reunion will be held Sunday at the John Swigart home on the banks of Troy Cedar lake, and Benton J. Bloom, of Columbia City, will deliver an address and sing several tenor numbers.

Adam Runyore, of the Auto Inn garage, had his right hand badly bruised when a machine he was cranking back-fired Monday evening. The bone of the shoulder is recovering from a fracture received two weeks ago in a fall. He is now unable to work.

Advertising in The Sentinel Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

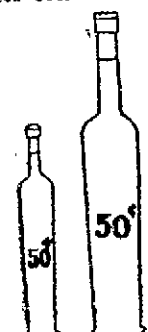

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.

FLIRTING WITH WRATH.

More than casual interest is invited by the statement coming from Indianapolis that Indiana coal operators are flouting the orders of the president fixing coal prices for this state. One large dealer at the capital is reported as being unable to get any Indiana coal concern to fill his orders at the rates fixed in the executive schedule, higher prices being demanded.

If this is an indication of the contempt in which the baronial powers of the coal fields mean to hold the federal regulation of coal prices the sooner the general government undertakes to find out the standing of its authority the better it will be. Having obtained from congress, after much travail, an enactment under which it may exercise authority over coal production and prices, the federal government may hardly in reason be expected to waste much time arguing the question of who's who in the land. The country is at war. Control of fuel has been established by law as a war measure. It will be worth while to learn early in the game if war measures take some degree of precedence over private or corporate interests or whether they are pompous futilities to be jeered and flouted and contemptuously set aside by those who do not fancy the notion of federal interventions.

The country has wholly mistaken the character of Woodrow Wilson if he consent to have himself booted out of the way by the coal barons, the food gamblers, the price-fixers or any elements of the whole train of extortioners against whose rapacities the control laws have been passed. The president who took upon himself the task of leading the country and has become the leader of the world to guide mankind from the bondage of Prussian autocracy quite probably will be equal to the job of scragging a few coal operators in Indiana or places else, wherever the opportunity may earliest come about for the first drastic example.

We frankly doubt that Indiana coal operators have conspired to resist the fuel control enactments. Some of them may merely be flirting with wrath to see what it's going to be like if it should for any reason fall upon them, but that the coal mining interests of the state have cast in their lots together to tell the congress, the president and the people of the United States to run on with their little war and not meddle with the private affairs of the coal business brings a rather absurd picture to the mind's eye.

However, if the Indiana coal barons want to take a whirl at the federal acts, Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Garfield and the people who lawfully inhabit the land, here's wishing them quick returns on the money with which they feed their lawyers. But we shall refuse to believe in such an animal until we behold the fire of its nostrils and hear its bellow. There may be some temporizing with Uncle Sam, but there will be no plucking of his whiskers. Mark that. Because where these control laws came from there are other and worse ones.

A TASK THAT MUST BE COMPLETED.

There must be no moping at the task, no quarreling with the burden, no thought of rest until the job is completed. The world must be made safe for democracy and the guarantees of that safety must be established, not merely stated. Germany has indicated no desire for any sort of peace that is not based upon an assumption of the triumph of her arms. The imperial German government and not the German people plunged the world into the war. The imperial German government and not the German people has made the war frightful with unexampled horrors. The imperial German government and not the German people is bound for a peace that shall secure the fruits for which the war was begun and that can give no security for democratic freedom on the earth. Until Germany shall have instituted a responsible government in the place of the military autocracy that now rules her, there can be no treating with Germany for peace.

Thus President Wilson sets down in his reply to the peace proposals lately put out by Pope Benedict why the United States of America cannot permit itself to trust the present ruling powers in Germany and will be misled into no advancements for a peace until there shall be the possibility and prospect of such a peace as we entered this war to obtain for ourselves and all free peoples. The proposals of Pope Benedict were received with sincerity and respect, were examined in good conscience and are rejected of course with a profound sorrow that they do not offer a way to the enduring peace and security of the world. We doubt not that what the president says in reply in large measure fulfills what Pope Benedict must have apprehended his proposals would evoke, though no shadow of question or aspersion can be cast upon the perfect good faith of the holy father in going as far as it seemed to him reason could go in formulating a tentative program that would enlist common sympathies and kindle mutual hopes in all the belligerent countries. President Wilson sets down that it is as important to consider with whom peace is to be concluded as it is to determine of what settlements the composition is to be made up. In short and in fine, there is no peace with the Hohenzollerns. Prussian militarism cannot be trusted. It cannot be treated with. It cannot be left to menace and soon again to afflict the world with the multiplied horrors of its madness.

In a blistering arraignment of the Hohenzollerns and the military autocracy of Prussia President Wilson again voices the world's fear and the world's resolute purpose to make an end of the bloody business of war wantonly waged by the Hohenzollerns that they may bring the balance of the earth under their yoke. Now that we are in it we cannot do other than to fight on to complete establishment of the things for which the allied democracies of the world are fighting.

History contains the record of no clearer, higher note than is sounded by President Wilson in his reply to Pope Benedict. It not only will further arouse and inspire the people of America for the great work they are in, but it will hearten the embattled democracies for further straining and added sacrifices that the earth may be cleared of monsters in king-guise and the bloody doctrine of might extinguished forever. It will be a fresh and perhaps needed service upon the Prussian dynasty and its military autocracy that the United States has come in fully and resolutely against them, with determination to do what it may fall to the lot of this nation to do that the world may be vouchsafed a peace and order and freedom that henceforth no government shall have the hardihood to break or the power to violate.

General Korniloff makes it clear to the extraordinary council of the new Russian democracy in Moscow that if there is to be anything of Russia worth saving discipline must be restored to the army without fail and without delay. The demoralization of the Slav armies is indicated by General Korniloff to be worse than the news reports had made clear. Almost daily there comes the detail of some body of troops deserting its post without defense; even without waiting to be attacked by the invading foe. Kerensky's "blood and iron" for the army and for all the land besides is quite endorsed by General Korniloff, speaking for the military forces of the country and without exception that they stand together.

The Wilson punch improves in readiness, grace and strength each time it is landed on the kaiser's person. That punch will one of these days land in the precise place created for appreciative reception of such honors and the "Hohenzollerns must go" slogan will go out of business, because the Hohenzollerns will have gone.

Every time some figger sharp in congress gets to trailing his lead pencil around through the war estimates the amount for the first year is boosted about ten billions. Isn't there some way to put an end to pure speculations on the cost? Congress may try to mean what it guesses.

The sailor's yarn that an American ship tossed a floating mine in her wake and let a pursuing German submarine run into it and blow herself may not be entirely evasions as history, but it can be classed as good readin'.

Everything points to a session of congress that will exceed in its invasion of the autumn season the one that made history a year ago. There is not this year a campaign to hasten adjournment and there is no saying how great the excess will be. Whatever it is, it will be enough.

Fixing Prices an Actuality

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Discussion has led up to it so gradually that the radical step just taken by the president of the United States, under the food control act, in fixing prices for bituminous coal is hardly appreciated at its full significance by the public. The very suggestion of such a thing, a short time ago, would have aroused indignation and alarm among the vast majority of American people, who, concerning economic questions, at least, are prone to ultra-conservatism. Less than a dozen years ago, when William Jennings Bryan proposed public ownership of the railroads, he was roundly denounced, inside as well as outside his party lines, as a socialist. Government ownership of railways may now be favored, and in fact has been favored, by scores of public men of all shades and tints of political opinion, without affecting their reputation for good judgment in the least. Only yesterday, as it were, it was held by millions of people as an article of sound economic doctrine that, while the government might, and should, stiffen prices by protective and other legislation, it would be departing completely from its function if it should "meddle with the private business of the citizen." The demand of business in the United States, for years, was that it should be "let alone." The war is not wholly responsible for the change that has come over popular sentiment. The United States had been moving toward regulation of business long before the war began.

If the departure taken by the president was radical, the manner of his taking it was not. He has fixed certain prices of coal at the mine with regard for the cost of production. These prices, he says, in a published statement, "are deemed to be not only fair and just, but liberal." Under them, he adds, "the industry should nowhere lack stimulation." Moreover, the scale of prices is provisional. "It is subject," he says, "to reconsideration when the whole method of administering the fuel supplies of the country shall have been satisfactorily organized and put into operation." There is nothing, that is, arbitrary or rigid in the prices named. Reason and circumstance will continue to play their parts in the traffic. The one point settled definitely is the method of procedure with the view of bringing about a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the supply, and of prices, not only at the mines, but also in the hands of the middlemen and retailers. The coal supply system is hereafter to be an open book to the consumer. He will have information as to the cost of the fuel at the mine, the cost of transportation, the cost of handling in bulk, and the cost of retailing, and he will know, as well as the "insiders" know now, where excessive profits, if any, are piled on, by whom and for whose benefit. In short, the mystery which has long enveloped the passage of a ton of coal from the mouth of the mine to the consumer's bin is to be cleared up.

Under the fixed scale, the price of bituminous coal, in the large producing districts, will be close to $2 a ton; it runs even below that figure in some districts, and above it in the farther west, reaching $3.25 in the state of Washington. But the average is much lower than the price which Secretary of War Baker recently repudiated in his conference with the mine operators. The latter then asked a flat rate at the mine of $3.

Thus far, price regulation of fuel affects only bituminous coal, and the supply of southern and western states. Anthracite, and the eastern side of the country, will have attention next. On the basis of the production allowance fixed for soft, there should be a very considerable reduction in the retailers' price for hard coal everywhere. The same method of determining what is equitable, just, and liberal will, without doubt, be followed. The president, it may be confidently expected, will do nothing to injure the coal mining industry. Although they have suffered imposition for years, the great majority of consumers are now desirous of nothing more than an assurance of square dealing.

WHEAT TAKEN ROUND WORLD CHEAPER IN BRITAIN THAN HERE

BY HARRY B. HUNT.

Australian wheat, absolutely cut off from Europe by Germany's submarines, is now being moved by a round-about course thousands of miles longer than its normal route, to insure England and France grain for the coming winter.

Australia has wheat excess of 180,000,000 bushels. Her crop now growing will produce another excess of at least 100,000,000 bushels—280,000,000 bushels she could supply the allies this year if shipping could be secured. This wheat principally in the form of flour, is being brought to Pacific ports by sailing vessels, trans-shipped across the continent by rail, loaded on to English cargo vessels at New York and Baltimore and sent to England.

The sailing vessels from Australia are too slow to risk the submarines, and their additional sailing time through Panama to an Atlantic port makes that course too slow. By discharging their cargoes at Pacific ports the flour reaches the Atlantic more quickly, and the vessels are freed to return to Australia. Despite this long haul and handling, Australian wheat is moving into England at lower than the American price. The government price for Australia's crop is $1.10 per bushel. The shipping cost is about one cent per pound. This would make Australian wheats cost about $1.75 per bushel in Liverpool, while American wheat, at from $2 to $2.35 here, would cost from $2.25 to $2.50 there.

Price, however, is not a consideration. England, France and Italy will need every bushel of wheat America can spare, even if ways are found to move the entire Australian surplus.

In addition to wheat, Australian meats are also being shipped by way of America. No way has yet been found, however, for moving the wheat surplus of India or tapping the great grain stores in central Russia.

Understanding of these great grain reserves available after the war should make the American farmer appreciate the safeguard of the $2 per bushel guarantee for next year's crop by the food control law. Should the war end this fall or next spring, and these reserves be made available to the world's markets, the price of wheat might otherwise tumble to about its pre-war figure.

INCREASED CROP NEEDS.

(Milwaukee News.)

The universal food shortage calls for increased crops. The conference called last Monday in Indianapolis was primarily convened to discuss the allotted contribution expected from Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Illinois.

It is proposed to plant 10,923,000 acres of winter wheat and 1,456,000 acres of rye this fall. The entire national program calls for 47,337,000 acres of winter wheat, and 5,131,000 acres of rye. This was especially arranged to avoid interference with the output of 1918.

Inquiries instituted at the instance of the national council of defense show that, contrary to popular estimation, the present inflated corn prices are not due to a retention of the product of farmers, but rather to a shortage of the 1916 crop, and the carry-over from 1915. The crop of 1916 was 400,000,000 bushels below that of 1915. Other determining factors are an increased live stock on farms, which has increased about 3,000,000 in the past three years. This naturally means a great increase in foddering.

There are indications of a large crop this year. Provided harvesting and storage can be satisfactorily settled, and the climatic conditions prove favorable, a general slackening of prices later will considerably help matters.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. George Blackburn, of Gay street, observed their twentieth wedding anniversary yesterday.

For the third time within a week the home of Mrs. Frost, 313 South Calhoun street, was burglarized last night.

Henry J. Auth went to Hesse Cassel this afternoon to congratulate his father, Joseph Auth, on his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

George W. Hand and George H. Wilson, the jury commissioners, drew the following grand jurors for the next term of the circuit court this afternoon: Timothy Baldwin, Jackson; Charles W. Fairfield, Wayne; William Scott, Lafayette; John M. Hawser, John A. Martin, Marion; August R. Schnitzer, Adams.

The city council met last night as a committee of the whole when it was developed that the council is decidedly in favor of voting the Electric Street Car company the right to lay a double track on East Lewis street, providing its paves between the tracks and eighteen inches on the outside with vitrified brick.

Pete Lichter, an employee of St. Joseph hospital, received a severe wound in the head this morning. The man was passing under the new roof, when accidentally a paint pot fell, striking him upon the head and causing a deep cut in the scalp. His wound was quickly dressed. It is likely he will recover, if blood poisoning does not set in, owing to the rust and paint which saturated the wound. The skull is slightly fractured.

A very jolly crowd of people, young and old, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ford, last evening, it being the occasion of the gentleman's forty-first birthday. Those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Schulteis, Misses Maud and Jennie Snyder, Nellie Fox, Carrie Ruggert, Gertrude Sommers, Kattie Angit, Lizzie Gans, Emma Rodenbaugh, Joe Fox, Rose Neidhart, Mamie Rising, and Messrs. CHIEF PERROTT GETS SIXTY-DAY RESPITE

Indianapolis, Aug. 29.—Samuel V. Perrott, former superintendent of police of Indianapolis, convicted of conspiracy to commit election frauds and sentenced to four years' imprisonment at Atlanta, Ga., has been granted a respite of sixty days while the department of justice investigates representations that Perrott is physically unable to serve his sentence.

A committee of Indianapolis business men last week visited Washington and filed a petition for Perrott's pardon and at the same time a certificate signed by five Indianapolis physicians who declared Perrott was physically unable to serve four years in prison.

George J. Marrott, one of the committee who filed the petition, today said the petition was signed by "all of the leading bankers and trust company presidents in Indianapolis and by many well known business men and manufacturers."

ITALIANS UNCOVER

NEW WAR MONSTER

Terrific Engine of Death and Destruction Used in New Smash.

Washington, Aug. 29.—A new Italian instrument of war has produced a sensation in the naval world, according to information in possession of experts here.

The new device, employed for the first time in the Italian offensive against Austria, has not been definitely described. No description of it is now available, only its results being revealed. The instrument is said, however, to be a combination consisting of an enormous float, carrying the heaviest guns in existence, and employing a new type of shell.

An official dispatch from Rome today containing the fullest account that has reached America of the use of the new instrument states that it is being employed in the Gulf of Trieste, dropping shells into the city and sweeping the coast.

The Italian navy has surpassed in caliber and range every previous record by mounting on special floats, whose construction and details are a profound secret, a powerful armament on any Austrian dreadnaught.

"The Italian navy has devised and inaugurated a new system of naval warfare," (Deleted.) This element of surprise was a part of the new enterprise in the Gulf of Trieste. While the artillery fire was in progress over the Carso the Italian and English monitors, escorted by torpedo boats, motor boats, submarines and airplanes, proceeded to the Gulf of Trieste, crossing mine fields, and at 3 p. m. the English monitors opened fire against the Herma's slopes on the side opposite the Italian front where the Austrian reserves and artillery had been concentrated.

English Monitors Aid.

"The bombardment of the Austrian positions," this cablegram says, "was accompanied in the Gulf of Trieste by two English monitors and three great Italian monitors, which shelled and struck the most vital points of the Austrian defense with guns of such large caliber and long range as the Austrians never before experienced. The Italian navy has surpassed in caliber and range every previous record by mounting on special floats, whose construction and details are a profound secret, a powerful armament on any Austrian dreadnaught."

Hurl Shells Into City.

"The Italian 40's were making hundreds of craters upon the sides and upon the high plateaus of the Herma while the Italian monitors maintained a still more terrific fire against the Austrian military buildings and depots in the city of Trieste. A large number of Italian air planes were constantly in the air over the naval forces expecting Austrian aerial craft to come out to drop bombs upon the ships, but the Austrian fliers did not venture forth."

"The Austrian coastal batteries opened fire, but the English monitors were not hit, they refraining to answer the coastal batteries' bombardment, but directing all their fire against the Herma, stopping only when the Italian infantry launched their attack against the Herma."

Aerial Attack in Vain.

"At night the English monitors returned without having been damaged. The Italian monitors also stopped firing at night. During the bombardment smoke was observed near Pola, it being learned that it issued from the Austrian battleships, which had steam up, but they did not dare risk coming out."

"The Austrian command, discovering that the top of the Herma was being dominated by the Italian artillery due to the intervention of the new Italian monitors, ordered the Austrian aviators to destroy the Italian monitors during the night, but their efforts failed."

End Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.

"About two years ago I had an attack of bowel trouble and was in a serious condition when I began using Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. J. Rogan, Fairport, N. Y. "This medicine relieved me at once and after taking three or four doses of it I was cured." People are always pleased by the prompt recommendations of those who have used it have done much to make it the most popular medicine in use for bowel complaints.—Advertisement.

During one of the recent excessive hot days two Stamford (Vt.) farmers stopped haying during the day, but when evening came and cooling breezes blew across the Stamford valley while a bright moon illuminated the fields, the farmers hitched teams to their mowing machines and did a good day's work during the night.

WE'LL GET BACK OUR RUSSIAN LOANS, SAYS RUSSELL IT'S ONE OF RICHEST COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD

Crown Jewels and Palaces Security Enough—Gloomy Gusses Who Are Worried About the $275,000,000 We Have Lent Russia Will Be to Blame if We Lose It.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL. (Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Here is the Russian situation compressed into one incident. A few days ago the administration decided to lend Russia another $100,000,000.

At this all persons and newspapers in this country that secretly or openly hope the Russian democracy will fall professed great astonishment.

Then the other persons and newspapers that have no knowledge of Russia, but just can't believe actual democracy can succeed anywhere, cheerfully echoed the astonishment.

What! Lend more money to Russia at a time when according to the press dispatches the last bottom has fallen out of everything? When the dreadful radicals with whom the country is filled are raging up and down thirsting for hot blood and threatening destruction?

When, it is plain, chaos reigns! Above all, when Russia is bankrupt!

That makes $275,000,000 we have lent this nation that walls the low pressure chorus. Shall we ever get it back? Alas! No! Let us bid a fond farewell to our money! Why does the administration thus throw the good maxima after the bad?

But it doesn't. The administration is perfectly right in its estimate of Russia. Barring one chance, Russia is as safe a country to lend money to as there is in the alliance.

Now see how monstrous and dangerous are the misconceptions produced in the American mind by the Dismal Dopers and the Gloomy Gusses of the British press, from whom we get nine-tenths of our so-called news from Russia.

As a matter of fact Russia isn't bankrupt. It is one of the richest countries of the world.

It is not only rich in possibilities, but it is rich in the actual thing. It has The Goods.

I don't mean that the soil is rich, although that is true. I mean that the government is rich.

It owns a vast Empire of arable and timber lands.

There is no question about its ownership. The title has always been vested in the government.

Comparatively speaking, there is not a great deal of private land-owning in Russia. I mean compared with other countries. An immense amount of land is owned in common, either by the villages or by the general government.

While I was in Russia an appraisal of the government's holdings in land was just being completed. It indicated the amazing total of sixty billion rubles—$30,000,000.

Besides all this, if the government desires to confiscate the huge estates of the czar and the grand dukes, all granted from the public, it will have enough to pay the entire national debt and lay by a surplus.

It could take from these estates enough to pay the national debt and still leave the entire brood on imperial parasites, idlers and worthless, useless mutts enough to keep them in splendor all their days.

If it would confiscate only the crown jewels and the palaces in Petrograd it would go far to wipe out all the national debt it has at present.

More than that, I am told that there was a meeting not long ago in Petrograd of wealthy men, bankers, manufacturers, exploiters, merchants and high life; and when they met to compare notes they found that the interests they represent could absorb, if need be, the greater part of the debt so far created by the war.

At present most of these resources are untouched by taxation. It is evident, therefore, that the assets back of this real Russia are almost unlimited.

No one need to worry about that. Also, as to chaos in Russia. There isn't any chaos.

There are elements in the newly created political life that differ as to the details of the policy the government should follow.

But such dissenting elements exist in every country that has democracy. You couldn't have healthy democracy without them.

But except for a few noisy anarchists and a handful of returned American trouble makers the people are unanimous for the broad principles of democracy. They don't agree about their government but they don't want to assassinate it.

A certain amount of confusion was absolutely inevitable after the destruction of one great system of government and before another could be instituted that would work with perfect smoothness in every part of this enormous country.

Such confusion always comes at such times. In the case of the United States it lasted eleven years. In the case of Russia it has lasted less than six months and is steadily disappearing.

There never was a country in the world that underwent anything like the revolution that Russia has had and six months later presented anything like the same spectacle of good order and substantial progress.

This, of course, is totally contrary to the impression created by the reactionary press and the reactionary foreign colony at Petrograd, but is nevertheless the actual fact.

Barring the one chance I have spoken of the United States will get back all the money it has lent Russia, and get it back with interest.

That chance is that while Russia is still finding herself the Kaiser's supporters in this country will help the German troops to break the Russian line and crush the new democracy in its infancy.

With their peace chatter and treasonable peace councils, their maneuvers in congress to cripple and discredit the government, their transparent demands for the stalling of peace terms, and their widespread organizations of disloyalty, they have already done much to weaken Russian resistance and enable the Kaiser to advance.

If they keep on they will have him in Petrograd and Moscow.

In that event, of course, it will be goodbye to our money. Also to many other things, infinitely dearer, including democracy in Russia and armies of young American lives.

That is the result of which the work of Mr. La Follette and his company is tending.

I can do no more and no less than to tell you the facts as I found them in Russia.

The American pacifist is Russia's deadliest enemy and the Kaiser's most powerful and efficient ally.

Billions Attacked.

You wonder what upset your stomach. Never felt better in your life yesterday—now you have a bad bilious attack. Cure that first, then look for the cause. Keep quiet, abstain from food for one day, take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. Drink plenty of water. This will clean the fermenting food and bile out of your stomach, tone up your liver and move your bowels. You will soon be all right again. If you have these bilious attacks at irregular intervals, abstain from coffee and red meats and you may avoid them.—Advertisement.

"There Goes Daddy!"

(BY BIDDY BEE.)

The tomato is America's most popular vegetable for canning. Over 10,000,000 cases, each containing 24 cans, are packed annually. Nevertheless the housewife who adds one or two cans to this remarkable output is doing a necessary bit of war work.

No sugar is required—their own acid acts as a preservative if the cans are properly sealed.

Tomatoes may be canned whole or in pieces, depending upon the size and the use. Instead of adding syrup, use tomato juice. Water decreases their food value as well as flavor.

WATER BATH CANNING.

Grade and sort the tomatoes according to ripeness, size and quality. Scald 1-2 minutes, then dip into cold water. Remove cores, stems and skins, and pack directly into cans or hot jars. Press down with a wooden or silver tablespoon (add no water). Add a level teaspoonful of salt per quart. Place rubbers and caps in position, set cans in water bath, canning outfit, commercial or home-made, and sterilize 120 minutes.

CORN AND TOMATOES.

Scald fresh corn on the cob 5 minutes and cold-dip. Cut the corn from the cob. Scald the tomatoes 1-2 minutes and cold-dip, then core and peel. Cut tomatoes in pieces and mix 2 parts of tomatoes with one part of corn. Add one level teaspoonful of salt per quart and pack mixture in hot jars. Put rubbers and caps in position, set cans in water bath, canning outfit, commercial or home-made, and sterilize 120 minutes.

THICK TOMATOES.

Housewives who prefer a thick product often cook the tomatoes in a preserving kettle until they reach the desired consistency before pouring them into jars. Then the cans are set in a water bath and their contents sterilized 20 minutes.

TOMATO MINCEMEAT.

Slice green tomatoes and sprinkle with salt. Put into a cheesecloth bag and hang up to drip over night. In the morning add an equal weight of sugar and cook until the tomatoes are tender. To 7 pounds cooked tomatoes add 3 pounds of seedless raisins, with mace and cinnamon to taste. Cook 10 minutes and turn into any kind of sterilized containers. The mixture will keep without sealing. Other fruits may be added when the pies are baked if desired.

PRESERVED TOMATOES.

Yellow, pear or cherry tomatoes make the most attractive preserves. Scald the tomatoes and remove the skins carefully, weigh, add equal weight of sugar, and put into a preserving kettle. Add one level teaspoonful of shaved green ginger root for each 2 pounds of tomatoes. Preserved ginger may be used. Boil 10 minutes then remove tomatoes from syrup and spread them on a platter to cool. This will keep them from breaking to pieces. Boil syrup to the desired thickness, add tomatoes and simmer gently, put into jars while hot, adding a slice of lemon to each jar before sealing.

OPEN KETTLE CANNING.

The old-fashioned open kettle process of canning tomatoes is followed successfully by many housewives. Prepare the tomatoes in the usual way, allow a level teaspoonful of salt to each quart and stew in an aluminum or porcelain lined preserving kettle. Add no water and bring to a boil slowly, then cook at least 20 minutes. Turn into sterilized jars seal and invert to test. When using a spoon, fork, or cup with the tomatoes, the first dip it into boiling water.

This little girl couldn't take her eyes off the camera until her mother plucked her sleeve and called, "There goes daddy," as the father marched away with "The Fighting Sixty-ninth" through New York's streets. And the baby, cuddled half-asleep in the mother's arms, didn't see "daddy" pass at all.

HAND GARMENTS GIVE FASTIDIOUS APPEARANCE.

Much is said about homemade blouses and underwear; now and then dresses are included, and with many the handmade idea is nothing more than a fad, or a certain snobbishness in dress. However, there is a reason for the tedious process of making a dress entirely by hand. With the aid of the fingers instead of a machine. And that reason is that the hand-made dress is softer and more pleasurable to wear, and, in general, additional comfort and better fit. There is where the home sewer has the advantage.

Making a little cotton voile dress entirely by hand means nothing to the clever needleworker. The pity of it is that so few needleworkers make their dresses by hand. Perhaps because of the mistaken idea that it is useless work and work that will never show for itself. Hand-sewn seams do show for themselves in the graceful "hang" of the garment. Hand-made undies and blouses need no vindictive; but it is the hand-made dress that must be defended. It is a sure way of being commendably fastidious if you have the time and the inclination.

MARK LINES TO TEST ITS WEARING QUALITIES.

Every woman should go over her linen and take stock at least once a year. She should have some marks upon the sheets and tablecloths whereby she can tell the date of their purchase.

In this way she can tell whether a certain make is wearing well, whether it does or does not pay to get the best quality, and also tell exactly how much more is needed to replace that which must be discarded.

Nice linen is expensive, but it has been found to outwear the cheaper grades. Furthermore, nice linen speaks refinement in every way.

THIS HINT WILL HELP YOU KEEP CROCHETING CLEAN.

When crocheting a shawl of delicate color keep all but the end you are working upon in a pillow case and your work will be nice and clean when finished.

When washing overalls, scrub them with a heavy scrubbing brush. You will find it much better than the usual way.

STAIN SOON DISAPPEARS.

To remove the stain or iron mold first drop a little powdered salt on the mark and then squeeze on a little lemon juice; hold the stained part of the article against the steam of a boiling kettle and the stain will disappear.

PERISHES IN BURNING HOME.

Reports Idah McGlone Gibson, After Seeing the Big Ritz-Carlton Fashion Show With Betty Brown and Sketch Artist Valentine.

By IDAH M'GLONE GIBSON. (Staff Special.)

At the Fashion Front, Somewhere in the Ritz-Carlton, New York, N. Y., Aug. 23.—New fashions have taken the front-line trenches.

They also have taken many prisoners—about a yard and a half of cloth, in fact, from each costume.

There is no doubt of this. Both Fashion Expert Betty Brown and Sketch Artist DeAlton Valentine, who accompanied me on a tour of fashion's battle terrain, agree that this is so.

Whatever you wear for your fall gown, you will not wear so much of it. Skirts will be much narrower and much shorter, because of the Paris gown builders' decree that a yard and a half of cloth must be saved from each costume.

You can expect to see at least two inches of silk above the shoulders. Leather must be saved as well as wool for the girl with slender ankles.

The one-piece gown with perfectly straight lines will be the most popular fashion for everyday wear.

In materials, serge will give way to drevyn, velvet and velvet, and there will be many broadened silks made up into formal costumes for the street.

More silk will be worn than in years, as we must conserve the woolen factories' capacity for the manufacture of clothes for our Sammies.

Brown will have first call in colors, particularly a brown called Maryland brown, which Paris named not for the state, but because it is the name of a cheap tobacco much used for cigars.

Red—especially the flame red, supposed to denote courage—will be a note in almost every costume.

Black gowns will be worn, but a brilliant touch of color, either in the costume itself or by the addition of a gorgeous red or blue hat, will be used, as there must be not a hint of mourning.

Chinese embroideries and colors will be used extensively in collars and cuffs and in some cases for bands on skirts.

Dresses, with top coats added for street wear, are the last word from Paris, although some of the old rebarbatic coats and skirts will still be seen.

There is a whispered revival of the old-fashioned redingote and the bustle, but everything will emphasize the slim silhouette.

The fashionable woman will have to conserve food even more rigorously than Mr. Hoover recommends, if she would have a modish figure this winter.

Now about hats—

"Although most of our gowns are still on ship coming over," Jules Kurzman told me today, "we have had a number of very stunning importations in hats."

As he said this he put on a model the confection of a claret colored draped velvet shown on the full-length figure in Mr. Valentine's illustration. With this was worn an ermine cape trimmed with black monkey, a claret colored velvet one-piece suit with striped insets at the sides of the skirt, and Chinese embroidery in dull shades completed this costume, which showed a generous two inches of stockings above the shoe tops.

The hat on the young woman who is driving with the French officer arrived from Paris yesterday and is designed as a compliment to our boys "over there." It is of blue velvet made to simulate the crown of the service hat worn by our privates. The French, however, have put four blue bows in the crushed places. The high collar worn by this young woman is the very latest mode.

The black velvet afternoon hat at the left is one of the most stunning dress hats seen in the Kurzman imports. It is trimmed about the edge with a soft band of ostrich feathers with little ball fringe of the same feathers hanging from the brim over the eyes. Ostrich feathers are very good this season, two out of three hats being trimmed with them.

The walking hat design on the figure in the background is of tobacco brown velvet, and the startling part of it is brown tassels which hang directly to the middle of the forehead almost to the bridge of the nose. This is an Egyptian idea, and emphasizes the fact that oriental conceits will be worn on both hats and gowns this season.

The richest of furs, already shown, are almost prohibitive in price. However, one New York importer said to me today: "The dear American ladies will have clothes, no matter if the heavens fall."

It remains to be seen if the New York idea of the "dear American ladies" is right.

SUBSTITUTE FOR BUTT- TONS ON WASH BLOUSE IS CORRECT.

"What are you doing now?" asked the friend of an ingenious woman whose needlework always promised surprise for those who knew her.

"Oh, I'm just finishing up a wash waist. I didn't want to use buttons because they get crushed in the washing, so I am working out an idea of my own. I hate to rip off buttons and sew them on again after each tubbing. They are never on, you know, when you need the blouse. You don't have to rip anything with these buttons. You see first of all I sew on snaps and then I cover their marks on the right side with buttons made from heavy French knots of colored embroidery cotton. They are pretty, too; see there are three of them made in one group.

"Sometimes I just sew them in a row; you could make them oval or diamond-shape or even square and outline them with black. Try to hump them just a bit in the middle so that they will look more like buttons."

"That's a fine idea," said her friend. "Just wait a minute, will you, until I go home and get my work bag and a blouse. I want to try it out."

FAST BOILING WATER AID IN COOKING VEGETABLES

Plenty of fast boiling water should be used in cooking vegetables; if only a little is used the vegetables cool and become tough.

To color soups red, put in the strained juice of tomato, or the whole tomato if run through a sieve. Carrots grated give a fine amber color.

A little salt improves the flavor of cake and half water instead of all milk makes a light cake. If the cake rises in a mountain in the middle the dough was too thick; if it falls in the middle it was too rich with sugar. Large holes in the cake show there was too much baking powder. Sprinkle flour in the pan after greasing it; it prevents cake from sticking.

Then there is a decided leaning toward the shades of brown, beige and sand. The rust and mahogany shades are also combined with the black.

The authorities regard the movement to put German out of the schools as a narrow one. If it was worth studying before the war, it is equally valuable now, is the view they take.

HOUSE BURNS ONE MAY DIE

FAMILY JUMPS FROM AN UPSTAIRS WINDOW

Defective Flue Causes Disastrous Blaze at an Early Hour.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Monroeville, Ind., Aug. 29.—The aged father of Ruben Minard, near Dixon, is in a serious condition and may die as a result of burns received when the Minard home was burned to the ground with all contents. Members of the family barely escaped with their lives by jumping from the upstairs windows.

Mr. Minard's father was burned about the neck and together with the shock and his advanced age, he is reported in a very serious condition. Mrs. Minard and two children escaped injury by jumping. Mr. Minard had arisen early and built a fire in the kitchen range before going to the barn to do the chores and it is presumed a defective flue was the immediate cause, for in a short time the house was in flames and beyond control, although they succeeded in saving the surrounding buildings.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

OPEN SEPTEMBER 4

Usual Attendance Expected in All the Local Schools.

The Catholic and Lutheran parochial schools will open the Tuesday following Labor day, September 4, according to announcements made Wednesday. No changes in the faculty have been made during the summer in either the Catholic or Lutheran schools and a proportional increase in attendance is expected in both.

According to Rev. Jacob Miller, of the Lutheran schools, no effect will be felt from the enforcement of the draft law, although several teachers may later cause vacancies by having taken places in the new army. An attendance of from 1,200 to 1,400 is expected in the Lutheran schools, divided about evenly with the exception of the Trinity and Emmanuel schools, in which something in the neighborhood of one hundred are expected to enroll.

Of course all pupils enrolling in local Catholic schools are under draft age and will in no way be affected by the draft and it is not reported that any of the faculty will be lost because of the draft. Rev. Father Quinn, of the Catholic schools, said that no changes of importance in the faculty of the local schools had been made.

Bliss, of Baltimore, Md., for the test essay.

Male Voters Are Piling Up

Score by Sprint at the Finish.

The contest, which has been running up and down, and which was to determine

the score, is now in its final stages.

Every hour the male voters are piling up the score. Their interest in the

ardor of the female voters seems to have waned. The rain of the past two days may be the cause of the women's defeat. Not a woman registered after 4 o'clock Monday, at the city hall office, and no woman registered on Tuesday before noon.

Leaders of the suffragettes claim that their lack of spirit is due to the late hour of registration, which seems to cast a shadow that women may not be allowed to vote at all this fall. It is said that many women have given up hope of being allowed to cast a ballot

this year. Such a rumor plays havoc with the plans of the suffragettes contingent.

Male voters will be out in force.

Even with the present total standing under 14,000 registrations, it is thought that the largest male vote in the history of the city will be recorded. Men are appearing in numbers at the registration places.

The places where voters may be registered on Wednesday evening, from 7 o'clock until 9, are:

17,000 OVER WAR STRENGTH

Regular Army Recruiting Stations Enlist Men for Reserves.

Company B Men Are Provided With a Pair of Rubber Boots Each.

Seventeen thousand men over war strength has been the result of recruiting work for the regular army since April 1. Major Thomas F. Ryan, of the Fort Wayne recruiting station, states that recruiting will not stop as they are now recruiting men in the reserve for the various branches of service.

Twenty men were sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning eighteen more were accepted to be sent away in the evening.

Officers of Company E, Fort Wayne's crack infantry company, received orders Wednesday morning to make known the company's needs in regard to mess kits and other equipment. The order stated that if these requisition papers were made out at once that the entire equipment would await the company upon their arrival at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Up until noon Wednesday no marching orders had been received. Captain Ray McAdams was told by the supply captain, Charles Sergeant, over long distance telephone Tuesday evening, that if the orders to move will not have been received by Thursday morning, that the clothing would be shipped to Fort Wayne so that all members will be done in a uniform upon departing.

If the suits are received Company B will be the first company in the history of Fort Wayne to leave fully uniformed.

Members of Company B, signal corps, are still awaiting warmer and more pleasant weather at the Lincoln school. The company received eighty-five pairs of rubber boots recently and every man in the company has been provided with a pair so that damp weather is no hindrance to any. During the wet and unfavorable weather the officers are conducting classes in the school, instructing men by black-board talks.

Secs Borne in South Bend. The same Baron De Ogler, who was ordered away from Fort Wayne after he had offered himself to aid recruiting work here, was seen in South Bend, Monday, by Major Ryan, who was in that city on business. The baron states that he is an Austrian, but has fled his country.

Two Men Are Ordered. A dispatch from Colonel Read, commander at Fort Benjamin Harrison, is to the effect that two more Fort Wayne men are ordered to report at once to the officers' reserve training camp. The young men named are Louis L. Miller and Richard Henning, both of this city.

TO BE AN OFFICER.

O. R. Hill, foreman of the Chestnut street shops of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, has gone to Fort Benjamin Harrison to take up the study for the makings of an officer.

LOCK YOUR EXTRA AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Police Chief Asks Drivers to Quit Tempting Sneak Thieves.

Get a padlock and chain for your extra tire, Mr. Auto Driver.

The only other way to be saving when you come down town of an evening is to leave the fifth tire at home in the kitchen.

Police Chief Lenz is asking the public to aid in checking the wholesale plan of stealing automobile tires from machines, which are left standing on down town streets at night. Five tires were stolen from the back of automobiles last week. Two were taken last Saturday night from cars which stood in front of the Palace theater. On Tuesday night of this week a large tire, strapped to the rear of the auto belonging to C. T. Strawbridge, 1019 East Wayne street, was removed while the machine stood on Jefferson street. The thefts amount to several hundred dollars.

Tire stealing has become an epidemic, Chief Lenz admits. This is because of the high price of rubber and because of the easy access which a thief has to the extra tire, carried on nearly every machine. Sometimes the fifth tire is tied to the side of the car with a string. Other autos have the extra tire strapped at the rear of the body. Either way is an invitation to the fellow who moves through the shadows.

The police are working hard to break up the tire thieves. Arrests will come on Thursday. It is thought that there may be several engaged as tire appropriators. The trap should spring soon. But meantime, Mr. Careful Driver, guard your own tire and the police will thank you.

SOCIALISTS DO NOT WANT SMALL NATIONS RUINED

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—"The socialists of neutral countries do not wish any nation to be crushed in this war," said M. Stauning, socialist leader and minister without portfolio, in an address today. For that reason the constantly recurring rumors that we desire a separate peace between Russia and Germany are meaningless and untrue.

"A separate peace would be incomplete even to the interests of international working classes. We desire peace but for all the nations of the world. A separate peace would set free forces which could be employed for the destruction of single nations, which is in absolute opposition to the interests of humanity."

NEED CHANGE IN SYSTEM

Dean Barr Tells Institute of Time Wasted in Grades.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL REMEDY

Maturity Hindered by Too Much Time in Lower Branches.

The question of a junior-senior high school plan was raised indirectly by the talk of Dean Barr to teachers of Allen county in the third session Wednesday of the annual institute, in the minds of several educators prominent locally. Such a plan has been adopted in several cities of the state, principally Anderson and Evansville, and has met with good results. The point was brought out to many who know of the need that such an arrangement would fill if it could become the plan of the local school system, because of the present crowded conditions for study.

The point brought up by Dean Barr was the need for a system which would result in less time being wasted in the grades and the more rapid maturity which would result when the Seventh and Eighth grade are combined with the First and Second years in the present arrangement of secondary schools. While Dean Barr did not suggest the junior-senior high school as his own idea of the remedy in the public schools system, he asked the question whether or not Fort Wayne had a junior-senior high school.

Testing Pupils and Teachers. Dean Barr's talk was on "Testing Pupils and Teachers." His ideas on the subject are in accordance with some of the latest now being adopted in the leading universities along the line of educational research work and scientific school surveys. Educators, it is pointed out, are now coming to the realization that so much time spent in the common school branch is a hindrance to the rapid development along scholastic lines of pupils when they are at the right age.

Dr. Gordy's subject Wednesday morning was "Geography, the Physical Basis of History." The idea expressed being a continuation of the subject of the day before, and which provides a general topic for his discourse to the teachers during the institute. Dr. Gordy said that every teacher had his own ideas on the subject of presenting history but that suggestions could be made which would undoubtedly serve to establish more intimacy between the pupils and the subject studied.

"Dates," said Dr. Gordy, "are mere landmarks. Details are necessary to make more vivid particular points, to vitalize more important points."

Greater Devotion Needed. "No country ever needed greater devotion to a great cause than our country does today," declared the speaker. "In teaching history, bring in the souls of great men to widen our own narrow existences."

The speaker told of some of his own experiences in visiting historic spots and mentioned a trip to the plains of Abraham, near Quebec, where he said the historic landmarks made him feel a more intimate relationship with the history enacted there.

A meeting for women teachers attending the institute will be held at the court house Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time Prof. Louis Dorn will give a talk on "Municipal Housekeeping." At this time instruction in voting will be given to women who expect to cast the ballot in the next election.

WILL BE HELD DURING WAR

INTERNED IN THE INDIANAPOLIS JAIL

German Army Reservist, Arrested Here, is to Be Detained.

Frank Koch, a German army reservist, arrested in this city some weeks ago, has been interned in the Marion county jail at Indianapolis as a person "dangerous to the public safety." He probably will be held for the period of the war, his detention having been ordered by Washington officials, acting on authority of the president's war proclamation.

Koch was caught entering a window of the power plant on Spy Run avenue that supplies electricity for both city and traction cars of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company. Local authorities held him for examination before T. J. Logan, United States commissioner, on the charge of being within the forbidden half-mile zone of munition-making factories without having a government permit. Later Koch was investigated by Jess Williamson, an agent of the department of justice, and the order for internment followed.

Frank Barnhart, a deputy United States marshal, took Koch to the jail at Indianapolis. The prisoner probably will later be taken over by military authorities and removed to a detention camp.

Koch came to the United States as a freeman on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, landing in Hoboken in 1910. He is a brewer worker, and lived in several American cities, being in San Francisco when Germany brought war on the world in 1914. At that time he reported to the German consulate in San Francisco as an army reservist. He says he was discharged from the German army in 1902.

FIND OLD TREASURES IN HOPE HOSPITAL

Workmen Are Uncovering Articles Left There Years Ago by Patients.

A veritable store house of old treasures, left there in years gone by, by former patients, is what the old Hope hospital building is proving to be. The structure is now being razed to clear the ground for the erection of the new Y. M. C. A. building.

Workmen engaged in tearing down the building are coming across many old articles that have probably been concealed for years. In one room, hidden behind the casing which surrounded the fireplace, workmen found an old, time worn black box. In this box were miscellaneous articles, such as might have been placed there by an old woman, knitting, crocheting, an old pair of socks and many other things dear to the heart of the elderly feminine. At the bottom of the box, carefully concealed, and folded several times, was a $20 bill, worn and yellow with age.

In another room workmen found an old picture, a prospectus of the Hope hospital building before even the oldest part of it had been constructed. In another room, hidden behind the wooden casing, was a $5 bill.

The treasures were found in the oldest part of the building. No names or identification marks of any kind were on the boxes, and there is no trace of their former owners. The supposition is that they were placed in their hiding places by patients at the hospital years ago, and that the original owners either died, or were taken from the hospital without having an opportunity to claim their own.

GIVES HUSBAND TO COUNTRY.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—"His country needs him more than I do in this crisis. He was born and reared here and all that he has to owe to his country and it is no more than right that he should die for his land if necessary." Such were the words of Mrs. Gladys Pennington, 141 Division street, Elkhart, as she signed a paper in which she released her husband, Ray C. Pennington, from all duty to her that he might enlist in E company, Third Indiana infantry.

CORPORAL JOHNSON RECOVERS.

Friends of Corporal L. W. Johnson will be glad to learn that he is improving from a severe illness and on September 22 will celebrate his eighty-first birthday anniversary. He is the author of "The Thornless Rose," a book of rambling rhymes.

TORPEDO FACTORY BURNS.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—The foundry of the Schwartzkopf torpedo works in Berlin was destroyed by fire on Sunday. There are rumors that a considerable loss of life attended the conflagration.

MONTH OF LIBERTY DEPENDS UPON WIFE

Whim of Woman to Determine Sentence of Man Who Stole Brass.

Wife may keep a man out of war and other things. Bert Doyle, 40, has a month of freedom or imprisonment hanging upon the whims of his wife, Wednesday morning. If friend wife says he is a good fellow he will only be immured in the county jail for thirty days; if she tells the judge that he plays rum and goes to lodge every night the unfortunate man will be in the battle for sixty days.

Doyle pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing brass from the Electric works, where he had been employed. He had been taking the valuable metal in small bits, when he went home from work at night. He pleaded that he is married and cares for his wife.

"If you are telling the truth about being a good husband I will leave you down light," said Judge H. W. Kerr. Doyle was fined $30 and costs and his jail sentence will vary with his wife's eulogy or disparagement.

Took the Razor. Albert Ackley, worked as a barber in the shop of Joe Krummit, 206 West Superior street. One of Joe's razors gained the seat of favor in the eye of Ackley. When the employee left the shop a few days ago, he took the razor with him. Ackley admitted the fact. He was fined $10 and costs and thirty days in jail.

Five Were Idle. Five young men were found to have no visible means of support when police visited all pool rooms and saloons of the city Tuesday afternoon. They will all be held in jail for a day or two at least. They were charged with loitering.

George Holtsapple, 23, had lost his registration card, he admitted, when consulted by an officer in a Lafayette street pool room. He was bound over to federal officers.

Joe Galloway and Leo Brown are believed to be of conscriptible age, although they claim to be younger. They will be held until September 4, while investigation goes on. Walter Jarard will have a hearing on Saturday. John Pierson will come back into court from the jail on next Wednesday.

Money Is Sure. Attorney Frank Kleckamp took the seat of judgment just long enough to outline a working program for Heber Bare, who was returned from St. Louis, on a child neglect charge on Tuesday. Bare, who was unable to furnish $200 bond for support of his three children, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to sixty days at work on the county roads.

WILL ARRAY "SHARKS" AGAINST CHIEF LENZ

Head That His Doom is Nigh.

Fort Wayne's array of cuspidor cadets, cue artists and stine lifters are mobilizing for a drive against the position of Police Chief Charles Lenz, according to an unsigned letter received by the chief Wednesday morning. The forces which are in training in the poolrooms and saloons are going to rout the chief from his stronghold because he has been "altogether too active" along certain lines and because he has failed to be a "good fellow."

The letter, which had been placed in an envelope bearing the head of a local hotel, states that scores of the sport element have combined to get the job of the present chief. "Maurice Niezer must promise to put you out of office within twenty-four hours if he expects to be elected," stated the missive. "If Cutshall is elected he will have you out of your place before he opens his roller desk. We are going to show you that the poolroom sharks and others have a force in this city."

"You have made just one good ruling since you grabbed your job. That was to stop roller-skating on the sidewalks. Outside of that you have done little but give out orders and persecute those who don't obey orders. Everything has been orders. You have gone to court on spurs orders and men of some leisure."

"You said speeding must stop. Your officers are nearly run over by speeders every day. They have to jump sideways to keep out of the way of speeders."

"Such stuff don't go. Your end is near."

The chief smiled grimly after he read the message of hate. He handed the document to a detective.

"Try and find who wrote this," he said. "Tell him I want to meet him and talk this thing over. I will give him a public invitation to discuss these points with me."

Chiefs Put Up Poor Article of Ball and Lose to Leaders

Misplays of Locals and Heavy Batting Win for Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 29.—A little drama entitled "Class will tell," was enacted here yesterday when Grand Rapids, leading the Central league, walked away with the long end of a score of 3 to 1 in a game with Fort Wayne. Lose playing all around of the part of the Fort Wayne club was responsible for at least five runs made by the league leaders, while the one run that the Chiefs were able to mark up was an earned one.

The visitors scored in the third round when Miller and Smith walked. Steffried singled, sending Miller to third and Smith being tagged at second and Kelly singled, scoring Miller.

"Doc" Cummins did not have anything on "em" that the Grand Rapids boys could not see, and he was touched up in the first round. Mitchell beat out a hot one which got away from Cummins. Harris sacrificed. Mathes got a hit and Mitchell went to third. Smith threw wild in trying to catch the runner at second and Mitchell scored on the play. Edgington was out. Miller drew a pass. A double steal was pulled off which resulted in one more run for Grand Rapids, Mathes scoring.

A home run and three singles in the second resulted in two more scores. Deyvorne knocked the ball out of the lot and Tannehill, Melter and Harris singled. Smith made another wild heave in the seventh inning which gave the leaders two runs.

In the eighth inning Mathes walked, Vandagriff missed up Edgington's grounder, Miller sacrificed and Jantzen doubled, scoring two.

Among the efforts being made by England to get better crops, on account of the threatened food crisis, one of the most interesting is an experiment in growing cereals and other field crops with the aid of "artificial sunshine," provided by overhead electric current. This experiment, under the supervision of V. H. Blackman, professor of plant physiology and pathology at South Kensington, is being carried out at Huxington Court farm, near Hereford. The purpose of the experiments is to continue on a large scale work done during the last few years near Dunfermlie, where in 1916 an increase of about 50 per cent. in grain and 35 per cent. in straw was obtained on a crop of oats.

WELTERWEIGHT TITLE MAY CHANGE HANDS WHEN GRIFFITHS AND TED LEWIS MEET

(By Paul Furman).

It has been a number of years since the welterweights received very much notice. Back in the days of Gans, Nelson, Britt and Wolgast there were too many lightweights and not enough good welterweights to attract particular attention.

Joe Walcott established such a reputation for his division that other welterweights could not live up to it and the class languished.

Later on big fellows like Packey McFarland refused to call themselves welterweights, although they could not make the lightweight limit, and when Ritchie and Welsh held the lightweight title there was no welterweight division, as these boxers were really welterweights.

A year or so ago Jack Britton dug up the title, claimed and defended it until Ted (Kid) Lewis took it from him.

Labor day will see the title contested for again when Johnny Griffiths, of Akron, O., and Lewis tangle in a fifteen-round bout at Akron.

The boys have met three times—Lewis winning two the other being a draw.

Should Griffiths win the title a new record will be established in boxing. Never in the history of the game has a title changed hands twice in six months.

Griff is depending on his lightning speed to win. The Welsh lad does not carry a knockout punch as a regular asset, although he has a few kayos to his credit.

Lewis the stronger of the two, and has a repertoire of ring tricks that makes even Johnny Dundee's look amateurish.

Fort Wayne Fans Get Ready to See Series at Chicago

Local Baseball Fans Pulling for Pale Hose to Win Out.

The possibility of a big delegation of Fort Wayne baseball fans attending a part of the world series looms up stronger as the end of the major league season approaches, and while it is a little too soon to venture any too strong predictions, it is known that several local fans have sent orders for tickets to President Comiskey.

Although no arrangements have been completed for holding the series in Chicago, many local dopesters are as sure that the batteries for the first game will be Clete and Schalk as they are that the Giants will win out in the other big show.

It is not thought probable that a special train will be run from here to Chicago in event the world series is held there this year because of the difficulty at this time in arranging transportation facilities owing to troop movements and freight congestion, which did not prove to be such a hindrance the last time they had a world series up in "Chi." However, Fort Wayne is close enough to Chicago that it may be depended upon to contribute largely to the gate receipts.

News today that Chicago and Boston are both dickering for the services of the star Yankee infielder, Fritz Maisel, will be read with much interest by local fans because of the outcome it may have on the home race between the Pale Hose and the Red Sox. Buck Weaver's injured hand which has kept him out of the game for Chicago, has been one of the weak links in that fast combination, and if the White Sox get Maisel it may be the one thing necessary to put over the big punch and keep them out in front until the end.

On the other hand if Boston gets the star Yankee it may mean tougher sledding for Chicago. On schedules, things are about even although Boston has a few more games to play, and when the White Sox finish their season they will have to sit down and just watch the performances of the Red Sox. However, the season is not over yet, and the Chicago outfit will have to carry on its glorio efforts if it expects to win out.

Fort Wayne fans are pulling for Chicago to win for several reasons, one being selfish probably, the wish to see a part of the series which will not make a journey across to Boston or New York necessary, then the desire to see a western team win, a team from the same locality. It is also thought that a series between an eastern and a western club would prove to be of much greater interest because of athletic rivalry between two sections, and then again Boston has been figuring in world series pretty often in late years, and fans here and elsewhere would like to see some other club get a chance at it.

There is perhaps in baseball no player who has worked harder to "get up there" than Ed Rousch, outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, and leader of the National league in batting.

Rousch started his baseball career as a right-handed infielder. His arm gave out, but Rousch didn't let a little thing like that discourage him. He changed himself into a southpaw and became an outfielder.

With the Reds he made a reputation for himself as a batter and this year he is coming into his own. Although Rousch would never have been picked as the league's leading hitter at the start of this season his ability to hit any kind of pitching show that he deserves every point in his percentage.

Rousch has more than his playing to recommend him.

He does not allow his success to interfere with his life. He has not become swell-headed and doesn't like to talk about his hitting.

Rousch is 24, he is married, and is a home lover.

Fining Players Takes Snap and Aggressiveness Away

Dickerson Says Lack of Interests Due to Arbitrary Methods of Presidents.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 29.—Frank comments upon the "ills" of baseball, with the declarations that aggressiveness has been taken out of professional play by the umpires and heads of many leagues. "Who were trying to imitate Ban Johnson," were made here today by E. W. Dickerson, president of the Western league. He asserted that loss of thrills for the spectator, with poor attendance as the result, has been caused by too much penalizing of players who went into the game with spirit and dash.

"The apparent falling off of interest in baseball in some parts of the country, in my opinion, is due to the fact that the life and fight has been taken out of it by 'book' presidents who order their umpires to fine players whenever they show the least signs of aggressiveness," Dickerson said. "The result is that the players have determined not to throw their money away, and cease to display that spirit which is to the public as seasoning is to food."

"There was a time when players were more aggressive and carried things too far, so that it became necessary to stamp out rowdiness. It was then that Ban Johnson came into the game and kept aggressive play within the boundary lines of decency by insisting on respect of umpires. Dozens of presidents since that time have gone to an extreme. In doing so they have taken sentiment away from the players and made them go about their work as if it were a cold blooded business proposition."

"What baseball needs is the right for the players to fight for every point as long as they do not delay the game. When they do so, the fans will fight with them and go to the games because their feelings are aroused. I sooner would fine a player for visiting on the field with an opposing player than for 'charging' when aroused over some close decision. The public must have its illusions while games are in progress or half of the pleasure is taken away. Players who visit on the field destroy that illusion."

"Show me a club that has a scrappy manager and a bunch of fighting players in a league that does not make aggressiveness a crime, and I will show you a club that is doing a paying business. Look back and see if the leagues that have passed into nothingness are not those which gave automatic powers to the umpires and denied the fans that upon which their sentiments are built. Umpires with chips on their shoulders, backed by presidents who were trying to imitate Ban Johnson, have done more to lessen the interest in baseball than all other causes combined."

"There is not the slightest reason why baseball should be stopped on account of the war. In fact, baseball should thrive even more now than in times of peace for, when the boys of America get into action, the public will wish to have its mind taken off these somber things by baseball and other sports."

"Toronto has contributed more men to the British army than perhaps any city in the United States ever will send to Europe. Last year Toronto was the only city in the International league that played to a profit. This year the Toronto club will lead that league in attendance, and the International is having one of its best seasons."

"The Western league stands for aggressive baseball. It is playing to a greater business this year than it has at any time since the Federal league broke into the game and placed premiums on unfaithfulness, thus lessening the public's respect for the players."

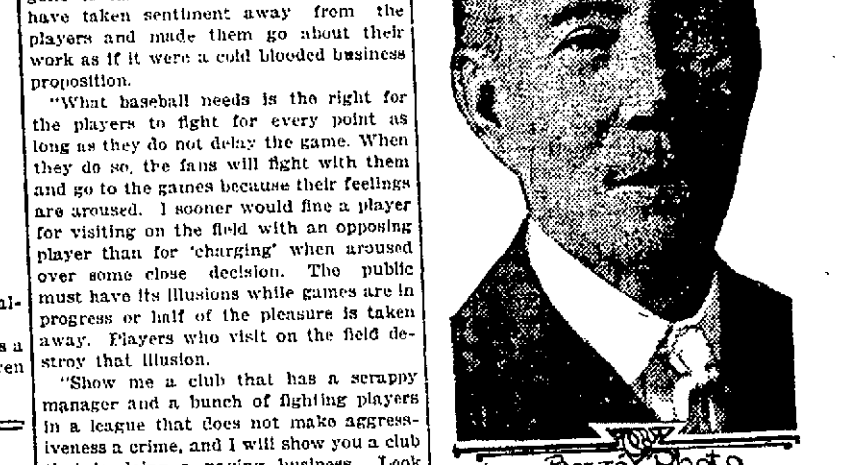

"FRITZ" MAISEL MAY BE IN WORLD SERIES

Chicago and Boston Want Star Yankee Infielder.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Fritz Maisel, infielder for the New York Americans, may become the property of either Chicago or Boston before the end of the day. When it became known that the New York club owners were willing to dispose of Maisel it was said the two leaders in the American league entered into negotiations for his services.

The Chicago club, it is said, wants Maisel to replace Weaver, who has been out of the game for some time on account of a broken finger.

THE WAY TO DEAL WITH RED MENACE

A WESTERN VIEW OF THE I. W. W. CRISIS.

By Chester H. Rowell. (California Progressive Leader and Member of Regents of State University.)

If the capitalists of the United States will show ordinary, elementary intelligence, they will, instead of lumping I. W. W. with unionism in a common hostility, prefer to join with unionism against the common foe.

There is no power in America so able to cope with the I. W. W. as is the power of organized labor, and no opposition to the I. W. W. movement can count on success except by the assistance of union labor.

The most powerful ally of the I. W. W. movement at present is the anarchist capitalist who refuses to deal with unionism.

BY BENJAMIN E. LING.

(Staff Special.)

Phoenix Ariz., Aug. 24.—(By Mail.)

Industrial strife in this, the baby state of the union, has reached such an acute stage of bitterness that the great war in which the United States now is engaged has become of secondary importance to Arizonians.

Armed guards still are on duty at every road that leads into Bisbee, where are the great copper mines of the Phelps-Dodge syndicate and other big mining corporations. These guards allow no one to get into the Warren district, which includes Bisbee, Lowell and Warren, until he has made known his business.

They have been on guard since July 12, when the so-called Loyalty League of Bisbee, composed of some 2,000 citizens acting under Sheriff Wheeler, deported 1,200 men, whom they labeled I. W. W.'s and I. W. W. sympathizers.

More than a thousand of these fellows still are being cared for by the federal government in a camp at Columbus, N. M.

I saw them there, talked to a number of their leaders, as well as to Governor Campbell, State Attorney Wiley Jones, leaders in the Bisbee Loyalty league and other residents of Bisbee.

There are over 4,000 miners in the Warren district. Of this number less than half were identified with the union organization. The Bisbee union last June was captured by the I. W. W.'s and the strike called June 26 was conducted by I. W. W. leaders. The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers withdrew its charter from the Bisbee union.

Up to the time of the deportation there had been no violence in connection with the strike, outside of the arrest of five men for picketing. Loyalty league members say miners who wanted to work were threatened and that strikers blocked the streets.

There were, however, fewer arrests while the strike was on than at any other time in the city's history, strikers say. Bootlegging was stopped by the strikers themselves.

Among the men now assembled at Columbus are 80 registered for selective service, many who bought liberty bonds and many who belong to old-established trades unions and who are not I. W. W.'s.

For instance, there are Fred Brown, member of the clerks' union and organizer for the A. F. of L.; William Cleary, an attorney who's been a leader in fights in Arizona on behalf of labor, and Ilya L. Gobovich, a young Serbian restaurant proprietor, who has a receipt showing he bought $1,500 worth of liberty bonds and another receipt showing he contributed $25 to the Red Cross. He belonged to a Red Cross ambulance unit in Bisbee.

Cleary says he's neither I. W. W. nor socialist, and that he openly opposed the present strike.

Gobovich, his friends say, was deported because members of the I. W. W. assembled in his restaurant to eat. Over 200 Bisbee exiles in Columbus still have families in Bisbee who are being cared for by the Citizens' league. It is reported the Phelps-Dodge interests pay $200 a day into the fund to care for the families.

Since the deportation, mine operators say they have the mines operating again at 60 per cent force.

Loyalty Leagues now are being organized in various Arizona cities. A state organization also is being perfected with the avowed intention of exterminating the I. W. W.

Organized labor is getting the impression these Loyalty Leagues are waging the mine operators' long fight on trades union's long fight on behalf of the miners. This feeling has been heightened since it has been definitely established that old-time union men are in the I. W. W. camp at Columbus. The impression also has grown stronger since armed guards around Bisbee refused to admit a committee from the Arizona State Federation of Labor sent to investigate the deportation.

Strikes now are on at Clifton and Morenci and at Globe and Miami. How seriously these tie-ups of the

(By State Council of Defense, George Ade Chairman of Publicity Committee.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—By the end of the week it is expected that every voting precinct in the state, which includes in many instances an entire township, and every side of every city square, will have been canvassed at least once, by representatives of the State Council of Defense, in an enrollment of the women of Indiana in the Hoover food organization and in the league for serve. The Indiana Franchise league having turned over its entire organization, formed for the purpose of taking a complete and accurate poll of the women, to the women members of the county council of every county, and working with the various other agencies, it is believed by those directing the enrollment that the original purpose to register every female more than 12 years of age, will be entirely successful.

Although the federal organization, working through the women's department of the Council of National Defense, has extended the final date for the completion of the nation-wide enrollment of women to September 5th, it is believed that the Indiana cards will have been signed and turned in not later than September 1. The Indiana organization is working to that end and hopes to have a satisfactory showing by that date.

Ignorance and disloyalty have been the principal obstacles the canvassers have encountered. Where the exact purpose of the cards has been explained, little difficulty was experienced in securing signatures. In some communities, however, the distrust of all documents calling for signature proved a serious obstruction, and held up the completion of the canvass for several days. Cases of apparent disloyalty have been recorded and those who indicated an entire lack of sympathy with the cause will be watched, and no unpatriotic activity tolerated from them.

The women members of the county councils have been urged by the state council to give the enrollment and its purpose the widest publicity possible, to "make plain to the women that the signing of these cards is merely a way of taking a census, and that it is not a conscription in any sense. Some of the women think they are signing up orders to leave at once for France. The only intention is that we shall have a record of all the work that women are now doing and the things they are fitted to do, should occasion arise to ask for the assistance of the women. In that event, nobody could compel a woman to do anything. The state would merely notify her and give her an opportunity if she wants to help."

SIX MEN AND WOMEN

LANDED FOR HOLD-UP

Chicago Police Have Half Dozen Suspects for Murder and Robbery.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Six men and a woman are in custody today, suspected of complicity in the robbery and murder yesterday of Barton O. Allen and Louis C. Osenberg, messengers for Brinks City Express company, as they were about to deliver the weekly payroll of $9,100 at the plant of the Winslow Foundry company, on the west side. The robbers opened fire as the messengers approached the foundry gate, took the money and fled in an automobile. Acting upon information obtained from an anonymous telephone call, which identified the automobile used by the robbers, the police last night arrested Charles Carrao, president of the Chicago Street Cleaner's union. Later five other men were arrested after a fight in a saloon and are being held for investigation. A woman, the companion of Carrao, is also being held.

A CREAMY LOTION
MADE WITH LEMONS

Prepare a quarter pint at about the cost of a small jar of common cold cream.

When this home-made lemon lotion is gently massaged into the face, neck, hands and arms daily, the skin naturally should become soft, clear and white, and the complexion dainty and attractive.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it naturally should help to whiten, clear, smoothen and beautify.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. In this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion ladies can easily prepare and have an inexpensive toilet aid which perfectly satisfies their natural desire for a beautiful soft skin.—Advertisement.

SAVE UP YOUR MONEY AND BUY AN AIR JITNEY AFTER THE WAR, FOR THEY WILL BE AS COMMON AS AUTOS WHEN GREAT CONFLICT IS ENDED

Everybody Will Fly and Clerks Will Soar to Their Work Through the Air, Says Aero Head, Who Ought to Know What is Going to Come Off in the Sky.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.
Staff Special.

New York, Aug. 29.—The airplane is going to become as common as the automobile. Winged jitneys will be an every day sight. The tremendous development of flying brought about by the war is going to revolutionize travel when peace comes. The training of hundreds of thousands of airmen will populate the air lanes with "air limousines," "air boats," "winged lizards" and "air jitneys."

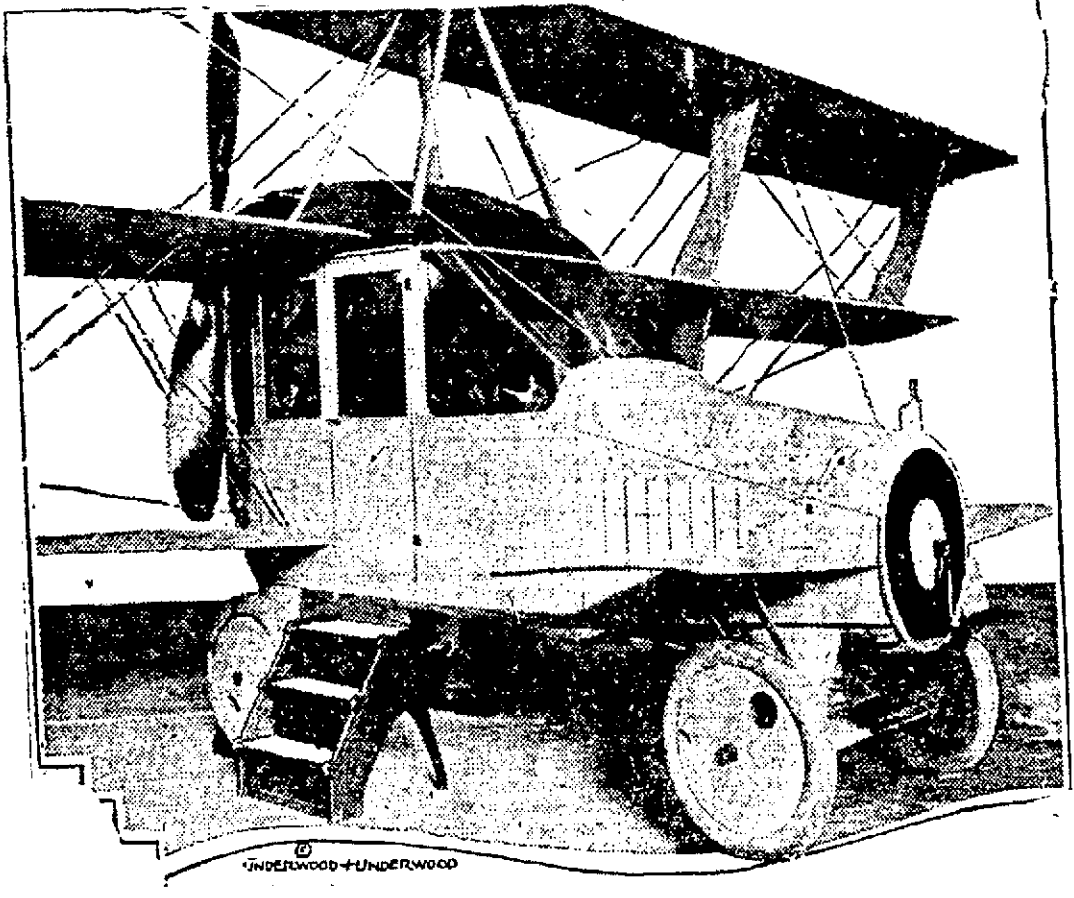

This is the conclusion I draw from a talk with Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero club of America, first to come to the aid of the government when war made necessary the sudden expansion of the airplane forces.

"Certainly we will see the 'air jitney' after the war," said Hawley. "Before the war, aeronautics was looked upon as at best only an expensive sport, with no real utilitarian purpose. Few believed in the future of the airplane as a commercial carrier, or a weapon of war."

Now Hawley is looking forward to the time when the bank clerk or small farmer can lead his little tin air-lizard out of the hangar in the attic and rattle away, kicking up a little cloud-dust in the faces of the aristocratic occupants of some more pretentious air-limousines.

"The war," he went on, "has taught everybody the utility of aircraft. We are going to use the air much more than we ever dreamed of before the intensive development caused by the war."

"The British government, for instance, spent $575,000,000 last year for aeronautics and is spending about one billion dollars this year. Our own government has appropriated $720,000,000 for aeronautics, nearly $350,000,000 to go into the actual manufacture of aircraft. That means approximately 10,000 planes this year. England is turning out about 40,000, and the other allies almost as many.

COMBINED AUTO AND AIR-JITNEY OF THE TYPE THAT WILL CONGEST TRAFFIC AFTER THE WAR, ACCORDING TO AERO HEADS.

"Great Britain has about 500,000 aviators, pilots, operators, mechanics and assistants. We will train 10,000 aviators this year, but the numbers in all the nations will be rapidly increased.

"When the war ends there will be not only a tremendous number of serviceable aircraft of all kinds but also a large number of thoroughly trained airmen—and, of course, a vast factory equipment."

"None of this will be junked you may be sure. A certain proportion of the equipment and men will be kept in military service, but there will be a tremendous number of men available as commercial aircraft pilots."

"Of course air mail routes will be established. Our own post office has plans already drawn for over 200 such routes."

"As to the private use of planes it goes without saying very many men will have their private machines."

"As a matter of fact, the 'jitney air-bus,' or rather 'air limousine,' if I may coin the term, is nothing new. At the First Pan-American Aeronautic exposition here in February, the Curtiss people exhibited an 'autoplane' with fuselage constructed exactly on the automobile type, the motor located in the forward part of the machine as in automobile practice, four wheels on the car, and with a wing span of forty feet. This machine, with its glass enclosed body, is an ideal pleasure car for running around in the air.

"If we are inclined to minimize its possibilities, we ought not to forget that the same kind of surprise and the same predictions that it was merely a rich man's toy. Some Henry Ford of the aeronautical world will get the price down where almost anybody will be able to have his private air-car."

ROMP DAY POSTPONED UNTIL THURSDAY

On account of the long continued rain the grounds at Robison park are too wet and as a result Manager C. H. If the rain continues the big children's celebration, which is looked forward to with great expectancy from year to year, will be held on Saturday.

one per cent on September 5, 7, 8 and 9. No traffic arrangements necessary. "Practically all that will be ordinarily necessary for local boards to select their men, call them for duty, provide for their subsistence, lodging and transportation and dispatch them by shortest routes practicable to mobilization camp."

Will Meet Tonight.
It is presumed that the various boards in the city as well as the country will meet Wednesday evening to make the selection of men who are to be sent away on the first contingent and will arrange for the dates of their departure. The boards will finish this part of their work as soon as possible in order that the men who will go have sufficient time to make arrangements for the departure.

The minimum amount of baggage will be allowed the men who leave for the camp at Louisville, and no suit cases are to be allowed. It is the plan to have the men leave with but a small roll and to wear civilian clothes which can be discarded without great loss. The men will have to dispose of their clothes at the camp either by giving them away, selling them or sending them back home.

The articles which the men should take with them are: Two towels, (cotton bath towels about three feet long), soap, comb, toothbrush and powder, small mirror, razor, shaving outfit, extra pair of hose, extra suit of underwear and several handkerchiefs. The board in the first district will not be in a position to announce the names of the men for service until the state district board has approved the list. This will require at least two or three days.

The country district board is still examining and passing upon exemption claims. Evidence is given that more men will have to be summoned for examination.

Appeal Board Findings.
Results of the examination of the appeals by the district board follows:

asks the professor, "why all this unprecedented apparatus of a joint committee of the reichstag and bundestag to assist the chancellor in drawing up a simple answer to the pope's proposal of peace on that basis?"

Is Not Trusted.
The truth is, says Prof. Deibruock, that Dr. Michaelis does not enjoy the confidence of the reichstag. He could not possibly do so, the writer adds, after last week's events in the reichstag main committee and his tactful submission to the assertion that he is in reality opposed to the resolution. Neither the German nation or the world knows what the chancellor's policy is.

The reichstag's resolution, Prof. Deibruock concludes, would have a different effect if it was not believed abroad the reichstag is powerless and that the chancellor is double tongued.

REACTIONARY DEMAND.

Copenhagen, Aug. 29.—The Staats Zeitung of Munich, the organ of the Bavarian government, publishes a Berlin communication against the introduction of a parliamentary regime in Germany as opposed to the federal character of the empire. The Staats Zeitung declares that all the federal states share the view expressed by the center speaker in the reichstag, who said that his party welcomed the chancellor's intention to bring about closer relations between the government and parliament but it must reject any tampering with the federal character of the empire and the rights of the federal states. The articles say that the reichstag in its present form, although without the right of parliamentary domination, has met the needs of the country.

less improved, would cease completely by November.

The representatives gave warning that the consequences would be terrible both at home and on the front, and that the army might run out of the country and commit unexampled excesses.

The extreme demands of the railway workers, the speaker said, played an important part in this disorganization. They called on all those engaged in the transport services to sacrifice personal interests for those of the country.

M. Gruenberg, speaking as the representative of the Jews, said that they loved their country notwithstanding their unprecedented persecution under the old regime and had contributed greatly to the emancipation of the people and the defense against the enemy.

Representatives of Ukraine and of western or White Russia, said the people were ready to make any sacrifices for the good of the country.

The spokesman for the Letts declared Courland would never belong to Germany. Delegates representing the Musselman alliance said all Musselman citizens of Russia fully supported the provisional government.

Gen. Grouznoff, former military governor of Moscow, told the delegates the chief problem was to save Russia from the enemy and that to this end it was necessary to re-establish army discipline by eliminating politics, strengthening the authority of the leaders, limiting the power of soldiers' committees to economic functions and giving the commander-in-chief opportunity to exercise unreserved authority.

LEADERS FOR WAR.

Moscow, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—Russia must continue the war, and everything possible must be done to strengthen the provisional government.

Leaders of all the most influential parties in Russia united in these declarations at the national conference here today.

The declaration followed a remarkable and dramatic speech by Gen. Korniloff, commander in chief of the Russian armies, who said restoration of the death penalty, stern discipline, and unlimited supplies were necessary to restore morale and fighting spirit in the armies.

RUSSIA THANKS WILSON.

Paris, Aug. 29.—A Havas dispatch from Moscow says that after Premier Kerensky had read President Wilson's message of greeting to the national conference, he said he had instructed the minister of foreign affairs, M. Terestchenko, to inform the American ambassador, David R. Francis, of the feelings of gratitude which the president's telegram had inspired among the delegates to the conference. This statement of the premier was cheered enthusiastically.

GERMANY DENIES IT.

Berlin, Tuesday, Aug. 28.—Via London.—The newspapers' denunciations of the German reference made by Premier Kerensky, in addressing the Moscow conference, to a recent offer of a separate peace. Nothing is known of such a move in any official quarters.

RECORD PRICE FOR A RAM.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 29.—What is said to be the highest price in the United States for a ram sold at public auction was paid for a three-year-old ram at the second annual sale conducted under the auspices of the National Wool Growers' association, which is in session here today. The ram brought $1,500 and four hundred and twenty-two sheep were sold for a total of $45,000.

MONSIGNOR KENNEDY PASSES AWAY IN ROME

American Prelate Long the Head of American College There.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Monsignor Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American college in Rome, is dead after a long illness.

In 1914 Monsignor Kennedy became ill and although he recovered temporarily, his health failed gradually and a year ago he was reported to be in a serious condition. In May of last year Pope Benedict appointed Monsignor Charles A. O'Hern, vice-regent of the American college in Rome, as coadjutor to Monsignor Kennedy, with the right to succeed to the rectorship of Pennsylvania and had been in charge of the American college since 1901. He was appointed titular bishop of Adria in 1907 and titular archbishop of St. Lucia of Isauria in 1915. He was spoken of at various times as a possible addition to the list of American cardinals, but was said to have been retained in Rome at his own request.

ports that strong Japanese forces have been concentrated in Manchuria are given currency in Bavaria by the Neue Nachrichten of Munich, which also speculates on the possibility of transporting such troops to the Russian front. If the railway facilities were the same before the war, it says, such an operation would require a long time, but the situation has been changed greatly, America and Japan having laid new tracks and made great improvements in the rolling stock.

Yesterday on the southern Rumanian front, the Austro-German troops pushing northeastward toward the Olt river, the Austro-German troops pushing northeastward toward the Olt river, the Austro-German troops pushing northeastward toward the Olt river.

Stormy weather apparently is preventing any notable military activities on the French-Belgian front.

The French, after completing their successful operation of Monday near Langemark in which they pushed forward a considerable distance along a front of more than a mile, contented themselves last night with clearing out a German advance position in front of the new British line.

In other sectors the British carried out successful raids capturing prisoners. Apparently there is also a halt in major activities along the French front in the Verdun region, and in the great campaign which General Cadorna is waging on the Isonzo front against the Austrians.

WILSON NOTE IS APPROVED

with the council's activities. At the request of the representatives of the Indiana civil and commercial interests the council named a special committee consisting of A. W. Brady, A. E. Reynolds and James L. Keach to pass upon the military necessity of a new highway from Indianapolis to Fort Benjamin Harrison, the bonds for the construction of which recently were held illegal, and which bonds probably will be underwritten by state capitalists and afterward validated by act of the legislature.

Milk Famine May Come.
Dr. H. E. Barnard, food commissioner of the state and National Administrator of Herbert C. Hoover, informed the council that the situation in Indiana, in reference to dairy cows was very serious. He confirmed the opinion expressed to the council that because of the high price of feed and of beef, there is real danger of a milk famine. He added that the authorities were giving the matter consideration and probably would ask the council to make the same kind of an appeal to the dairy men to keep their cows, as had been made to the farmers to increase his crop production, relying upon his patriotism to bear a financial loss, if necessary, until there can be a readjustment.

That the federal program of rushing coal to the northwest to supply an assumed coal shortage, is an action that may react upon Indiana, was the assertion of Will J. Freeman, of the coal production committee of the council.

Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, West Virginia, western New York and western Pennsylvania. Mennel's organization will comprise 200 employees, including expert accountants, traveling auditors and stenographers.

The district includes most of the red wheat belt and one-fourth of the flour production of the United States. It will allot the quota of flour for export. The work will be financed by assessment of one cent a barrel on the flour output.

Mennel has served two terms as president of the National Millers' association.

OHIO COAL RATE RAISED.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Effective tomorrow Ohio railroads will put into effect a 15 cents per ton horizontal increase in coal rates in this state, according to an announcement made today by the state public utilities commission. The increased tariffs were filed some time ago and were suspended once or twice pending hearings before the commission. The utilities commission announced the new tariffs would become effective "without affirmative action by the commission."

NATION HAILS WILSON NOTE

Telegrams of Approval Are Pouring Into White
House to Him.

REJECTION OF THE PROPOSALS LIKED

Note to Pope Benedict an Appeal to the People of Germany.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Telegrams from all parts of the country began to pour into the white house today approving President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals.

Upon motion of Senator Brady, who characterized it as a last farewell to the autonomy of the world, President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposals was ordered printed today in the Congressional record. "While it rejects the pope's proposals," said he, "it points the way to peace in an honorable manner."

Chairman Stone, of the foreign relations committee made this comment: "The note was just what I expected it would be. It was a strong note as are all notes of the president."

"It was a very good note," said Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, ranking republican of the committee.

Mr. Freeman said, "While there may be a gap in the coal supply there, they are simply making another gap here in order to fill it." Mr. Freeman said the supply of coal to Indiana coal mines has been consistently lower than the supply to the mines of other coal producing states.

James L. Keach said the only solution of the problem of high prices of food was the education of the people to consume "highly perishable foods."

He said this was the basis of the Hoover food control program. That shippers should be urged to anticipate their needs to avoid the congestion of transportation that will come with the military demands of the next two months, was recommended by A. E. Arnolds, of the transportation committee.

The council adopted a resolution expressing its sympathy for Governor James P. Goodrich in his present illness and a hope for his speedy recovery.

APPEALS TO GERMAN PEOPLE.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's note rejecting the pope's peace proposals was regarded here today as finally settling the question of dealing with present German rulers unconquered or uncured at home.

The president makes it clear that a lasting and durable peace can be negotiated only on a complete understanding with the German people and not alone on unstable guarantees of the existing German government.

The note indicates that the American government does not intend post-bellum reprisals on the German people but desires in the interests of world peace that they be allowed to share in international economic opportunities "if they will accept equality and not seek domination."

The note with its unequivocal denunciation of German military autocracy is believed to reflect accurately the attitude of the allied governments. The general tenor of the communication had been anticipated, but diplomats were surprised to find in it a virtual appeal to the German people to strive for emancipation from military control and become fitted to deal with a world democracy.

Among other objections to a premature peace the note indicates that it would result in the abandonment of "a new born Russia to the intrigues of the manifold, subtle interference and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malignant influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world."

He gives an interesting account of his experience with the U-boat. He will remain here five days and return to his command.

RECEIPTS CONTINUE LIGHT ON LOCAL MARK

Eggs and Poultry Are Strong
Features of Price Quotations.

Threatening weather continues to keep farmers away from the local markets with their produce and receipts are the lightest that have been recorded in many years.

On the retail market they are bringing 41c per dozen. On the poultry market light hens are now commanding 18c and spring chickens 22c. Other quotations remain the same.

BRANCH OPENS HERE SEPT. 24

Prof. F. W. Shockley Takes
Up Office in the Court House.

WILL BE PART OF STATE UNIVERSITY
Classes Will Meet During Afternoons and Evenings Until June.

Prof. F. W. Shockley has brought the spirit of the state university to Fort Wayne. He is establishing the second Indiana university extension center, to be tried out in the state, in the heart of the city.

The chimes will ring on Sept. 24 for the miniature university. Classes will meet during the afternoons and evenings from that date until the first of June. Regular college work will be given. Professors will come here from Indiana university and possibly other colleges to conduct classes.

The center has been established on the third floor of the county court house. Miss Esther Schild, a graduate of the Fort Wayne high school, is the office secretary. There will be a bulletin published in a few days which will outline the courses of the little university.

Prof. Shockley, who is to be in charge of the branch college, is one of the able men graduated by Indiana university. He was at the head of the public schools in Shawnee, Okla., for a time. He has been picked by the university authorities as the best fitted of many candidates for the place of conducting the Fort Wayne extension center.

The following comment is made by Dr. Shockley on the Fort Wayne extension movement:

"There has been a growing demand for facilities of a university here in Fort Wayne. Ever since a center was established at Indianapolis in 1915, those interested in education have hoped that Fort Wayne might be the second city to have a branch of the state university.

"The commercial club and the school board have taken a leading part in securing the center.

"The chief function of university extension work is to carry the university to the people, to serve students who find it impossible to leave home and attend college. This training should appeal first to men and women who have only a limited amount of time for study and who wish to pursue subjects of college grade solely for cultural value; second, to those who realize the value of the training as a business or vocational asset; and third, to properly qualified persons who wish to work toward a degree."

WANTED—An office boy at the Lincoln Life. Good opportunity for advancement.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"Dew Drop Inn" Tonight.

(From C. H. Brown.)

Myron B. Rice has been especially fortunate in casting his new musical comedy, "Dew Drop Inn," which will present at the Majestic theater tonight only. In the big organization which numbers half a hundred people, will be found Arthur Aylsworth, one of the younger generation of comedians who have made names for themselves. Aylsworth will play the part of "Jack" in "Dew Drop Inn," a happy-go-lucky individual, who seizes opportunity by the forelock, as it were, and makes the old tumble-down hotel a roaring success under the new name of "Dew Drop Inn." Arthur Aylsworth has played many parts in his brief career, but to every theatergoer he will always be identified as the fresh hotel clerk in "Overnight," later on the musical comedy success, "Very Good, Eddie."

The composer of "Dew Drop Inn" has given Aylsworth one of the song hits of the show, "That Wonderful Girl," which should sweep the country as soon as it has been heard to an extent. This comedian has his good angel to thank for landing him in a good berth, and that at a time when the coin of the realm was greatly needed.

"The 13th Chair" Thursday and Friday. No play that will visit this city this season can be expected to arouse more enthusiastic interest than this latest triumph from the pen of the man who also gave the stage "Within the Law." Among its virtues it numbers that indefinable quality of creating within every one who sees it the desire also to have their friends see it. As a result there is not a community in the country in which there are not at least a few persons who, having had the good fortune to witness "The 13th Chair" during visits to New York, have talked about it to their neighbors in most commendatory fashion. This endorsement of the claims made for the piece by its producer, by the recommendation of friends, has created a most unusual amount of anticipatory interest which has been emphatically manifest since the first announcement was made of the coming of the piece at the Majestic tomorrow and Friday evening.

A specially selected company which is led by Annie Russell will perform the piece here. In choosing every other one of the sixteen members of the cast Mr. Harris exercised as much care as is shown in his selection of a leading woman.

PEACE MUST BRING SECURITY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—

President Wilson's message, replying to Pope Benedict's peace appeal and stating why the United States must continue the war until the world is freed of Prussianism, signed by Secretary Lansing, and delivered at the Vatican yesterday, follows:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27, 1917.—To His Holiness, Benedictus XV., Pope: In acknowledgment of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated Aug. 1, 1917, the president of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply: "Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of his holiness, the pope: must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it, and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Must Insure Against Renewal of Great War."

"Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be gone through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

"His holiness, in substance, proposes that we return to the status quo ante bellum, and that then there be a general condemnation, disarmament, and a concert of nations based upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established, and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkan states, and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible in the new temper of such a peace, due regard being paid to the aspirations of the people whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved.

Tyranny and Brutality Must Be Driven Out.

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restoration of the status quo ante bellum be a firm and satisfactory basis for it.

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and honor, which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless of the poor—and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world.

Militarism Is Ruthless Master of German People.

"This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purpose, but it is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling. "To deal with such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by his holiness, the pope, would, so far as we can see, involve a recaperation of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people, who are its instruments, and would result in abandoning the new born Russia to the intrigue, and the certain subtle interference, which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world.

America is Making War Without Desire for Gain.

"Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?"

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restriction meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury.

"The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the Imperial German government, but they desire no reprisal upon the German people, who have themselves suffered all things in this war, which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of governments—the rights of peoples, great or small, weak or powerful—their equal right to freedom and security and self-government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world—the German people of course included, if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

Battle of Royal Intrigue Against Right of People.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this. Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved, or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing government, on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples, on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied. "The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furious and brutal power of the Imperial German government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty, both of those that are weak and of those that are strong. Indemnity for Punishment Held Worse Than Fault.

"Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end would be futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting.

Must Wait Until Germany Shall State Exact Terms.

"Without such guarantees treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmament, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on.

"We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the central powers.

"God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations and the possibility of a covenanted peace."

deny her now. Miss Kennedy, whose delightful singing of a group of exclusive songs hits a year ago at the New Palace, brought the whole amusement loving portion of the town to her feet, will be back for three days, opening tomorrow, bringing with her an entirely new assortment of songs but that same vital personal magnetism that enables her to do almost anything and make an audience love her for it. This bill is going to be a sort of home-coming for Faye Two Coleys, and Faye, the famous mixed black face quartet with the absurd comedy chatter, high speed dancing and laughable songs are on it, as is La Graciosa, the woman with the form divine in an entirely new arrangement of poses. The Four American beauties in a bathing beach novelty act, and a wealth of others make this bill look like the season's best bet.

The current bill closes tonight. Included in it are William A. Hanlon's super clown act, "The Railroad Hotel," Viola Lewis and her juvenile entertainers; Porter J. White and company in the dramatic comedy, "The Visitor"; Wright and Earle, the clever singing and dancing team; Fisher Luckie and Gordon, the singing trio of comedians; and Brit Wood, the boy who put the harmony in the harmonica.

AT THE GRAND.

"THE VENGEANCE OF DURAND."

Featuring Earl Williams and Edith Storey, Today.

Those who love the spectacular in the movies will go more than once to see "The Vengeance of Durand," the Favorite Film Feature which will appear in the Grand theater today and tomorrow. Admittedly one of the strongest of screen attractions, in its appeal to the human emotions, the picture has the added advantage of being portrayed by six screen stars of national reputation. Headed by Earl Williams and Edith Storey, the cast includes Julia Wayne Gordon, L. Rogers Lyton, Harry Northrup and E. K. Lincoln.

"The Vengeance of Durand" is an adaptation of Rex Beach's famous novel by that name and it has just none of its intensity of interest by its contact with the camera.

Opening with a duel in which an innocent wife is killed by a bullet fired by the husband at a suspected rival, it closes with a remarkable fire scene, in which the husband perishes in the ruins of his chateau, a victim of his own diabolical plotting.

The husband, in seeking his revenge, has trained his daughter from a child to hate this supposed rival and in her young womanhood is used as a lure to draw him to destruction.

Coming soon, "The Fighting Trail."

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE IS NOT SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Florence Herman Will Probably Recover from Bi-Chloride Poison.

Efforts of Mrs. Florence Herman, 444 Wallace street, to take her own life Tuesday night, were of no avail, as it is reported that she is resting easily today and has a good chance for recovery.

Mrs. Herman attempted to end her life by taking a bi-chloride of mercury tablets. The reason given is that she had been quarreling with her husband of late, according to the statement of neighbors. Other members of the family did not know of her intentions until attracted by her cries.

Although the drug is usually a deadly one, the fact that vomiting was induced immediately will probably save the woman's life. Dr. A. J. Keesee was called and the police patrol summoned. Antidotes were administered and the woman was soon out of immediate danger.
